FORTIFY HOMES TO STOP SPANISH REBELS' SMASH

Irun Loyalists Set for War in Streets.

BEHOBIE, France, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The Spanish suburb of Behobia, 100 yards across the Bidassoa river from the similarly named French community, tonight was a village of fortresses whose defenders sprayed death at the Fascist rebel attackers of long besieged Irun.

During the night rebel six inch guns again opened fire on Irun and flames became visible in the southern outskirts of the city. It was, rebel Fascist leaders said, their "supreme attack" to take Irun, the seaport city that would give them a clear rear headquarters for the army which will try to take Madrid.

Behind the broken windows of virtually every home and building in Behobia, government defenders dodged back and forth splitting the night with the flashes of their rifles and machine guns.

Many Men Sacrificed.

Singling out the converted redoubts one by one, the attackers, led by units of ferocious looking Moors, charged, sacrificing countless men in their efforts to mop up the suburb and clear the way into the strategic port of Irun, less than two miles away.

With the government defenders firing from behind their hastily thrown up barricades, the attackers blew up the converted pill boxes with well aimed hand grenades.

The government snipers, giving ground house by house, held out desperately, knowing that each hour they delayed the rebel advance gave their comrades in Irun just so much longer to string barbed wire across the streets.

Plant Dynamite Charges.

Within the besieged city the last line of defense against the rebels worked frantically to make their crumbling city a maze of barricades. Roadways leading up to the city's gates were furrowed with dynamite charges as the defenders vowed to make sure the rebels pay in wholesale for capturing Irun.

The fall of Irun has been predicted for weeks, but so stubbornly have the government defenders fought off each successive attack that observers tonight conjectured whether the rebels could capture Irun without killing the defenders to a man.

Moors and legionnaires were in the van of the rebel advance today. With the Moors running, heads bent and elbows close—in what looked to American observers like a football formation—armored cars followed, firing shot at all who opposed them. Some 2,000 rebel infantrymen charged behind, dodging and crawling through fields, off the dynamited roadways.

Charge Machine Gun Nests.

Hurling their grenades, the Moors charged one government machine gun nest after another. As the machine guns swung in deadly arcs, first one and then the other of the Moors would advance and flop on their stomachs. Into one house they dashed and the gun was silenced.

Through an orchard they dodged from tree to tree until they reached the next house and ran in, and that gun was silenced.

When the smoke of the hand grenades settled, gunners could be seen hanging grotesquely from window sills with arms and legs blown off. One house was razed by more than fifty rebel hand grenades.

Trench mortars also were wheeled into line to flop their deadly missils into doorways full of government snipers.

Hear Shrieks of Dying.

Stretcher bearers trotted back and forth through the early dusk, their figures lined against a sky ripped with gun flashes.

Shrieks of the dying reverberated across the river separating the battle scene from this French hamlet to which hundreds fled when the rebel advance first penetrated the streets of Behobia yesterday.

An incongruous touch was lent the bloody scene by Spanish children swimming in the Bidassoa river, apparently unconcerned by the whines of bullets—familiar sounds to their ears for weeks.

As the Moors inspired rebel attackers nearer and nearer to Irun, the government defenses inside the city were rallied by anarchist leaders who took command of the fight-

RICHMAN SPANS SEA; PREPARES FOR RETURN HOP

Lands in Wales; Flies to London Today.

Harry Richman's and Dick Merrill's welcome by Welsh folk is shown in remarkable picture sent by radio and telephoto. Turn to back page.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Having flown the Atlantic only to be forced down in Wales because their gasoline gave out, Harry Richman, American night club singer, and his pilot, Dick Merrill, tonight prepared to finish the flight to London tomorrow.

The flyers landed the plane, Lady Peace, in a field full of cows and sheep near Llandilo, Carmarthenshire, South Wales, at 3:30 p. m. [9:30 a. m. Chicago time]. They were 200 miles short of the British capital, their original goal.

After trying vainly to procure gasoline in order to complete the trip, Richman and Merrill decided to spend the night at Llandilo. Constables were assigned to guard the plane until morning.

Eager to Start Back Today.

The flight was announced as a round trip jaunt. Richman, however, did not definitly disclose when he intended to take off for the United States.

"There is a possibility we will start back tomorrow," the singer said.

Merrill, it seemed, had other notions. He indicated there would be a delay of at least a day or two.

"If the gas had not run out we would have returned to America tomorrow night," he exclaimed.

At Croydon, London's airport, mechanics remained on duty to overhaul the big [Vultee] monoplane for the return flight.

Wander Over Ireland.

Richman and Merrill reached Wales 17 hours and 53 minutes after their departure from Floyd Bennett field, Brooklyn, yesterday. They flew in all about 3,300 miles and used up 1,000 gallons of gasoline.

The good time made during the first part of the flight—2,195 miles in less than 12 hours—was offset by bad visibility which caused the flyers to wander after their arrival over Ireland.

The flyers had not been heard from since 9 a. m. and friends at the Croydon airport were growing uneasy when Richman telephoned news of his arrival in Wales. He explained that the plane's radio was silenced by a violent storm.

"We didn't know our bearings," the singer said, "and we started to wander around. We went to Ireland, then to Scotland, then down to the Irish sea.

Fly at 11,000 Feet.

"The plane ran beautifully. We didn't see the Atlantic for more than an hour at a time. All the way we flew at about 11,000 feet. Everything went according to plan except that about half way across the plane went into a steep dive and we both were thrown from our seats. That certainly was a scare.

"Our radio went out of commission

Capture Police Killer and Girl; He Confesses

Trapped by several squads of police in the home of a relative, Walter Meyer, 22 years old, a paroled convict wanted for the murder early in the day of Policeman John B. Frost of Lombard, was captured late last night. He confessed the killing at once.

Arrested with him was Miss Dorothy Bergholz, 19 years old, of 4026 North California avenue. She was with Meyer when he killed the policeman.

The police also took into custody David Gronmark, 33 years old, in whose apartment at 933 Edgecomb place the capture was made. Meyer, taken unawares, was seized without a struggle.

Meyer Confesses Killing.

"Yes, I did it; I did it," he told Lieut. Daniel O'Hara of the Albany Park police, who led the raid on the apartment. He then admitted ownership of a pistol found beneath a pillow in a bedroom, and said it was the gun used to kill Frost. Several rounds of ammunition also were found.

Information that led to the slayer's arrest was phoned anonymously to Lieut. O'Hara last evening. It was to the effect that Meyer was hiding at the home of a brother, Rudolph, of 3116 Waveland avenue. When police arrived Rudolph Meyer admitted that his brother and Miss Bergholz had just gone to the home of Gronmark, a brother-in-law.

Story of the Capture.

With six men from his own district, six from the Town Hall station, and several who were picked up en route, O'Hara surrounded the apartment building on Edgecomb place. Gronmark responded to his knock and was shoved aside as the police rushed in.

Meyer and the Bergholz girl were in a bedroom. Both were seized before they could make a move to resist or escape. Gronmark, a bar tender in a loop tavern, denied that he knew Meyer was wanted by the police, but was held for questioning.

The three were taken first to the Albany Park police station, then to the state's attorney's office, where Meyer began dictating a statement under the direction of Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the prosecutor.

"I did it, all right, and now I guess I'll get the chair, won't I?" he asked.

Meyer's clash with Policeman Frost came early yesterday when the policeman found the paroled convict, the Bergholz girl, and Walter Poore, 16 years old, 3711 North Whipple street, seated in a car in front of Emil Penkava's bakery at 313 South Main street in Lombard. They told him the car was out of gasoline. Frost offered to drive them to a garage, and Meyer and the girl entered the squad car. While the policeman was making a report by phone to his station Meyer started the squad car and drove away.

Frost fired several shots, one puncturing a tire and another piercing the gasoline tank. Poore was left behind. Frost borrowed a car from Penkava and gave chase.

Frost Shot to Death.

The fugitives eluded him, but the policeman came upon them in Elmhurst later as they were holding up Aubrey Jett, colored, to take his car. A heavy fog had descended and Frost was within a few feet when Meyer saw him, whirled and shot him through the heart.

Poore, who was arrested later, said the three had intended to hold up Penkava, who is his uncle. Records showed that Meyer has served a Bridewell sentence for auto theft and a term at Joliet for burglary. His home is at 4032 North Francisco avenue. He will be returned to Du Page county for prosecution.

GOES TO JAIL RATHER THAN PAY 63 CENTS INCOME TAX TO STATE

Boston, Mass., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Patrick Quinn, 67, stationary fireman, went to jail tonight rather than pay 63 cents [including 35 cents interest] the state claims he owes on his 1934 income taxes.

"I'll rot in jail before I'll pay that money, because I don't owe it," he declared.

Quinn appears destined for a long stay in jail, with mounting expense money added to his alleged debt to the state, because the law rules those arrested on tax warants are not eligible to bail.

"If they're going to keep me in jail until I pay that 63 cents, then they better start measuring me for a wooden box," he promised.

His employers offered to pay the bill, but Quinn was adamant in his refusal to accept.

Stubborn Door Gives Jessica New Air Thrill

Jessica Pepper, Broadway show girl, arrived in Chicago last night under distressing circumstances. The same circumstances caused officials of the American Airlines a good deal of embarrassment.

Miss Pepper, with two friends, boarded an American Airlines plane at Newark, N. J., at 5 p. m., expecting to enjoy a beautiful moonlight ride across the mountains and plains. As things turned out, the trip was pleasant until the last hour.

Then Miss Pepper went to the ladies' lounge to put on her hat and arrange her hair. With that task completed she tried to open the door. It wouldn't budge. She twisted and turned the lock, and pulled and pushed. Still it wouldn't move.

Decides She Won't Scream.

There were eighteen other passengers, and it didn't seem ladylike to scream at such a time, so the prisoner decided to make the best of her plight. Then one of her friends, Miss Vera Hall of New York, another show girl, noticed Miss Pepper's prolonged absence, and knocked on the reluctant door. Somewhat timidly came a voice through the door:

"I can't get out."

Miss Hall called the plane's stewardess, Miss Winifred McAssey, and they tried the door from the outside. No luck. The stewardess tried her key unsuccessfully.

Husky male passengers chivalrously came to the rescue, and they pushed, pulled, and kicked the door. It stayed closed.

Keep Her Courage Up.

Meanwhile the air liner roared on toward Chicago. Now and then somebody would shout at Miss Pepper to keep up her courage.

Pilot B. C. Moore landed the ship without incident at 8:30, and everybody got out—everybody, that is, except Miss Pepper.

A crew of mechanics drilled a lot of holes in the door, took off the hinges, and after 35 minutes released Miss Pepper. She was a bit peppery at the time, but last night, in her room at the Hotel Sherman, she talked with composure.

"No, I wasn't angry or frightened," she said, "But I expect the American Airlines will send me an apology."

Miss Pepper, who is 19 years old, was divorced recently from Leon Janney, 21 years old, a New York stage and screen actor.

MEETS WITH ROOSEVELT AND NEW DEAL GOVERNORS

Rivals Size Up Each Other at Dramatic Sessions.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

State House, Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt and Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas shook hands today in the office of Gov. Clyde L. Herring of Iowa under circumstances that made it the most dramatic incident of the 1936 campaign.

They met as conferees in the relief of the distressed farmers of seven midwest states, but the public insisted on regarding it from the standpoint of a meeting by two presidential opponents. Although Gov. Landon presented his plan of relieving drouth conditions, that part of the meeting became a secondary affair for the day. What political effects will flow from the meeting may be discovered later.

The President came to the capitol with all the fanfare and pomp of presidential tours. He was cheered by more than 100,000 along the streets and on Capitol hill, where the state house park swarmed with people.

Landon with Small Escort.

Gov. Landon came in with a small escort of newspaper men, alone and by side streets. The crowds hardly knew that he was passing.

The President was taken into Gov. Herring's private office, a high ceilinged, elaborately decorated room, with a huge rosewood desk in the center, a fireplace and a tall mirror above it, and high backed chairs along the walls.

The governors who arrived later were left in an anteroom until shortly before 1:30 o'clock, the hour at which they were to have luncheon together. Then the door opened and the gray haired, smiling Gov. Herring, who is a Democrat, came out of his office with the President. The governors, senators, and congressmen present stood to receive him.

Gov. Landon was the first to be presented. He had met the President before in Washington. They shook hands smilingly. The President introduced his son, John, on whose arm he was leaning.

Hard Trip, but On Time.

"I understand you had a long, hard motor trip coming here," said the President to Landon.

"Yes, I did, but I am here on time," said Landon.

The governor had left Topeka shortly after 6 in the morning and looked rather weary after his 250 mile ride.

There was no more personal talk at this time.

The informal luncheon began. There were eight tables in the reception room and anteroom. In the reception room, a bare one with high wooden panels and a glittering chandelier, the President's table was set

President Will Stop in Springfield for Parley Today.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Aboard Presidential Special, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—A thoughtful President of the United States late tonight was speeding eastward after a crowded and colorful day which was featured by conversations with his Republican rival for the presidency and discussions with six other governors of midwestern states.

Mr. Roosevelt and Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas had their most intimate talk at a dinner tonight in the President's private car which was stationed in the Rock Island railroad yards at Des Moines. Gov. Landon sat at the President's left and the two talked intermittently for an hour and a half while the six other governors who were guests listened with interest. It was the third time the President and the Kansan had met during the day.

Find "Something on Ball."

While the President refused to reveal officially his opinion of his opponent, there was a decided change of sentiment regarding Gov. Landon among members of the presidential party which was taken to reflect the attitude of the chief executive.

Hitherto those close to the President have displayed in club car discussions a faintly supercilious demeanor when referring to Gov. Landon. Like National Democratic Chairman James A. Farley, they could conceive no presidential qualities in the governor of a prairie state.

But a presidential aid, who heard Gov. Landon talk during all three of his meetings with the President, remarked in some astonishment tonight:

"That man has got something on the ball, hasn't he? I didn't hear him hesitate once. He certainly seemed to know the answers."

Ponders Drouth Reports.

The President, as he resumed his tour which takes him to Springfield, Ill., for a conference with Gov. Henry Horner tomorrow, pondered the views on the drouth situation expressed by Gov. Landon and the six other governors. The last two conferences, those with Govs. Philip La Follette and Hjalmar Petersen of Wisconsin and Minnesota, respectively, were held on the train tonight.

At the dinner tonight Gov. Clyde Herring of Iowa sat at the President's right and Gov. Landon was placed on his other side. The five other guests ranged themselves about the oblong table. The eight men, hungry after an exhausting afternoon of conferences, attacked with gusto a big dinner featuring filet mignon, potatoes au gratin, green corn, salad, pie à la mode, and coffee. There were no alcoholic refreshments, although the President frequently has wine served at dinners when he is host.

Talk Is More Serious.

The heads of the President and Gov. Landon were often together, the other guests reported. There was not so much bantering as at the noonday luncheon. The two men vying for the greatest administrative post in the world seemed genuinly interested in sounding each other out. Gov. Landon asked the most questions, one guest remarked.

At the end of an hour and a half Gov. Landon and four of his confrères took their departure. Governors La Follette and Petersen remained behind to report on conditions in their states.

"We had a delicious meal and an entertaining time," Gov. Landon reported as he left the train. "We visited about a great many things."

Dedicates Bridge Today.

The President's train left just before midnight. At 9 o'clock tomorrow morning he will dedicate a new bridge over the Mississippi at Hannibal, Mo., and then proceed onward to Springfield.

The President will lunch with Gov. Horner, Senators William H. Dieterich, and J. Hamilton Lewis at the executive mansion, and then confer with them and other state and federal officials in the afternoon. He will dine with Gov. Horner and leave late in the evening for Indianapolis, where he will make the last stop on a tour which has covered 5,000 miles.

day in the drouth conference, the luncheon, and other meetings with the President, he summed up as follows:

"I had a pleasant visit."

"What do you think of the results of the drouth conference?" he was asked.

"I think it may serve a useful purpose. The suggestions made for Kansas were well received. There was a broad, general discussion of immediate and long time needs. It was a productive conference."

Enjoys the Meeting.

"What do you think of the President?" he was asked.

"He is a very fine, charming gentleman. I enjoyed the meeting with him and with the other governors."

"Did you have any discussion of the plan you presented to the President in a letter in 1934?"

"I found the President familiar with a previous discussion we had had on water conservation in 1933."

Gov. Landon and the experts on drouth and conservation he brought with him had a wait of an hour and a half before the conference got around to his state, the third on the list.

Submits Definite Plan.

The President conducted the round table discussion, and Gov. Landon directed the presentation of the case for Kansas. The governor would not go into any details of the plan that he presented for Kansas. It is known, however, that it was a definite plan, prepared in manuscript form, and filed with the President. It was partly the plan he presented in 1934, with revisions to bring the situation in Kansas up to date.

The governor left immediately after dinner. In view of his long ride in the morning it was decided that he should stop at St. Joseph, Mo., where he spent the night, planning to arrive in Topeka tomorrow noon. His next excursion will be to Wichita, on Labor day, where he will address the American Legion convention. His next big trip will start on Sept. 21, taking him to Milwaukee, Minneapolis, and Des Moines, with a possible side excursion into Illinois.

JAP ACTION ON CHINA TO BE PUT UP TO EMPEROR

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune.]

TOKIO, Sept. 4.—[Friday.]—Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita is expected to leave Tokio after the next regular cabinet meeting for Hayama beach, summer home of the emperor, to submit to the throne a report regarding the "Chengtu incident" and the course of action the government will take toward China.

[At Chengtu, western China, last week, two Japanese were killed by rioting Chinese. Nanking had refused Japan permission to establish a consulate at Chengtu.]

It is reliably learned that representatives of the war, navy, and foreign ministries have drafted a plan including demands for a formal apology by Nanking, punishment of the guilty parties, payment of indemnity, revision of anti-Japanese textbooks, prohibition of anti-Japanese gatherings, dissolution of anti-Japanese organizations, and assumption by Nanking of responsibility for activities of branches of the Kuomintang [National People's party], which Tokio considers a motivating factor in the anti-Japanese movement in China.

STATE LAWYERS MEET TODAY TO PLAN TAX SURVEY

Members of the section on taxation of the Illinois State Bar association will meet this afternoon in the Palmer house to organize a survey of the Illinois tax system. Deneen Watson, chairman of the section, announced that 250 lawyers from all parts of the state would sponsor the survey in the belief that the tax system "is in need of a general overhauling in the interest of both economy and efficiency."

At the meeting County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki and Attorneys R. C. Beckett and Robert S. Cushman will discuss "Illegal and Excessive Tax Levies." Other speakers will be C. W. Terry, member of the Illinois tax commission, and Attorney Ferre C. Watkins.

Seven Governors Meet with the President.

and the others were placed around without regard to precedent.

At this table with the President were six governors and Federal Judge Charles A. Dewey of Des Moines.

The Luncheon Menu.

The menu was Iowa melon, although it was called Parisienne; Iowa fried chicken [country style], Iowa corn on the cob, escalloped potatoes, cinnamon rolls, Iowa sweet cream butter, salad, snowball dessert, coffee, iced tea and milk.

The arrangement of the seating at the Roosevelt table was:

The President, Gov. Hjalmar Petersen of Minnesota, Gov. Guy B. Park of Missouri, Gov. Landon, Gov. Robert L. Cochran of Nebraska, Gov. E. W. Marland of Oklahoma, Judge Dewey, and Gov. Herring.

During the luncheon the President and Gov. Landon exchanged a number of joking remarks, it was learned. The other guests gave them the center of the stage. Once the President was heard to remark:

"You will know more about these things, governor, when you get in the White House."

Hear Him Call "Alf."

One guest reported that he thought the President called Landon "Alf."

"If he hasn't already, he will," said this observer.

During the luncheon President Roosevelt remarked that he had been pleasantly surprised by the delightful weather he had encountered during his trip through the drouth areas.

"It's been mighty hot where I've been," remarked Gov. Landon.

"You ought to get a boat," suggested Mr. Roosevelt, smilingly. "Now, when you get to the White House, you'll have a chance to use the presidential yacht. I have found that mighty beneficial for week-end trips and you will, too."

There was general laughter among the eight at the table and Gov. Landon remarked:

"All right, I'll try it out."

Gov. Cochran of Nebraska, known for his joviality, helped to create an informal atmosphere at a luncheon which might easily have seen those present stiff and self-conscious.

"We have with us today," he remarked as the eight sat down at the table, "the President of the United States and the next President of the United States."

From then on, the eight seemed to enjoy themselves, according to reports. Gov. Park of Missouri patted his pockets fruitlessly for a cigaret and then borrowed one from the President. This called for some joking references to Gov. Landon's famous habit of borrowing cigarets instead of giving away cigars while campaigning.

Pose for News Reels.

After the luncheon and before the conference began the President and the governors posed for the silent news reels and for the camera men who were there by the score. The President and Gov. Herring were seated and the others were gathered around them.

Gov. Herring was at his left and Gov. Landon to the right and in a back row. During the picture taking, Landon leaned forward and said something to the President, who turned his head, looked back at the governor and laughed. What the remark was could not be learned.

The conference began at 2:30 o'clock. The situation in each state was taken up separately.

The President, who returned to the big desk in Gov. Herring's office, received the governors in the order in which their states were admitted to the Union. This placed Missouri first, for the admission date was 1821. Iowa came next with 1846, and Kansas third with 1861 as its date. Nebraska, fourth, 1867; Oklahoma, fifth, 1907. The Wisconsin and Minnesota situations were left until evening, when Wisconsin's governor, La Follette, was to arrive with his brother, Senator La Follette.

Although every effort was made to keep this nonpolitical, so far as the President's and Gov. Landon's movements could be tagged at all, the desire to see both was the outstanding reaction around town. The city was filled with visitors for the state fair, and all the streets were decorated for the day.

"Welcome" Is Only Sign.

"Welcome to Des Moines" was the only sign displayed.

Pictures of the President and Gov. Landon which had previously been displayed in store windows were ordered out by the nonpartisan citizens' committee which had the arrangements in hand. This committee, incidentally, according to one who had close contact with them, was about 90 per cent for Landon, but they kept their sentiments well buried. They made a survey of the downtown streets yesterday to see that no political signs were up.

The President gave the people plenty of chance to see him. Normally it would be a five minute ride from the railroad station to the capitol, but it took half an hour for the open car in which the President rode with his son and Gov. Herring to make the trip. They made a circuitous trip through the business district and circled the capitol park three times before the President was driven to a basement door and taken to an elevator to the governor's office.

Crowds Cheer Smiles.

Walnut and Locust streets were jammed with people who cheered the President as he waved and bowed and smiled. The secret service men, jogging along the side of the car, were given a long trip up the hill to the capitol.

The greatest question of the morning, however, was where was Landon. He had wired earlier that he might not be able to get here in time for the luncheon and had asked Gov. Herring to go ahead without waiting for him. Later he telephoned that he would get here in time, but would not go to the Hotel Des Moines to join the other governors in their procession to the capitol behind the President.

Cyrus Leland, Des Moines business man and an old friend of Landon, who had been delegated as host to the Republican candidate, was notified about noon that Landon would meet him at a tourist camp about four miles out of town. Mr. Leland and a group of newspaper men and photographers went out there with a police escort to wait. The escort was necessary as the town had been carefully blocked out as to trafic movement and all cars were kept out of the President's line of march.

Arrives at the Camp.

It was about 1:15 when the Landon cars came along the highway and stopped at the little camp. A few men in overalls, tin can campers, and a group of Boy Scouts came out to meet him. The escort here, added to the Landon caravan, made about 15 cars which now started to the city.

In the meantime Landon had been reported in the newspapers as on the way, but lost somewhere. Over the radio it was reported he was at the capitol and again at Osceola, Ia. Nobody, in fact, knew where he was except the small group that he had notified. He came in over route 69 from the south, crossing the Raccoon river. Small groups along the walks saw that some one of importance was coming. A few waved their hats and cheered. They could not distinguish Landon, however, in his closed car.

At 7th street in the city the Landon party ran into a big crowd that had waited there in the hope of seeing him. They yelled his name and said "Hello Alf.' They were not sure about it, however, and one woman called "hurrah for Roosevelt."

Street to Capitol Lined.

Locust street was still well lined with people as the Landon cars moved up the hill toward the golden dome of the high capitol, now shining in the sun.

They approached the capitol from the west and were taken around the grounds by their police escort. They stopped at the high steps at the west entrance and Landon bolted out of the door like a football player and dived into the crowd behind three police who had locked hands to clear a way for him. Thousands came running across the lawns to see him and a cheer went up as he was recognized. He was soon lost, however, in the jam around the door.

The entrance inside the rotunda was divided into two sections by a high canvas wall strung on wires. The governor and his party of experts were led to the right while the rest of the party took the left entrance after showing red, numbered tickets. The public had been excluded from the building for the day and all state business was stopped.

Experts Accompany Him.

Those who entered the conference room with the governor were Dr. L. E. Call, dean of agriculture and director of the agricultural experiment station of Kansas State college; Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of economics and sociology; Dr. Harry Umberger, dean of the extension department; and George Knapp, water resources engineer of the Kansas state board of agriculture.

The rotunda and two wings of the capitol were filled with long wooden tables covered with typewriters and telegraph instruments, where newspaper men were herded together waiting for news from the conference room.

The main news, it appeared, had occurred when the two candidates met. The drouth situation in the states was an old story. What the President intended to do about it was not to be made known until his Sunday radio speech. In the meantime the gossip was of the politics that had been adjourned.

Cheered on Way to Train.

President Roosevelt returned at 6 p. m. to his train by the same circuitous route which he had taken at midday.

Crowds again lined the way. The presidential parade passed the hotel where Gov. Landon was stopping preparatory to attending dinner on the President's special.

From the rear platform of his car the President waved to a crowd, but did not make a talk.

"How'd you like Ioway?" yelled some one.

"Fine! Fine!" shouted back the President. "It's been a grand day."

The situation here is said to be fairly well balanced at this time between the two parties. Whether this meeting will turn the balance is one question that will be debated. Gov. Landon held no political conferences here.

As the governor came through Iowa this morning and the news of his coming was sent ahead of him crowds gathered to greet him. At Leon, Ia., where the governor stopped to get a shave, they put up a sign "Leon for Landon" just as the governor arrived.

The President accorded about 30 minutes to each governor and his state delegation. As in his talks with representatives of other states on his tour, he asked numerous questions concerning the condition of crops, the number of farmers already on relief because of the drouth, the estimated additional number who should be given jobs by the Works Progress administration, and queries of a similar nature.

Gov. Park of Missouri reported that he told Mr. Roosevelt 50,000 more farmers needed some form of relief in his state.

Landon Leads Roosevelt 2-1 in Digest Poll's First Returns

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—The first scattering returns in the Literary Digest presidential poll, anxiously awaited by political observers because of the extraordinary accuracy with which that magazine has forecast elections in the past, were disclosed today. They show Gov. Alf M. Landon, the Republican candidate, leading President Roosevelt by more than 2 to 1.

A total of 24,689 votes tallied to date, coming from the states of Maine, New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey, give Gov. Landon 16,056, President Roosevelt 7,645, and Representative William Lemke, candidate of the so-called Union party, 754. Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate, received 109 votes, and four miscellaneous candidates divided 125.

None from Big Cities.

The Literary Digest cautions its readers that these returns are meager and it makes no predictions as to the final outcome. The magazine also points out that none of the ballots in the first weekly tabulation came from the large metropolitan areas of New York City, Philadelphia, and Pittsburgh.

In New York, prize state with its 47 electoral votes, which President Roosevelt carried with a plurality of half a million in 1932, the first returns gave him 2,724 votes to Gov. Landon's 5,931. The votes come from upstate New York, which the Republicans are counting upon to overcome any majority that President Roosevelt may receive in New York City.

From New Jersey, which President Roosevelt carried by only 30,000 votes in 1932, 2,660 ballots were sent in marked for Landon and 1,621 for Roosevelt.

5,634 to 2,778 in Penn.

In Pennsylvania, a vitally important state because of its 36 electoral votes and one of the six that President Hoover carried in 1932, 5,634 ballots were marked for Landon, the state's native son, and 2,778 for Roosevelt. Democrats are moving heaven and earth to carry Pennsylvania. WPA workers are told that a vote for Landon means going off relief, and the New Deal controled senate committee on campaign expenditures is trying to crack down on the big steel companies, accused by Senator Joseph F. Guffey, the Democratic boss, of "coercing" employés.

From Maine, the traditional barometer state, which goes to the polls Sept. 14, Landon received 1,831 votes to Roosevelt's 522. Representative Robert L. Bacon of New York, eastern Republican campaign manager, returned today from a survey of the Maine situation and predicted that it would elect a complete Republican congressional ticket. He predicted that Senator Wallace H. White Jr. would defeat Gov. Louis Brann, the New Deal candidate for the senate.

"The people of Maine are not taking any stock in the talk of Gov. Brann, who is Farley's hand picked senatorial candidate," Bacon declared. "This is all the more true because they realize that Mr. Brann, despite the fact that he is the New Deal's hand picked candidate, does not dare defend the New Deal and Roosevelt in a state that is so overwhelmingly against the huge expenditures, the waste, and the taxes being piled up by the New Deal.

"The story around Maine is that the New Dealers propose a few days before the election to flood the state with telegrams urging support for their extravagant administration. If they do this it will be so much money wasted. The New Deal and all the hare-brained schemes it stands for definitly is through in Maine."

Analysis Shows Switching.

The Literary Digest's analysis of the early returns shows significant trends in the switching of 1932 Roosevelt voters to Landon and in the effect of the Lemke candidacy. Lemke is getting four votes from former Roosevelt supporters to one from former Hoover supporters.

"In Maine, the 'barometer' state," the magazine says, "Landon gets 246 who voted for Roosevelt in 1932, as compared with 85 who then voted Republican and now favor Roosevelt.

"In New Jersey Landon gets 407 who were Democratic in 1932, while Roosevelt takes over 304 Republican votes.

Trend in New York.

"In New York, Landon gets 1,146 Democratic votes, while 509 who voted Republican in 1932 switch to the President.

"In Pennsylvania, 915 Democrats vote for Landon and 509 Republicans for Roosevelt."

In announcing its first weekly tabulation of ballots, the magazine declares that it will make a 10 million ballot test of public sentiment.

"Next week more states will join the parade, and there will be thousands of additional voters," it states.

"Ballots are pouring out by tens of thousands and will continue to flood the country for several weeks. They are pouring back, too, in an ever increasing stream."

Popularity Rising, Says Martin.

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Gov. Alf M. Landon's increasing popularity in the east is clearly demonstrated by first returns in the Literary Digest presidential poll, Representative Joseph W. Martin, head of the eastern Republican headquarters, declared today.

"These early returns should be very encouraging to all Republican workers," said Martin, "and should be heartening to those who feared a continuation of this country's exploitation by the New Deal administration."

GARNER WILL MAKE CAMPAIGN ADDRESS AT NEW YORK DINNER

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Vice President John N. Garner will make his first major campaign appearance of the year in New York City on or about Sept. 16 it was announced today by Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley.

Farley said Garner, who has been "hibernating" at his home at Uvalde, Tex., would address a dinner.

Garner is a reluctant campaigner. But it is believed that during his trip north he may deliver several radio addresses and later make several speeches in key places.

DENY ROOSEVELT HAS ANY CLAIM TO BE DEMOCRAT

J. A. Reed Tells How He Flouts Constitution.

Portland, Me., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Former United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri declared in an address here tonight that "no one has the right to say President Roosevelt is a Democrat."

Reed is chairman of the National Jeffersonian Democrats, an organization opposed to reëlection of the President. Reed's speech opened the group's compaign in this state.

The fiery Missourian stressed what he termed a "bold effort to evade and defy the constitution" by the present administration after asserting there were three parties in the nation, the third of which he named as the "Rooseveltian party, neither Republican nor Democratic, but embracing every shade from pink socialism to Red communism."

Trying to Evade Constitution.

"The principles of the constitution of the United States are as true as they were when Jefferson, Madison, Pinckney, and Washington, and others proclaimed them, and the people adopted them," Reed asserted. "But today we are confronted with a bold effort to evade and defy the constitution and the bill of rights, and to overthrow the very foundations of American civilization.

"That is destruction, and from destruction there can be no recovery."

Reed then turned back a dozen years.

"In 1924 a radical element appeared as the Progressives," he said, "with Robert M. La Follette as its candidate for President. The platform of the party was almost entirely socialistic.

"La Follette did not get very far, but his adherents did not give up. In 1932 a conference of these so-called Progressives was called—and four of the delegates to that convention now sit in the cabinet of the President. They are Daniel C. Roper, secretary of commerce; Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior; Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture; and Henry Morgenthau Jr., secretary of the treasury."

Names Lesser Lights.

Others named by Reed as then affiliated with the movement included Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator; Rexford Tugwell, resettlement administrator; Basil Manly, member of the federal power commission, and Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor.

"Measured by these appointments and by the nondescript advisers he has called to his counsels, no one has the right to say Roosevelt is a Democrat," the former senator declared.

"I hold no brief for Gov. Landon, he is a Republican and I am a Democrat," Reed said. "But this much I say: he has never undertaken to repudiate the constitution, to sneer at its precepts, or to contemptuously refer to its authors. He has not assailed the Supreme court * * *. He has not proposed the confiscation of property through taxation or by any other method."

Striking at the term "social justice," Reed said it was not social justice "to destroy food so as to make everybody pay an exorbitant price for the meat he needs; restrict production of corn, potatoes and wheat; deny a citizen the right to work more than one-half the time

Puts Roosevelt on Stand.

"If any here think that I have overstated the dangers impending or the unconstitutional ursurpation of power by the present administration, I place Franklin D. Roosevelt on the stand. Thus out of his mouth shall I condemn him.

"In his January message to congress, he declared:

"'They [the people] realize that in 34 months we have built up new instruments of public power. In the hands of a people's government, this power is wholesome and proper, but in the hands of political puppets of an economic autocracy such power would provide shackles for the liberties of the people.'

"Stripped naked, that is the assertion that a power has been created and exercised by the present government which, if exerted by political puppets, would provide shackles for the liberties of the people.

"What the framers of this republic knew and what history teaches is that no man can be trusted with the power to fasten shackles upon the liberties of the people. The man guilty of such an act is wholly unfit to hold office at the hands of a free people."

Parents Pay First Visit to Confessed Boy Slayer

Roland Munroe Jr., age 15, who has admitted the murder of Mrs. Agnes Roffeis, at the Criminal courts building yesterday with his father, Roland Munroe Sr., and his stepmother, Mrs. Mary Munroe. Court Ruling Today

Chief Justice Denis J. Normoyle in Criminal court is expected to decide today what procedure will be taken to try Roland Munroe, 15 years old, for the hammer slaying of Mrs. Agnes Roffeis, 65 years old, a widow, in her home at 1265 Winona avenue last Saturday.

Dr. Harry R. Hoffman of the Cook county behavior clinic, said he had completed his examination of the youth and would submit his report to Judge Normoyle today. Although Dr. Hoffman would make no comment it was understood that his findings show the youth morally incompetent but legally sane.

Attorney Samuel Hoffman, counsel for the youth, has announced that he will offer a defense of insanity. Yesterday young Munroe was visited at the county jail by his father, Roland Sr., and his stepmother, Mrs. Mary Munroe. The youth greeted them indifferently and said he was "getting along O. K.", but that he "could eat more" if he had it.

Wife Is Granted Divorce from Tom Maloy's Nephew

Mrs. Jean Maloy, 28 years old, 2222 West 109th street, was granted a divorce yesterday by Judge Oscar F. Nelson in the Superior court from Thomas E. Maloy, nephew and namesake of the late Thomas E. Maloy, former czar of the moving picture operators' union. Mrs. Maloy charged cruelty.

Wheelsman's River Death Held Accidental Drowning

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury yesterday on the drowning of Dennis D. Collins, 45 years old, 6454 Dorchester avenue, wheelsman on the Crudeoil, a tanker moored in the south branch of the Chicago river near Western avenue and 29th street. Collins was an expert swimmer. According to testimony of the crew, he slipped from the gangplank as he started ashore early yesterday and was caught under the water between the side of the vessel and a piling.

LANDON AND KNOX PICTURES GO UP IN RELIEF OFFICE

William S. Propper, supervisor of Thornton township for the last 25 years and now ex-officio relief administrator there, has placed large pictures of Gov. Alf M. Landon and Frank Knox in the township relief office at 15422 Center avenue, Harvey.

"Landon and Knox are for economy, and so am I," Propper explained yesterday. "That's why I put up their pictures, and I'm going to keep them up."

To emphasize his point Propper declared his administration of relief since July 1 has cost about $2,500 a month less than the expenditures in the township under the former régime of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission. Proper, an attorney, is the township's Republican committeeman.

GIRL, 22, SEIZED WITH EX-CONVICT, ADMITS ROBBERY

Rita Sweeney, 22 years old, 3758 Normal avenue, confessed after her arrest yesterday that she and Edward Mangin, 22 years old, of 613 West 54th place, beat George Danielson, 6051 South Green street, and robbed him of $10 and his automobile last July 6.

The girl and Mangin, who was released from the Pontiac reformatory last year after serving four years for automobile theft, were seized in a stolen car at 55th and Morgan streets. The arrest was made by Sergt. John Benson and Policeman Thomas Lynch of the Stockyards station, who recognized Mangin from a rogue's gallery picture pointed out by Danielson.

Mangin at first denied his part in the crime, but the girl, questioned separately, admitted it.

Outwit Him to Summon Policeman.

The quick wit of two girl clerks yesterday brought about the arrest of Lawrence Wayne, a paroled convict, as he fled through the crowds at State and Adams streets with $54 he had taken in a toy pistol holdup.

The two girls are Miss Margaret Hill, 26 years old, 1440 Fullerton avenue, and Miss Hazel Hennessy, 23 years old, employés in Feld's Frock shop at 20 East Adams street.

Slip Out Back Door.

The clerks and the manager, Harriet Jarose, 24 years old, 6410 Woodlawn avenue, were in the shop when Wayne entered, brandishing what appeared to be a bona fide gun. He shoved the weapon against Miss Jarose and ordered her to give him the money in the cash register.

Wayne then ordered Miss Hill and Miss Hennessy into the back room of the shop, but unfortunately [for him] the bandit didn't know there was a rear door in the place.

The girls slipped quietly out in the alley and summoned Richard Schmidt, a mounted policeman stationed at State and Adams streets, while Miss Jarose played for time. Schmidt entered the shop from the rear just as Wayne was going out the front door. He caught up with the bandit at Monroe street and Wabash avenue.

Gets Gun for Dime.

Wayne, who is 30 years old and lives at 4027 Washington boulevard, told police he bought the pistol for a dime a few minutes before the attempted holdup in a 5 and 10 cent store. He said his home was in Lawrence, Kas., and that he is a college graduate, although he didn't mention the college.

However, Joliet penitentiary, where Wayne was sent in 1930 for robbery, sometimes is referred to as a college by more flippant inmates. He was paroled last Feb. 8, he said, to Joe Hopkins, a Peoria oil man, and later was given permission by parole authorities to come to Chicago.

FORTIFY HOMES TO STOP SPANISH REBELS' SMASH

Irun Loyalists Get Set for Street Fighting.

ing forces after some Socialists were said to have proposed surrender.

Reports reaching the French frontier told of 60 rebel Fascists being marched to a cemetery and shot down into an open grave.

Government batteries at Fuenterrabia did their best to cut down the rebel advance forces, but their marksmanship was so wide that some 20 shells fell across the river into French territory.

On French soil 250 French mobile guards patroled the international bridge linking Behobia, Spain, with Behobie, France. For the second day stray bullets and shrapnel sprayed the bridge.

[The French government protested yesterday to the Spanish rebel junta against "violation of French territory" by insurgent gunfire.]

Madrid Claims Huesca Taken.

MADRID, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The ministry of war announced government troops marched into the rebel stronghold of Huesca and occupied it tonight. The town, thirty-six miles northeast of Saragossa, had been in the hands of the rebels since the early days of the civil war.

Authorities, in announcing the victory, said an entire company of rebels joined the government forces before the town was occupied.

Another mutiny was said to have occurred in a rebel column which was reported routed when it advanced on the seaport town of Luarca, in Oviedo province.

Meanwhile the government gathered its strength in the south to resist the expected rebel advance in Toledo province and reported it had defeated rebels in the Estremadura district, near the Badajoz-Toledo provincial border. Rebels were said to be in desperate circumstances at Granada.

Rebels Claim Four-Fifths of Spain.

WITH THE REBEL ARMY, BURGOS, Spain, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The Burgos rebel junta declared tonight insurgents had conquered four-fifths of Spain. The claim was based on scattered reports from rebel columns of victories, advances into government held territory, and consolidation of forces.

Headquarters announced 20,000 men are being concentrated in the Navalperal district, which flanks the Guadarrama mountain front, northwest of Madrid. The maneuver, they said, was preparatory to an attack on El Escorial, a town inside the Guadarrama lines on the road to the capital and almost within earshot of it.

Insurgents also claimed that war planes bombed and sank two government submarines off Bilbao.

NORWAY SPURNS RUSSIAN DEMAND TO OUST TROTZKY

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Norway tonight formally rejected Russia's demand for the expulsion of the exiled bolshevist leader, Leon Trotzky.

A note handed to the soviet minister at Oslo said the Russian demand was not in conformity with "the existing friendly relations between the two countries." The note said Norway had not been lax in preventing "any actions organized on her territory which may threaten the security of other nations."

Russia on Aug. 29 formally asked the expulsion of Trotzky, who yesterday was interned with his wife on the proviso that he would not conduct any counter-revolutionary activities in Russia or in other countries.

Nazis Give Partial Approval to Neutrality Plan on Spain

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 3.—An ambassadors' "watch" committee to sit in London and supervise nonintervention in Spain so as to prevent the spread of the civil war to the rest of Europe seemed a little nearer realization today.

British pressure on Berlin tonight brought qualified acceptance from Germany of the invitation to join the committee, though the Nazi answer made inquiries on a number of points with regard to the scope and power of the committee.

Portugal signified a similar conditional acceptance of the project yesterday, and today the French government advised London that it has received agreements to coöperate in the enforcement of neutrality from Hungary, Finland, and Russia, which leaves no country to be heard from.

May Meet Next Week.

The committee is not likely to meet until next week at the earliest, however, since full arrangements await unqualified acceptance by Germany and Portugal.

A conference of government officials was held today to cut delay to a minimum. Officials of the board of trade, customs, the foreign office, and the treasury and service departments began preparing the ground for the international committee meeting and examined new measures to stop the flow of arms, munitions and aircraft to Spain from Britain.

No Agents on Frontier.

It does not appear probable that the control committee will have actual agents along the frontiers or in Spanish ports to keep check upon whether the arms embargoes are being enforced. In other words nothing like the interallied control committee, which watched over German disarmament after the world war, is contemplated.

Rather, in the British view, the ambassadors' committee is to act as a check and balance among partisan nations to keep one from reaching a conclusion that another is flagrantly violating its nonintervention agreements and in retaliation plunging into some hasty and irreparable move.

It was pointed out today that, "if the effort to establish a committee on nonintervention fails, this country will be faced with far reaching decisions. The British cannot wash their hands of the whole affair while the rebels win the war with German and Italian help and France is compelled to give increasing aid to the loyalists. The time is approaching rapidly when alternatives to nonintervention may be considered."

Nothing is known here about any peace proposals having been approved by the powers involving establishment of a national emergency council in Spain. British information is that peace between the rival factions is remote and that no such council could be agreed upon nor control Spain if it were.

Opinion in France and England is that mediation and peace proposals are inopportune at present and would only be likely to aggravate the situation in Spain. Instructions to the British ambassador to Spain, now at Hendaye, France, are for him to confine his efforts to humanizing the warfare and inducing the belligerents to refrain from destroying art objects and shooting hostages.

Reds Fight Neutrality in France.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—(AP)—New pressure was applied to the French government today to force it from its neutrality stand toward Spain.

The obstructive attitude of Germany, informed sources said, heightened the influence of communists demanding French aid for the Spanish government.

"La Pasionaria," Spanish communist woman deputy, addressing a massmeeting tonight, asked France to give arms to the Spanish government to help crush the Fascist rebels. The "Passion Flower," whose real name is Dolores Irriburi, was cheered by communists and Socialists as she declared:

"Our victory is your victory; our defeat is your defeat."

Demands Strike.

While a fresh outbreak of the recurring occupation strikes continued to spread, Maurice Thorez, secretary-general of the communist party in France, demanded a workers' uprising against Premier Leon Blum's nonintervention stand. At Grenoble 4,000 metal workers joined the revived movement.

Rightist sources expressed alarm the strikes would couple aid-for-Spain demands with those for labor reforms.

The Spanish embassy here meantime informed European governments pledged to neutrality that it had received a report 24 Italian airplanes arrived today at Vigo, Spain.

HONDURAN REBEL FORCES LAUNCH REVOLT INVASION

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Sept. 3.—Reports from Nicaragua that revolutionary Honduran forces had started an invasion of Honduras from Nicaragua were confirmed here today.

President Tiburcio Andino Carias has ordered government forces to proceed from Tegucigalpa to meet the invaders. It is said that the rebels, who are led by Gen. Mariano Bertrand Anduray and Manuel Samayo, are well armed. In addition, a number of minor uprisings are reported from the interior of Honduras.

Gen. Justo Umana is expected to cross the frontier from British Honduras with another rebel force. There have been several revolts in Honduras since the beginning of 1932. The most recent major one was quelled last April. President Carias was elected on Oct. 30, 1933, for a four year term.

World Peace Parley Urges Powers to Mediate in Spain

BRUSSELS, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The world peace congress, opening sessions here today, urged European governments to seek mediation of the Spanish civil war. A resolution adopted called attention of the council of the league of nations to dangers that might result if the conflict were prolonged. The Universal Union for Peace, sequel to peace efforts by Franco-German war veterans, called the sessions here. Coming from 40 nations the delegates were for the most part private citizens.

ITALIAN KILLED IN BARCELONA; DUCE SENDS WARSHIPS

Fascist Sentiment Flares Against Madrid.

ROME, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Sentiment of Fascist Italy flared up menacingly tonight against the Spanish leftist government because of the reported killing of an Italian workman by government forces at Barcelona.

The 10,000 ton cruiser Pola immediately sailed from Gaeta, Italy, to Barcelona "to give added protection to Italians there." The Pola, one of Italy's finest war vessels, was to join an Italian war vessel already at Barcelona.

Information received from Genoa during the afternoon had another Italian cruiser under way for the city.

Killed for Having Images.

The Italian workman, whose name was given as Umberto Fazzalenda, father of seven children, was reported killed by government fighting men because they found religious images in his house.

An official communique today said: "The Italian consul general at Barcelona made repeated and energetic protests, but the present state of affairs is such in Spain that protests are no longer sufficient."

Afternoon newspapers in Rome spread the story of the incident in black page wide streamers.

In Rome, the press ministry asserted the reported killing was "atrocious," and the sixth by Spanish government forces.

Italian Embassy Moved.

The Italian embassy already has been moved—along with the German embassy—from Madrid to Alicante, as the Italian government announced it felt the city of Madrid unsafe.

The government spokesman said Italy did not believe the Madrid government fighting Spanish Fascist rebels is "capable of taking action," so reparations for the other reported Italian victims of the civil fighting had not been discussed.

As resentment against the Spanish Socialists heightened throughout Italy tonight, it was announced that Dino Grandi, envoy to London, would attend officially the proposed London conference on Spanish neutrality.

FOUR DRUGGISTS ARRAIGNED AS DRIVE CONTINUES

Four pharmacists arrested by deputy sherifs on complaints made by the state department of registration and education, which is conducting a drive against violators of medical, dental, and pharmaceutical laws, were arraigned yesterday before Judge George N. Blatt of Joliet, sitting in County court here. Judge Blatt released them on cash bonds of $150 each, and the cases, in which all are charged with substituting medicines, were continued to Sept. 29. The defendants are Alexander Allen, 4412 Drexel boulevard; Jacob Shapiro, 5484 University avenue; Isador Fox, 5427 Ingleside avenue, and A. T. Hynes.

SPAIN'S EX-HEIR ORDERED TO PAY WIFE $250 MONTH

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—The former crown prince of Spain, Alfonso, count of Covadonga, was ordered today to pay his wife, the former Eldemira Sampedro of Havana, $250 a month temporary alimony and $750 counsel fees pending the outcome of her husband's suit for an annulment of their marriage.

The decision was made by Supreme Court Justice Aron Steuer. The count is at present a patient in Presbyterian hospital, being treated for loss of blood after a slight operation.

The wife had asked for $250 a week alimony and $25,000 counsel fees.

KENTUCKIAN, 13, GIVES BLOOD TO CHICAGO BOY, 7

Maurice Oldham, 13 years old, of Lexington, Ky., gave some of his blood last night to help another boy—a stranger to him. The transfusion was made in the Mount Sinai hospital in an effort to save the life of Phillip Levitt, 7 years old, who is the victim of a viridans streptococcic infection of the valves and lining of the heart.

Maurice, who overcame the same infection two years ago, was selected as the most suitable blood donor among many volunteers throughout the country. With his mother, Mrs. R. Mack Oldham, wife of a city commissioner of Lexington, he arrived in Chicago yesterday and went to the home of Phillip's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Levitt, 3842 Van Buren street. They will remain at the Levitt home until next week when another transfusion will be made.

"We are not confident that this will save the boy's life," said Dr. Paul Sahlins, who, with Dr. J. M. Mora, performed the transfusion. "We know nothing. We are just trying. It may be some time before we can determine whether the result has been beneficial."

Rebel Firing Squad Kills President Azana's Nephew

BARCELONA, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Gregorio Azana, nephew of President Manuel Azana, died before a rebel firing squad at Cordoba, the government press bureau reported today. Catalonia's "peoples court" meantime condemned three Fascist rebels to die.

LAMES WORLD STRIFE FOR NEW U. S. BORROWING

orgenthau "Explains" 900 Million Financing.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Spe-
.]—Critical world conditions were en by Secretary of the Treasury nry Morgenthau Jr. today as the son for a September borrowing of million dollars in fresh funds to ance New Deal spending over the npaign and election period.

Along with the new borrowing on
t. 15, Morgenthau announced that treasury would refund an issue maturing notes amounting to 514 lion dollars, thus bringing the al quarterly financing to a total more than 900 millions.

Calls It Cheap Insurance.

Morgenthau did not mention the anish situation and its threat to ropean peace, but he made a spe-l point of unsettled conditions as motive for tapping the banks and public for additional funds.

I want to keep the working bale at approximately one billion dols," said Morgenthau, "because I l that in these times with condins as they are abroad it is a very irable thing to do. Furthermore, you figure interest on this fund at million dollars a year, that's the est and cheapest insurance fund t we could have for the American ple against any unforeseen hap-ing that might occur."

Ignores Idle Funds.

The treasury secretary also dered that this was the smallest borving since he took office, ignoring fact that the administration verborrowed" in June and at pres-has 1 billion 420 million dollars cash lying idle in the till. The e borrowing of a billion dollars
s the largest in the peace time tory of the nation.

n addition the secretary sidepped comment on the increase in public debt, which has risen to an time peak under the New Deal
, judging from the budget figures eased by President Roosevelt on esday, will climb over the 34 bil-
n mark at the end of the govern-nt's fiscal year. The current borving will raise the debt to 33 bil-
n 377 million dollars.

Morgenthau declared that the net rowing for the fiscal year would exceed 750 million dollars, which s the figure set forth by the Presint.

The new money, Morgenthau said,
o would finance the current needs the Home Owners Loan corporan, which will need approximately million dollars during the next r for the purchase of stock in new federal savings and loan associations.

Daniel W. Bell, acting director of the budget, said that the treasury's cash balance had been reduced by 800 million since the start of the fiscal year on July 1 through expenditures on the soldiers' bonus and New Deal activities.

DIVORCES CHARLES C. DAWES

MRS. EMILY M'CORMICK DAWES.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Emily McCormick Dawes, 69 East Division street, was granted a divorce yesterday by Circuit Judge Daniel P. Trude from Charles Cutler Dawes. Mr. Dawes is the son of Rufus Dawes, former president of A Century of Progress. He is a nephew of Charles G. Dawes. He is in the insurance business and is colonel of the 202d coast artillery regiment, antiaircraft unit of the Illinois National Guard.

Mrs. Dawes' bill was filed yesterday afternoon, an answer was filed immediately on behalf of her husband, and Judge Trude indicated within half an hour that he would sign the decree. The couple were married Jan. 3, 1921, in Evanston. Mrs. Dawes charged that her husband deserted her on July 5, 1935.

She was granted custody of two children, Harriet McCormick Dawes, 13 years old, and Rufus C. Dawes II., 6 years old. By an out of court settlement Mrs. Dawes is to receive $1,000, attorneys' fees of $750, and monthly payments of an undisclosed amount. Mr. Dawes is also to pay $100 a month for the support of the children, provide for their education, and maintain payments on $5,000 insurance policies on each of their lives.

'Santa Claus of Sheridan' in Cell on Morals Charge

Ionia, Mich., Sept. 3.—(AP)—The Michigan state reformatory tonight held Terry Dale, 36 year old "Santa Claus of Sheridan," whose gifts of groceries, fuel, and clothing to needy persons won him that designation. Dale, oil well driller and contractor, was arrested on a warant charging an offense against an 11 year old Morley, Mich., girl.

M'CARL ASSAILS ONE MAN RULE OF GOVERNMENT

Declares Revised Budget Is Mere Estimate.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—In a statement assailing President Roosevelt's revised budget summation, which predicted a deficit of only $2,096,996,300 for the 1937 fiscal year, John R. McCarl, until recently controler general of the United States, today imputed dictatorship to the New Deal.

"Unfortunately there can be nothing reasonably definite in such matters so long as we continue the plan of doing everything from Washington under a one man government," McCarl declared.

Charges Stir New Dealers.

McCarl's statement surprised New Dealers and caused no little concern, due to the high respect he commanded for fifteen years as the "watchdog of the treasury" and the fact that he doesn't make a practice of issuing statements. Only once before has he consented to discuss public affairs for quotation, and that was on his last day in office, when he criticized New Deal waste and extravagance.

"The President's statement respecting his so-called revision of the 1937 budget is probably as favorable to his administration as any statement could be in the circumstances," his statement said. "The figures for the most part are no more than estimates, however, and as such give no assurances except a purpose to continue extending relief in about the most wasteful manner possible, and consequently such prompt exhaustion of relief appropriations intended to serve through June as to necessitate demands upon the new congress in January for an additional half billion dollars.

Need Rule by Congress.

"Unfortunately there can be nothing reasonably definite in such matters so long as we continue the plan of doing everything from Washington under a one man government—until we have a congress that will resume proper control over our affairs—especially our fiscal affairs.

"The proposal to use the treasury working balance to reduce borrowing, if actually followed, will be helpful. It will not only avoid interest costs but will tend to minimize temptation, as a large treasury balance is always a temptation to go on a spending spree. The continuing growth of the public debt, which now seems to be regarded as the regular order, is all but reassuring."

LOVE WEATHERS ROUGH TRIP FOR EVANSTON PAIR

When Robert Harding Melsome, 36 years old, and Mrs. Marion Tait Dunbar, 26, both of Evanston, departed on vacation Aug. 22 with a party of friends, they decided it would be romantic to be married by the captain on board the steamer Contessa while cruising to the Canal Zone. Capt. Mark Darcy declined to perform the ceremony and persuaded them it would be more romantic to be wed under the tropical moon when the ship paused at Havana.

Arriving at the Cuban capital the couple found marriage involved such things as banns, publication of intention, and other delays, so they gave up that idea. Finally the ship docked at Cristobal, Canal Zone, where a magistrate married them in 10 minutes. Fellow passengers, aware by this time of the would be honeymooners' troubles, cheered them as they returned to the ship, and arranged to give them a suite in exchange for their separate cabins.

The bridegroom is the son of Walter W. Melsome, 1121 Main street, a retired bank official. Young Melsome is a salesman for a typewriter supply company. His bride, who lived at 727 Seward street, is an interior decorator. They are scheduled to return to Chicago on Tuesday.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

GOOD-WILL

By CALEB

THERE is a simple secret of the good life abroad in the earth. But only an occasional individual has profitably put it to work.

It is the secret of good-will—of persistent, unfailing, intentional good-will to the world. Its power is tremendous.

To some of its learners, this secret brings wealth. To some it brings advancement in business. To some it brings fame. But to all of them it brings friends. And to all of them it brings happiness.

Businesses are launched into careers with hopes for profitable survival rooted in intended good-will. But they become busy with bookkeeping, statistics, taxes, credits, and operating problems. And they let good-will languish.

Businesses are fortunate if their founders rightly appraised the value of good-will. They are fortunate if the spirit of good-will pervades their organization. Good-will cannot be bought. It is only for exchange.

All businesses need employes who have learned this great open secret. The world is rough. It is busy. It hurtles intently through space, and the humans on its surface get themselves involved in furious efforts to arrive somewhere by methods which ignore this most helpful way of all—this common thing—good-will.

Destinations arrived at by other routes are not pleasant places to stay. We commend good-will—we commend it as an idea, as a route to go places, and as a destination at which to arrive.

There are persons in business who, by sheer honest, persistent good-will toward their fellows, have lifted themselves into positions of importance and great satisfaction. The saleslady or other employe in a retail store who has committed herself definitely to be an ambassador of good-will to the public builds friendships, fulfills the store's ideal, becomes a magnet for shoppers who need the helpful outflow of her friendliness, attracts attention to herself, and becomes a rare outstanding human being whose goal will be a happy one to reach.

If you are employed by an organization with an intention to serve the public truly, you are employed to interpret abstract and commercial good-will into terms of human friendship and service. Your employment is based entirely on that design. Fulfill it. It makes your own life highly worth while. Besides, it may mean other rewards.

SEND VOLUNTEER SONGS TO STATE G. O. P. LEADERS

Whole Country to Hear Landon Music.

Every Republican state and county chairman in the United States will receive copies of THE VOLUNTEERS' songs — the Campaign hymn and "Our Landon"—Phil Maxwell, head of the music division, announced yesterday.

The songs were sung before an appreciative audience at headquarters of the Republican national committee yesterday and, with the approval of the committee, mailing of the music will begin immediately.

The Campaign hymn consists of two verses from a poem by John Greenleaf Whittier, dramatizing the westward march of the Kansas emigrants. The verses are sung at VOLUNTEER rallies to the old tune "Cutler." "Our Landon" was sung at the national headquarters by Mrs. Maida Firmin, co-composer.

Painting Picturizes Hymn.

Picturization of the Campaign hymn has been made possible by Carey Orr, TRIBUNE cartoonist, who commissioned Edward T. Grigware, noted Chicago painter, to "bring out the beauty of the words and the music of the verses," as Mr. Orr said. The painting was exhibited at VOLUNTEER headquarters on the 17th floor of Tribune Tower yesterday.

The painting will be reproduced in full color in the rotogravure section of THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE on Sept. 27. Its commanding feature is a picturesque prairie schooner moving across the plains, manned and preceded by the bearded emigrants. The words and music of the hymn are shown on a scroll beneath. The painting is Mr. Orr's donation to THE VOLUNTEERS, members of which are pledged to work for the election of Landon and Knox.

Large Groups Enlist.

Enrollment of large groups in the patriotic organization continued yesterday. The largest meeting was that of the State Republican Women's club of which Mrs. David H. Jackson is president. Members breakfasted at the Hamilton club. More than 250 attended and all enrolled in THE VOLUNTEERS following talks by Mrs. Bertha Baur, Republican national committeewoman, and Miss Ruth De Young, chairman of the women's division of THE VOLUNTEERS. Mrs. Doris Chapman, leader of the north side unit of the women's division, had charge of the recruiting.

THE VOLUNTEER movement was carried forward last night in the Seventh ward when 150 Landon-Knox boosters attended a meeting in the ward headquarters at 7517 Exchange avenue. Robert L. Taylor, attorney for the election board, was the principal speaker. Miss Lilly Jones, chairman of the women VOLUNTEERS in the Seventh ward, presided. Recruiting of new VOLUNTEERS was directed by Mrs. Clarence G. Goodwin, south side director for the women's division.

Celebrate Landon's Birthday.

Gov. Landon's birthday on Sept. 9, when the presidential nominee will be 49 years old, will be celebrated at more than 50 VOLUNTEER parties in Chicago and environs. One of the largest will be held at the Tribune Tower headquarters, where Mrs. Henry W. Hardy, immediate past president of the Chicago and Cook County Federation of Women's Organizations, will be the principal speaker.

More than 200 leaders of women's groups will attend the party.

Another of the parties will be held in the Second ward headquarters of the women's division, at 3458 South State street. Mrs. William E. King, wife of the state senator, is chairman of this unit.

Enrollment of VOLUNTEERS in the Thirty-second ward will be continued tonight at a meeting in the Tower building, Milwaukee and North avenues, at which Mrs. E. H. Elwood, 5320 North Sawyer avenue, leader of the northwestern unit of the women's division, will be the speaker.

New Musical Talent.

Mr. Maxwell announced several additions to the talent of the music division yesterday. One of the new singers is Miss Grace L. Prez, 5311 North Clark street, a soprano who recently won honors in a radio contest. Her first assignment will be to sing VOLUNTEER songs at a meeting on Sept. 11 in the home of Mrs. A. G. Nichols, Volma road, Flossmoor.

Jack Spencer, 7308 Coles avenue, radio actor, visited Maxwell and displayed a satirical poem he has written entitled "Just Call Me Jim," which is a lampoon on James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman. He will recite the poem at VOLUNTEER rallies.

Calls at headquarters from persons out of the state continued yesterday. All asked for literature and pledge cards with which to organize VOLUNTEER units. Attorney Lee H. Kramer of Columbus, O., and H. D. Guie of Yakima, Wash., were among them.

League Members Join Volunteers

Left to right: Branislau Kryzctopek, Lampros Tsiacos, and Prof. Carlo De Corleto, director of the All-American league, at VOLUNTEER headquarters. The All-American league is an organization with 5,000 members.

ACCUSED OF CONFIDENCE GAME.

Frank Bitrick, 35 years old, 1531 Warren avenue, was charged by the Oak Park police yesterday with operating a confidence game.

URGES COLORED VOTERS TO BACK G. O. P. TICKET

The National Planning Board of Colored Republicans closed a two day conference at the Hotel La Salle yesterday with a declaration that Negro citizens will find their fortunes best served by Gov. Alf M. Landon and the Republican party. Board members from most of the states were present, and John Hamilton, G. O. P. national chairman, attended the opening and closing sessions.

In a resolution addressed to their fellow citizens which was adopted at the final meeting, the planning board said:

"Colored relief recipients will find their fortunes better served by supporting the Republican party. The Republican platform and Gov. Landon have made adequate assurance that relief for all needy persons will be continued. The injustices of New Deal relief which impose prejudiced supervisors upon helpless colored relief clients are notorious, and are to be wiped out only by replacing this New Deal administration with Gov. Landon."

DRIVER DEAD, CAR RUNS WILD IN N. Y.; KILLS MAN

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—An automobile with its driver dead at the wheel sidewiped a taxicab on 8th avenue between 57th and 58th streets tonight, darted across the street through heavy Columbus circle motor trafic, jumped the curb, and plunged through a stream of pedestrians.

One man was killed and another pedestrian was injured by the hurtling machine, which wrecked three store fronts before it came to a stop, injuring two other men who were seated at a counter in a restaurant.

The driver was the victim of a heart attack.

FILE PETITIONS FOR TIME VOTE; 486,178 SIGN

Petitions to place three questions of time for Chicago on the ballot in the Nov. 3 election were filed with the board of election commissioners yesterday by Mayor Kelly and Thomas D. Garry, who supervised the circulation of the petitions through the Cook county Democratic organization.

The petitions contained 486,178 names. According to Mr. Garry, 403,000 names, one-fourth of the number of qualified voters in the last election, were necessary to place the questions on the ballot.

The voters will be given a choice of permanent daylight saving time, now in effect in Chicago; summer daylight time, with central time in the remaining months of the year, and central time the year around.

Election board officials said that they will examine the petitions and order the questions placed on the ballot if they prove satisfactory.

[G]ERMANY BLASTS [R]EDS FOR SEIZING HITLERITE GIFTS

[Ne]w Attack Is Aimed at Moscow by Nazis.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[B]ERLIN, Sept. 3.—A new blast [aga]inst soviet Russia was unloosed [in] Germany today because Russian [offic]ials confiscated gifts Nazis had [sho]wered on Japanese visitors to the [Oly]mpic games. Headlines reading "[Re]d Railroad Robbers" and "Red [Plu]ndering Bandits" apeared in Nazi [new]spapers.

[G]ermans had presented official [Oly]mpic visitors and their wives with [an] assortment of frequently costly [sou]venirs, ranging from Olympic [...]e bells to daggers of honor. The [...]s were presented as favors at [ban]quets where the guests were [win]ed and dined lavishly.

Decorated with Swastika.

[Th]e Japanese were specially hon[ored] with daggers, medals, and [...]ks. Most of the gifts were dec[orat]ed with the Nazi swastika em[ble]m, which is as taboo in soviet [Rus]sia as the sickle and hammer is [in] Germany.

[W]hen the Japanese left for home [by] way of Siberia they encountered [sovi]et officers who confiscated part [of t]heir gifts. The Reds even seized [a p]hotograph Reichsfuehrer Hitler [had] autographed personally for a [...]io, alderman.

[C]onsiderable mystery shrouds the [acti]vities of Hitler and his lieuten[ant]s at Obersalzberv, where they are [pre]paring the program for next [wee]k's Nazi party caucus at Nurem[ber]g. However, several prominent [per]sons who visited Hitler have [eme]rged from the peaceful Bavarian [...]s to whisper that "the fuehrer is [wor]king on the formation of an anti-[bols]hevist front of European na[tion]s."

Hitler's plan deals with pacifica[tion] of eastern borders which will [ma]ke the talk of an eastern Locarno pact superfluous because it forecasts peaceful relations between Germany and all her direct eastern neighbors from Lithuania, Poland, and Czechoslovakia to Austria, Hungary and Jugo-Slavia," these persons said.

They added that Admiral Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungary, discussed details of the plan with Hitler on his recent visit to Germany.

Hitler's friends said the proposal for the "anti-bolshevist front" is framed in such a manner that Czechoslovakia could accept it despite its alliance with Russia, provided France has no objection.

Threaten to Mob Pastor.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—A threat to mob the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, former submarine commander, unless he halts his public opposition to the Nazi church policy is made in the official publication of the Nazi German Students' league.

The publication stresses that German youths "once before chased the devil, the war slacker Guenther Dehn." Prof. Dehn, a theologian, was forced out of Halle university by student riots in 1931. After condemning conditions in Spain the publication continues to address the Rev. Mr. Niemoeller as follows:

"We can assure you that we will knock down everybody who dares gnaw at our wall against the Jewish bolshevist Moloch."

GENEVA, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The proposal that Armistice day be turned into a fast day to promote peace was put forward tonight by the American delegation to the World Youth congress. Youth of the world acting in line with the proposal would go without food on Nov. 11 and devote the money saved to peace scholarships.

CANADA BALKS AT DEPORTING 3 JEWS TO BERLIN

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Sept. 3.—[Canadian Press.]—Pleas of three Jews against deportation to Germany, where they feared punitive measures would be invoked, possibly execution, were granted today.

The men, Chian Rosenberg, Bernhart Brenner, and Max Bleucher, had been detained here on charges of breaking immigration regulations They appeared in court and were dismissed when the charges were withdrawn by T. J. Wyatt, immigration inspector, acting under instructions from the department of immigration in Ottawa.

Rosenberg and Brenner were deported to the United States, while Bleucher will be sent to Palestine at his own request.

When Brenner and Rosenberg landed on United States soil they again were detained. They will face an immigration board in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

The men were arrested for illegal entry into Canada.

ENSILAGE GAS KILLS GIRL AND TWO RESCUERS

Poplar Springs, Mo., Sept. 3.—(AP)—A 9 year old girl who fell into an old ice house where green fodder was stored, her mother and an 18 year old girl seeking to rescue her all died today of asphyxiation by ensilage gas.

The dead were: Anna Richards; Mrs. Linda Richards, 30, her mother; Mary Sine, 18, who lived with the family.

The child lost her balance and tumbled down among the ensilage while she was playing hide and seek with Billy Hood, a neighbor's son. Poisonous gas given off by the fermenting ensilage asphyxiated her.

Billy ran to notify Mrs. Richards, who, with Miss Sine, rushed to the ice house and climbed down the ladder to where the child was lying unconscious. The fumes overcame both of them.

City of Rio de Janeiro Bares Embezzlements of $400,000

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BOY, 3, GETS CAR OUT OF GARAGE TO GO FOR RIDE

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Joseph Burke, 3, pleaded to "go for a ride" with an older brother, Edward, today.

"O. K., get out the car," Edward replied absently.

A few minutes later a startled mother, Mrs. Jerome J. Burke, saw the car—apparently driverless—backing out the driveway.

Edward sped to investigate.

Joseph was crouched under the dashboard, his foot on the starter. The car had been left in reverse gear.

(LINED WITH SUPER-CELANESE)

The alternating stripe is going to be one of the most important suit fashions this season. This new handling of the stripe idea has been derived directly from the showings of the custom tailors in London. The striped pattern is woven into the solid ground of the cloth in alternate colors, one of which is reasonably bright and the other subtle and subdued.

The total effect is extremely rich, unusual and in the best of taste. See these new Worsted-tex Suits.

NEW DEAL FORCE OF DESTRUCTION, GLENN ASSERTS

Carries G. O. P. Pledge to Farm Lands.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Sycamore, Ill., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—The New Deal was pictured today by Otis F. Glenn, Republican nominee for United States senator, as an agency of destruction as his caravan carried the Republican campaign over the farm lands and into the communities of La Salle, De Kalb, Kane, and McHenry counties.

The New Dealers, the former senator said, have assassinated the theory of state rights and embraced that of establishing a central governmental control in Washington. They believe, he said, in limiting production and making food more scarce, a program of tearing down.

Believe in Production.

"But our problem," said Mr. Glenn, "is not one of overproduction but of underconsumption. Many persons don't have enough of the good things of life. So the Republicans believe in a program of production and building up."

Inconsistencies of the New Dealers were pointed out by the speaker in Leland, De Kalb, Sycamore, St. Charles, Elgin, and Woodstock.

Mr. Glenn also leveled criticism against expenditures of the New Deal. He traced President Roosevelt's record as governor of New York state and to show that when he went into the presidency he was no "amateur" at spending the taxpayers' money.

Spends 190 Millions.

"When Mr. Roosevelt became governor of New York state," Mr. Glenn continued, "there were 100 millions in the state treasury. A short time later when he went to the White House he left behind as a heritage for his successor in the governor's chair a deficit of 90 millions.

"The President has talked of chasing the "money changers" from the temple. Yet he hasn't driven out two members of great banking houses, Henry Morgenthau, his secretary of the treasury, and Gov. Lehman of New York, whom he entreated to run again for governor.

"I agree with Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan that we had better drive the money spenders out of the temple before the temple vanishes."

Brooklyn Church Burns; Loss Placed at $400,000

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—The Central Presbyterian church in Brooklyn, largest church of its denomination in the east, was destroyed by fire tonight. The loss was estimated at more than $400,000. A three story building adjoining and belonging to the church also was destroyed. A group of thirty-five firemen who had been fighting the blaze from the roof of the brick church were ordered to the ground just a moment before the roof collapsed and the steeple toppled into the street.

75 ARTISTS, MODELS EJECTED FROM WPA ART PROJECT OFFICE

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—About seventy-five men and women, who said they were unemployed artists, models, and photographers, were ejected by the police tonight from the office of the federal art project of the WPA. After about sixty of them had spent the entire previous night on the floor or in chairs of various anterooms, as a protest over their failure to get jobs.

They had gone to the project office charging that Mrs. Audrey McMahon, head of the art project, had failed to live up to a promise to put them to work. Officials denied any such promise and told the group there were no jobs available.

As Mrs. McMahon prepared to go home at 7 p. m., she requested the group to leave. An hour later the superintendent of the building, V. H. Zabriskie, accompanied by two police officials, warned them that unless they left they would be forcibly ejected.

Passive resistance was the reply. An hour later they permitted themselves to be ushered into an elevator by policemen and left the building.

BROOKS ATTACKS LOSS OF LIBERTY UNDER NEW DEAL

Points to Dangers from Regimentation.

Belvidere, Ill., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Wayland Brooks, Republican nominee for governor, today attacked the plan of the New Deal to govern the lives of the American people, in a speech at the Boone County fair.

"The question whether we shall be a free people or turn our country over to a highly centralized authority with power over our daily life is the chief issue in this campaign," Brooks asserted.

Two Concepts Cited.

"Out of the misery and suffering of a people comes the fear that they cannot meet their problems or govern themselves.

"Two concepts of government have always been in conflict. One holds that men can govern themselves and solve the problems of their daily lives. That was the idea upon which our fathers founded this government.

"The New Deal holds that men cannot govern themselves, but that those in authority must decide what is best for them and plan their lives.

"Wherever this theory prevails the citizen becomes the subject of an all powerful state. He exists only to serve the state, and he and his children are regulated and regimented for its benefit."

Compares U. S. "Armies."

Earlier in the day, speaking as the honor guest at the Livingston county fair, Brooks drew a comparison between the standing army of the United States and the "sitting army" of New Deal pay rollers.

"The New Deal has built a vast political machine which must be defeated before it becomes permanently saddled on our people," he asserted. "The regular army, navy and marine corps totals 247,000. Federal employés, exclusive of CCC and like activities, total 846,000.

"The 'standing army' of the nation's defenders is less than one-third the size of the 'sitting army' of Washington pay rollers. During the last three years nearly 300,000 federal employés have been added to the national burocracy. A vast political machine is a threat to liberty."

The nominee also addressed a Republican rally at Pana today.

KILLED WHILE HE'S DYNAMITING STUMP ON FARM

South Wayne, Wis., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—William O. Johnson, 50, was killed today while dynamiting stumps on his farm in Wayne township, two miles northwest of here.

Johnson and his hired man, Frederick Krebs, had been blasting stumps all day using fuses to set off the charges. The charge which killed Johnson had failed to go off as anticipated and believing the fuse had failed Johnson went to the stump to investigate. The dynamite exploded when he stooped over, his head being struck by the stump.

Surviving are his widow, four sons and two daughters. Funeral services are expected to be held on Sunday.

GETS 5 YEARS ON DOPE CHARGE.

Roy Scott, 55 years old, was sentenced yesterday by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley to five years in Leavenworth penitentiary on his plea of guilty to charges of violation of the Harrison anti-narcotic act.

TAVERN PATRON GONE AND SO IS $3,000, SHE SAYS

Mrs. Emma Bainer, 45 years old, who, with her husband, Sylvester, runs a tavern at 3500 North Clark street, asked the police yesterday to seek a customer, Harry Skarupa, 40 years old, 2348 North Clark street. She said Skarupa had disappeared with $3,000 of her money.

"I planned to buy some stocks," Mrs. Bainer said. "I withdrew $1,800 from the bank and put it with $1,200 in tavern receipts. I was counting it in a back room when Skarupa ran in and shouted that there was a big accident out front.

"I ran out, but couldn't see any accident. When I returned Skarupa and the money were gone."

CONFESS 21 AUTO THEFTS.

Green Bay, Wis., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Arrest of two De Pere boys, aged 14 and 15, respectively, today solved the theft of twenty-one cars in Green Bay and De Pere within the last month. Capt. Clarence Grognet of the highway police said the boys made confessions.

EED SCARCITY IS CHARGED TO POLICY OF AAA

ats Cut Green with the Drouth at Hand.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Spe l.]—William Hard, radio commen or for the Republican national com ttee, declared tonight that Presi nt Roosevelt could have learned at Iowa conference of governors how s planners helped to make the routh scarcity" worse.

"The AAA this year," Hard said, ffered cash benefits to farmers if ey would plant oats, for instance, the midst of clover and then clip oats green and let them rot into soil for soil conserving purposes. e exact instructions of the AAA re that the oats 'must be clipped en enough to prevent grain for tion.'

Order Overlaps Drouth.

"These instructions continued in ce long after it had become appar t to observers in Iowa that drouth nditions would prevail in the Dako and that there would be a great ed of oats for the feeding of cattle the whole northwestern drouth ion.

"The consequence was that thou nds upon thousands of acres of oats Iowa were clipped green and left the ground and thus prevented m ever becoming available for cat feed on the northwestern drouth icken ranges."

Hard quoted state Senator A. G. aw of Pocahontas county, Iowa, as ving said:

"For weeks it was apparent that drouth was impending in north and uth Dakota which would leave the ople there without feed, and yet mowing of oats went forward day day until practically the whole onservation' acreage of oats had en destroyed for grain purposes. In county of Pocahontas alone this struction was accomplished on at st twenty thousand acres.

1,300 Bushels Lost.

"A specific illustration can be seen the case of Otto Stuhr at New urens, Ia.," Hard continued. "Mr. uhr clipped twenty-six acres of onservation' oats and left the lks on the field. Judged by the oductivity of his farm, this meant complete loss of thirteen hundred shels of oats for cattle feeding rposes in the Dakotas and Montana.

"A queer wrinkle in the 'conserva n' instructions regarding oats is be found in the provision that ipped' oats can be fed to cattle in field in which they were clipped t not elsewhere. The result of this ovision is described by William ppel, a farmer near Britt, Ia., as lows:

"'Us farmers who are operating der the soil erosion act are in a eer fix. Suppose I have a field of ts that I have got to clip. If I clip and throw the hay from it over the nce to my cows I couldn't be paid soil conservation. But if I take calves and lift them over the nce and let them eat the hay I uld get paid along about $15 an re. I think somebody in Washing n is just plain nuts.'"

Greets Bishop Back from Rome

Father Coughlin kneels to kiss the ring of Bishop Michael J. Gallagher of Detroit, who returned yesterday on the liner Rex after a visit to the Vatican. Both the radio priest and his bishop referred to Vatican criticism of Coughlin as unimportant. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

COUGHLIN AND HIS BISHOP DISCOUNT CRITIC'S THRUST

'Unimportant,' Gallagher Says on Return.

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin and his superior, Bishop Michael J. Gallagher of the Detroit Catholic diocese, joined today in dismissing as unimportant yesterday's criticism of Father Coughlin by Osservatore Romano, the Vatican's official orgrn.

Bishop Gallagher, returning from Rome aboard the Italian liner Rex, expressed his belief that "big financial interests are trying to put Father Coughlin out," and announced that "nothing had been done by the Vatican to restrain Father Coughlin from his radio broadcasts."

The bishop and Father Coughlin talked freely in a joint interview held in a small reception room aboard the Rex as it approached the pier. Father Coughlin and a group of friends went down the bay on a customs cutter and boarded the Rex at quarantine, where he found Bishop Gallagher on the promenade deck chatting with some passengers.

Father Coughlin immediately kneeled and kissed the bishop's ring.

"Well, how are you?" Bishop Gallagher inquired.

"I am fine, your grace, and how are you?" the priest replied.

Surrounded by reporters, Father Coughlin led the way to the reception room, where the bishop took a chair, and the priest posted himself directly behind. A score or more passengers crowded into the small room to hear the exchanges.

Bishop Gallagher answered questions freely, with occasional interruptions from Father Coughlin.

"The statements in the Osservatore Romano do not reflect the opinion of the Vatican; they are the reflection of the opinion of that paper," said Bishop Gallagher.

"The question of Father Coughlin was mentioned neither officially nor unofficially in my talks with the holy father. I had called Father Coughlin's attention to the impropriety of calling President Roosevelt a liar before I left for Europe and he apologized. The matter was never discussed with any Vatican officials unless I brought it up.

"This whole matter is dragged up for discussion because it is a presidential election year. Otherwise it would not be heard. Any one could see that the holy see did not approve of Father Coughlin's calling the President a liar, whether he deserved it or not. There are certain parts of Europe where they never heard of Father Coughlin."

LEMKE AND O'BRIEN PETITIONS ACCEPTED FOR PENNSYLVANIA

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 3.—(AP)—The Lemke-O'Brien nominating petitions were accepted today by the bureau of elections.

The acceptance will place on the ballots in the general elections the names of Representative William C. Lemke for president and Thomas C. O'Brien for vice president as candidates of the Royal Oak party, the Union party name having been preempted.

File Petitions in Ohio.

Columbus, O., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Ohio leaders of the Union party filed petitions with the secretary of state today seeking to qualify Representative William Lemke and Thomas C. O'Brien as independent candidates for president and vice president, respectively, on Ohio's November ballot.

25 ADDITIONAL PRECINCTS WILL VOTE ON LIQUOR

Petitions calling for wet and dry referendums in twenty-five precincts were filed yesterday with City Clerk Peter J. Brady. This makes a total of eighty-one precincts which will vote on the liquor question in the Nov. 3 election.

The voting will be largely in the Rogers Park and Hyde Park areas, although precincts in two wards on the far south side, the Eighth and Tenth, were included in yesterday's filing. The petitions came from the following precincts:

Fifth ward: 28th, 46th, 49th, 50th, 51st, 56th, 57th, 59th, and 61st. Sixth ward: 40th, 41st, 42d, 43d, 45th, 46th, 52d, 55th, 56th, 60th, and 61st. Eighth ward: 49th, 50th, 51st. Tenth ward: 13th and 14th precincts.

Your Lawn Needs New Seed NOW!

ALL lawns have suffered from the hot weather and drouth. Fine grasses are burned out and must be replaced by sowing new seed.

NOW IS THE TIME! Every day you wait shortens the precious interval before freezing, during which days are short, rains frequent, nights cool and everything favors grass growing. New grass plants must be well established before the ground freezes.

Vaughan's Chicago Parks Lawn Seed contains NO TIMOTHY. It is composed solely of Kentucky Blue Grass, Red Top, and White Clover, in a blend which 54 years' experience has proved best for midwestern lawns. Price, ½ lb., 30c; 1 lb., 50c; 5 lbs., $2.40.

3 Peonies for $1. One each of these outstanding named varieties: Felix Crousse, red; Mme. de Verneville, blush, rose fragrance; Jeanne d'Arc, pink salmon, yellow blend. A group of first quality.

Surprise Iris Collection, 12 for $1.00. 12 fine varieties, all different, in a rainbow of colors, labeled, for $1.00.

Evergreens, 75c. Well-grown plants of the following varieties which do best in the Chicago area: Colorado Spruce, Mugho Pine, Red Cedars, and American Arborvitaes. 75c to $1.50 and up.

ASSAIL CANADIAN CHEESE IMPORTS UNDER NEW DEAL

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Dumping of Canadian cheese into the home market of Wisconsin and Illinois dairy farmers is the subject of a folder, "A Political Eye-Opener," circulated by the Sheboygan county, Wis., Republican committee, which evoked interest yesterday at national G. O. P. headquarters here.

The circular is being put into the hands of every farmer in Sheboygan county by Charles Voight, county chairman. It calls attention to the arrival of imported cheese under the reciprocal trade agreement with Canada in the heart of the cheese belt.

U. S. Prices Forced Down.

"Carloads of Canadian cheese," it says, "were shipped into Plymouth, Wis., only a few days ago. Many more cars were shipped to Milwaukee, Green Bay, and other points. And this is not the whole story—Canadians dumped 3,983,002 pounds of their cheese into the United States up to July 1 this year as a result of the New Deal reciprocal trade agreement.

"Nor is this the end—United States buyers are still contracting for enormous quantities of Canadian cheese below American prices. Naturally, the offer of lower priced Canadian cheese forces down the prices of our own cheese. This foreign cheese is being stored by buyers and held in reserve so they may remain out of the market for our cheese, thereby lowering the market price.

"Foreign imports ruin American farmers. The total value of agricultural products imported into the United States during 1935 was $1,391,099,397. If we had raised these products at home it would have put 33 million acres to work; instead, the New Deal adopted the doctrin of scarcity, and plowed crops under, and killed millions of pigs and cattle. Can any one make sense of such a policy?

"We ask you—isn't it about time to put the foreign farmer out of the American market and give the American farmer the full benefit of his home market?"

G. O. P. Clubs Division Formed.

At national headquarters yesterday a clubs division was set up to establish Landon-Knox clubs in congressional districts, cities, towns, and villages. The action completes the special organizations of the national committee, which are now operating in more than a dozen specialized ways under Arthur M. Curtis, assistant chairman who is in charge of this branch of activities. The clubs division is under the charge of Earl Le Grant.

"These clubs," said Le Grant, "are out to organize American voters without respect to party to combat the unsound policies of the Roosevelt administration.

"The clubs will work in close cooperation with the national, state and other committees. They will begin immediately contacting voters to see that they register, helping other units of the Republican organization and generally serving as outposts for the battle against the New Deal."

Eugene Elliott Is Director.

Active director of the clubs division is Eugene M. Elliott, with Benjamin Getzoff as assistant. On the staf are Earl C. Jeffrey, advertising man, president, and James M. Dilley, in charge of publicity. Territorial directors include Thomas F. Sheridan, Frank H. Collins, Randolph G. Bishop, former field secretary of the American Legion endowment fund; Dan C. Laflin, and Joseph L. Moore. Headquarters have been established in the 310 South Michigan building.

U. S. LIBERTY IS REAL ISSUE IN CAMPAIGN, KNOX TELLS RALLY

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Col. Frank Knox, campaigning as Republican vice presidential nominee, tonight declared that "it is monstrous to talk about security when banks are swollen to the explosion point with government bonds."

"You do not get security under regimentation," Knox said in an address before a party rally here. "You lose everywhere."

He declared that "the real issue" in the campaign is the kind of federal government the nation is to have.

"One kind proposes to enter into every activity, interfere with every individual. It does not say 'please keep off the grass.' It says 'we'll grow the grass and if we think best, we will make you eat it. We have put that matter in the hands of Mr. Wallace or Mr. Tugwell or some other political accident.'"

BRITAIN TO PUT HOLY LAND UNDER MARTIAL LAW

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The 1st division of the British army, scattered in Sussex for its annual war maneuvers, was suddenly moved back to Aldershot today, and its twelve battalions, totaling about 15,000 men, may soon see real war.

The war office announced that the Sussex war games had been called off and that the 1st division would be moved as reënforcements to Palestine, which is to be put under martial law. This was decided at a cabinet meeting in Downing street today. Proclamation of martial law was expected momentarily.

Determine to Halt Riots.

This action was taken following yesterday's discussion by the cabinet of a report from the Palestine high commissioner, Sir Arthur Grenfell Wauchope, detailing new riots and clashes between Jews and Arabs.

Twelve British battalions already are stationed in Palestine. The stand of Downing street tonight was that the government was determined to suppress all disorder preliminary to sending out the Palestine commission next Monday to hear grievances of the Jews and Arabs. To establish sufficient order martial law is required, it was argued by Sir John Simon, home secretary, and Maj. William Ormsby-Gore, colonial secretary.

The war office is considering also sending units from the Fourth division to Palestine following reports from Jerusalem that three British soldiers were killed and three injured today in a battle with Arabs.

Deny Plan to Halt Immigration.

The reinforcements probably will consist mainly of infantry and armored cars, which, experience has shown, are best able to deal with a situation of this kind.

The declaration of martial law will necessitate the use of considerable bodies of troops, since virtually the whole administration will have to be taken over and the civil courts replaced with military tribunals.

Reports that the British government contemplated immediate suspension of Jewish immigration to Palestine if the Arabs would end their terrorist campaign were disposed of tonight by publication of a letter received by Dr. Chaim Weisemann, president of the Jewish agency for Palestine, from Maj. Ormsby-Gore.

The colonial secretary flatly denied that any such promise was made to Nuri Pasha, foreign minister of Iraq.

Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty, arrived at Haifa, Palestine, today to inspect naval units and consider naval defenses.

U. S. JOBHOLDERS CALLED HOME TO SIGN VOTE LIST

Illinoisians in Washington Returning Here Today.

Notified by election officials that they cannot be registered under the new permanent registration system unless they come to their Illinois homes, several hundred residents of the state now working in Washington, D. C., plan to leave there today on special trains.

These federal employés are residents of Chicago, the suburbs under jurisdiction of the Chicago election board, and of the nine downstate cities to which permanent registration also applies. They had hoped that a deputy registrar could be sent to Washington to take their registrations, but election authorities ruled that this could not, under the law, be done.

In some quarters is was reported that the Washington delegation had been given a ten day leave of absence in order to qualify as voters in their home cities.

Registration Office Jammed.

The central registration office of the Chicago election board on the third floor of the city hall was jammed again yesterday as voters registered in advance of the two precinct registration days, Sept. 19 and Oct. 6.

Mrs. W. W. Ramsey, chairman of the Nonpartisan Citizens' Committee on Registration, which is composed of members of organizations who were active in promoting passage of the permanent registration laws by the legislature, wwas optimistic over the city hall registration. She also called attention to the fact that on the precinct registration days officials in the poling places can register three persons at a time, much faster than under the old system.

Mrs. Ramsey said the nonpartisan committee has contacted several thousand civic organizations and service clubs asking them to urge their members to register as early as possible. In the loop, she said, the Building Managers' association has placed pamphlets in business offices explaining the simplicity of the registration process.

Filipino Turned Away.

Quintina Yumul, 5520 North Parkside avenue, a Filipino, attempted to register in the city hall yesterday, but was denied the right by Attorney Robert L. Taylor, on instructions of the election board. Taylor contended that the naturalization law forbids naturalization of any persons save those of the Caucasian race or those of African descent. Filipinos being members of the Malay race hence are barred, he contended.

Yumul contended that the federal constitution expressly provides that all persons born in the United States and in her territorial possessions are citizens and therefore have the right to vote. California and Illinois are the only two states denying Filipinos that right, he said. It was reported the case would be taken to the courts, perhaps under Democratic auspices. There are about 6,000 Filipinos in Chicago of voting age, Yumul said.

Vote Registration

The record of voters' registration in the election board offices on the third floor of the city hall follows:

Yesterday's registration	5,288
Previous registration	61,245
Total	66,533

MAYOR AND IGOE DISCUSS POLITICS WITH CUMMINGS

Returning to Washington from the funeral of Secretary of War Dern at Salt Lake City, United States Attorney General Homer S. Cummings yesterday spent several hours here in a discussion of the Illinois political situation with Mayor Kelly and District Attorney Michael L. Igoe. After being assured that the outlook was "rosy for Roosevelt," Mr. Cummings made an unsuccessful search for the house in which he was born, on Indiana avenue.

Mayor Kelly and Mr. Igoe sat with Cummings for nearly two hours at a luncheon table in the Chicago club. Later Cummings said the only subject of discussion was the food. Mayor Kelly, however, declared that politics was the topic.

"Long Talk" About Politics.

"I told the attorney general that things here are rosy for Roosevelt," the mayor said. "Then we had a long talk about politics here in general."

Mr. Cummings denied published reports that Igoe or Attorney General Otto Kerner of Illinois, has been chosen for appointment to the United States district court here. He said that such an appointment would follow the filling of two vacancies in the Circuit Court of Appeals, and that no action will be taken on this until the new congress convenes next January. One of the vacancies would probably be filled by appointment of a district court judge.

The attorney general dropped a hint that the federal government started a series of indictments for violations of anti-trust laws with its recent charges against oil industry officials. Admitting that the steel and milk industries are under scrutiny, he nevertheless refused to make any definite statement, saying: "Just keep your eyes open and your ears to the ground."

Hunts for Birthplace.

Accompanied by District Attorney Igoe, Mr. Cummings made a hurried search for his birthplace before boarding the Capitol Limited to return to Washington. He directed the chauffeur to drive south in Indiana avenue.

At three locations—near 27th, 28th, and 32d streets—he picked out two-story frame dwellings which he said were similar to the one in which he was born on April 30, 1870. He said he had the address and a photograph of the house at Washington.

Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper and Acting Secretary of the Navy William H. Standley, also returning from the Dern funeral, paid an unofficial visit to the Great Lakes naval training station yesterday.

COUPLE HURT IN CRASH.

CHARGES M. W. A. ATTACK IS WORK OF PENDERGAST

Hatzenbuhler Outlines Woodmen Case.

Carmi, Ill., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—George Hatzenbuhler, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, charged today that Tom Pendergast, boss of the Democratic political machine in Kansas City, Mo., was the instigator of the attacks on the insurance department of the Modern Woodmen of America, of which Hatzenbuhler is chairman of the board.

Hatzenbuhler appeared here on a campaign speaking tour. He had previously characterized the filing of a suit for accounting against the fraternal order as a political move and declared that it would not interfere with his campaign for election. Today he disclosed some of the background of the case.

Tells How Trouble Started.

The trouble with Pendergast started, he said, when the Missouri boss sponsored a bill in the legislature of that state which would have taxed all fraternal insurance companies 2 per cent of their net income. The Modern Woodmen, said to be the largest fraternal insurance organization in the world, led the fight which resulted in the defeat of the measure.

"Then," charged Hatzenbuhler, "the Missouri insurance commissioner announced that he was going to run all of the fraternal insurance organizations out of Missouri. He spent five months examining the books of our organization at our home office at Rock Island, Ill. The expense of this examination, under the law, was borne by the Woodmen.

Refuse to Attend Hearing.

"At the close of the examination, the commissioner gave us notice to appear at a hearing to determine whether we were to be allowed to do business in Missouri any longer. Inasmuch as he had made public statements before the hearing announcing his intention of putting us out of business in Missouri, the officers of the society refused to attend the hearing."

The society was barred from doing business in Missouri on July 26. Since that time Ernest Palmer, Illinois insurance commissioner, has issued a call for an examination of the society's insurance business by Illinois and seven other states, to start Tuesday at Rock Island. Palmer, in issuing the call, said that he disagreed with some of the findings of the Missouri insurance department.

Accounting Is Sought.

The latest move in the case was a bill for receivership and an accounting, against Hatzenbuhler and other officers of the society, filed Tuesday in the federal District court in Springfield, Ill., by three Missouri policy holders. Attorneys for the society, Sonnenschein, Berkson, Lautman, Levinson & Morse of Chicago, pointed out yesterday that under Illinois law a bill for receivership against an insurance company can be filed only by the attorney general, acting for the insurance commissioner.

The law, adopted two years ago, extends to insurance companies the same protection state banks always have had against being forced into receivership by private parties. While the state law is not binding on federal courts, they usually recognize such statutes under the principle of comity, Attorney David Levinson said.

WEATHER MAN MUST BE 87 PCT. CORRECT TO RETAIN HIS JOB

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Folks who pick up their newspapers and say, "H'mm—the weather man says fair—guess it's really going to rain," were rebuked today by officials batting averages of the forecasters.

Edgar B. Calvert, who keeps a constant check on the accuracy of the government's weather prophets, reported they are right 87 per cent of the time.

That is the average for the United States as a whole, said Calvert, chief of the weather bureau's forecast division.

Regional forecasts are made at Washington, Chicago, Jacksonville, Fla., New Orleans, Denver, and San Francisco.

Local weather men are permitted to alter the regional forecasts to fit local conditions, providing they maintain a high average of accuracy. "If the local station fails to improve the forecast, then this right is taken away," Calvert said.

When forecasters fail to come up to average on their predictions, Calvert said, they are transferred to record keeping or other work.

START INQUIRY ON CHILDREN IN WPA'S 'MACBETH'

Police Commissioner Allman said yesterday that he will order an investigation of reports that a number of small children are used in the production of "Macbeth" at the Great Northern theater under the auspices of the federal Works Progress administration. "We have been told that the use of children in the play violates child labor laws," the commissioner said. "If we find this to be true, we will take appropriate action against the producers of the play."

Yacht Club Closes Bar, but Plans Court Protest

The Columbia Yacht club has discontinued the sale of liquor, it was announced yesterday by Albert Bailey, steward, after the city's refusal on Wednesday to sell the club a license. Bailey said, however, that he will soon make a court protest, claiming that the clubhouse, a boat anchored at the foot of Randolph street, is under federal jurisdiction rather than municipal. The club operated last year without a city liquor license under the protection of a court ruling, Bailey said. The city refused to accept his offer to buy a license this year unless he also paid the license fee for last year.

TVA CHIEF URGES JUMPING HURDLE OF CONSTITUTION

Limits Curb Government, Asserts Morgan.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Contending that constitutional restrictions prevent the federal government from meeting many national and regional problems, Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the Tennessee Valley authority, today urged steps "to solve these difficulties."

This should be done, he said, by amending or interpreting the federal constitution, or by organizing interstate water control districts, or by compacts between the states.

The chairman of the New Deal's vast power development in the Tennessee valley expressed his views in a paper prepared for the forthcoming world conference of power experts here.

Project Called Uneconomic.

Conference officials also made public a paper in which Harrison G. Roby of the Byllesby Engineering and Management corporation attacked the Tennessee valley project as uneconomic and contended its power "is not cheap power."

Roby argued that "in the long run the net benefit to the power user and the taxpayer will be greater if the private companies are permitted, as formerly, to develop the power under proper government regulation and control."

Morgan, taking another view, said: "In general, it seems to be the considered judgment of European and American people that water control is a public and not a private function.

Wants "Nonpartisan" Control.

"In many factors driving toward public development of water resources it becomes imperative that their administration shall be nonpartisan, nonpolitical, businesslike, and technically efficient."

Roby contended that government power projects are "political in their nature" and cannot be held "to the hard, firm, unyielding demands of economic solvency."

Questioning TVA's value also as a flood control measure, he said: "The present program of TVA will permanently flood an area of land more than twice that covered during the highest flood in the history of the Tennessee river."

Sees Navigation Waterway.

Morgan asserted that "potentially the Tennessee river is a great waterway for navigation." He added:

"By building dams on its tributaries, assistance also can be given to flood control plans on the Ohio and the Mississippi rivers. More than that, the same works which are useful for navigation and flood control can be used to generate millions of kilowatts of electricity.

"Thus it is possible to plan an economical development of the Tennessee river system so that floods will be tamed, a great system of navigation made possible, and a vast amount of power made available."

TWO ASTORS APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT ON ESTATE TAXES

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—(AP)—John Jacob Astor and Waldorf Astor today appealed to the Supreme court in their effort to recover $5,405,428 of federal estate taxes paid on $46,421,545 of property left them by their father, William Waldorf Astor of Great Britain, who died in 1919.

The tribunal was asked to review the ruling of the second Circuit Court of Appeals that the tax was correct because it was on two trusts for his sons which he had created "in contemplation of death."

The trusts were made Aug. 15, 1919, with the Farmers' Loan and Trust company of New York as trustee.

FACE CONTEMPT CHARGES AFTER TRIMMING TREE

Judge Daniel P. Trude of the Circuit court yesterday ordered Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Schreiber, 1401 Sherwin avenue, to show cause before him on Sept. 10 why they should not be held in contempt of court for trimming the limbs of a tree overhanging their home.

The citation was obtained by Attorney Joseph E. Brunswick, receiver for a residence at 1331 Sherwin avenue, next door to the Schreiber home. He charged that the Schreibers trimmed sixteen branches from an oak tree which overhung their property, "disfiguring, damaging, and destroying" the tree and depreciating the property for which he is receiver to the extent of $500.

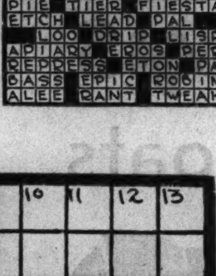
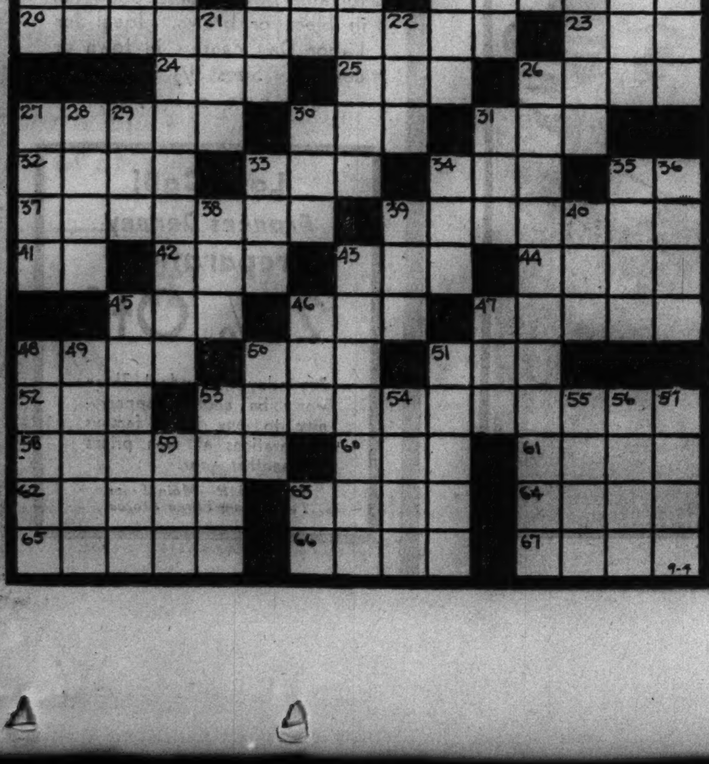
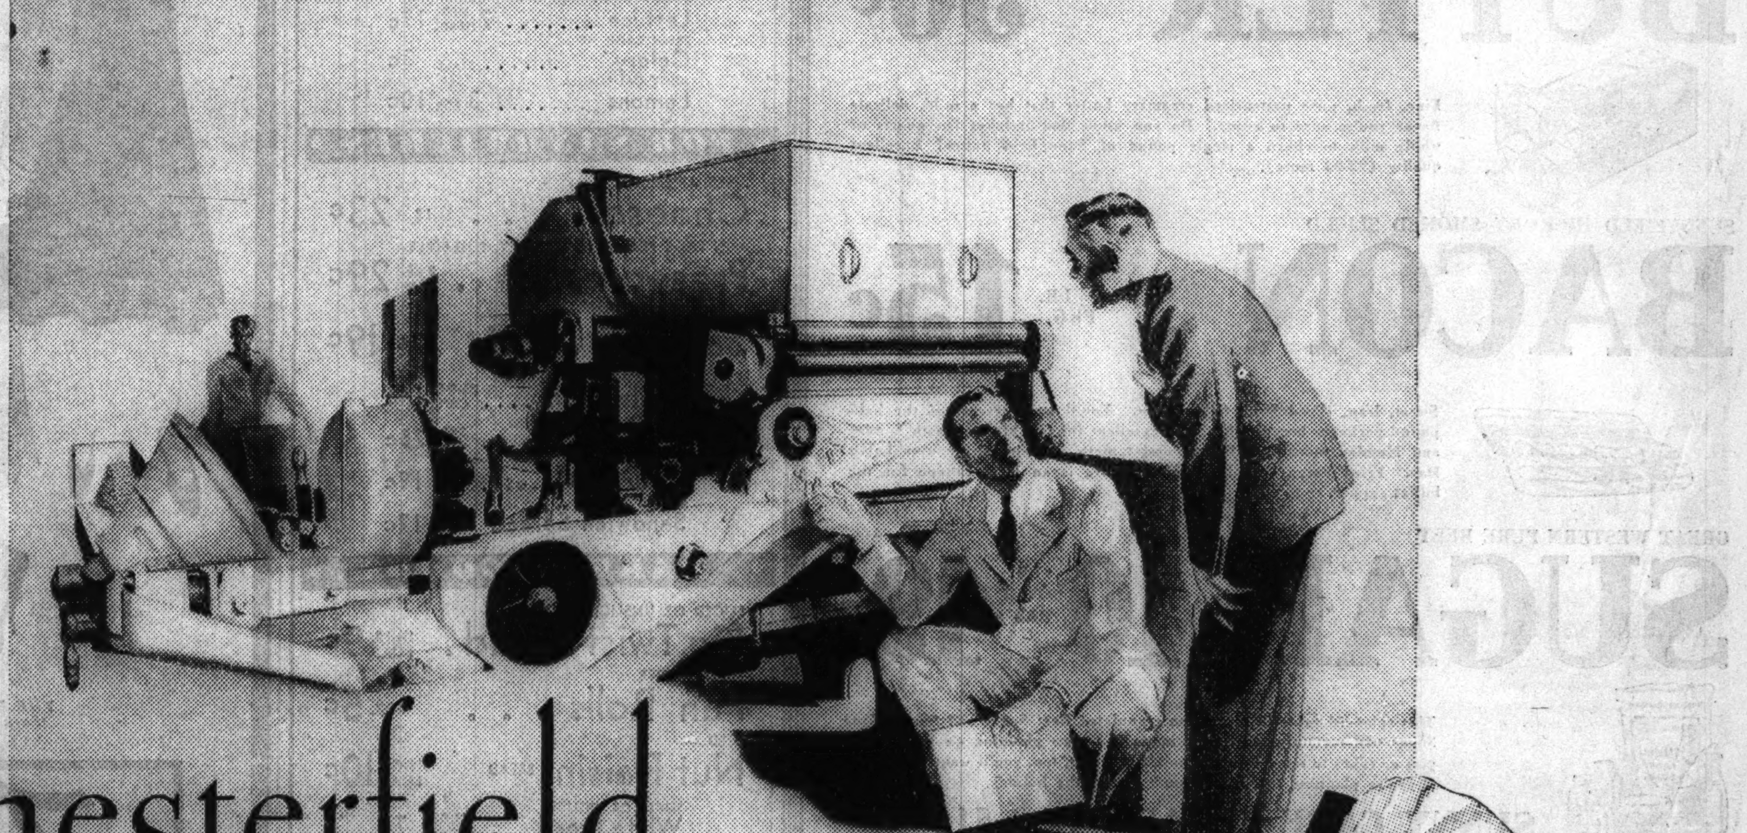
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED







Chesterfield Wins

...for uniformity

Why does every Chesterfield have the same taste . . . the same pleasing flavor and mildness.

Because we draw on not just one year's tobacco crop but crops of several different years to make sure that Chesterfield's quality never varies.

Every Chesterfield tastes just like every other Chesterfield—mild, not strong; always with a pleasing taste and aroma.

Chesterfields win because they're always the same...

MAYOR TO SEE ROOSEVELT ON RELIEF FUNDS

Departs by Auto Today for Springfield.

Mayor Kelly will depart for Springfield by automobile today to confer this afternoon with President Roosevelt on the possibility of getting additional relief funds for Chicago. Unable to sell warants against its new relief tax, the city lacks $650,000 for September relief needs.

"I hope to discuss our problem with both President Roosevelt and Gov. Horner," the mayor said.

Mayor to Give Details.

Mr. Kelly plans to point out the legal technicalities of the city's dilemma. The sale of the tax warants has been prevented by an opinion of the law firm of Chapman & Cutler, which questioned the constitutionality of the tax. Without the receipts from the warants, funds allocated by the state for Chicago relief are insufficient to carry the city's burden.

Estimates of the September shortage of $650,000 make allowance for the payment of rent in only 10 per cent of relief cases. Increasing the city's need for aid from some source is the appearance on the relief rolls of thousands of new cases this month.

Begun WPA Job Survey.

Meanwhile a $25,000 survey designed to make more Works Progress administration jobs available to those now on relief rolls will be begun early next week, it was announced by officials of the Illinois emergency relief commission. In sample areas of the state, WPA workers will be required to prove that WPA income is as essential to the support of their families as it was when they were taken from the relief rolls nearly a year ago.

The WPA will turn its pay roll records over to the IERC staf, which is being hired to make the special study. If results of this survey within thirty days support estimates that 10,000 to 20,000 undeserving persons are on WPA pay rolls in Illinois, the examination will be applied throughout the state, at a cost of about $150,000. The sample areas are the Chase park district in the northeast part of Chicago, the Decatur district, comprising Macon, Logan and De Witt counties, and the East St. Louis district, comprising St. Clair county.

ZOO ARRIVAL

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Several reptiles for the new aquatic exhibit at the Lincoln park zoo were delivered yesterday to Floyd S. Young, director. The shipment included several varieties of turtles, among them a sideneck tortoise and three hingeback tortoises, various crabs, and six African monitors, which are scaled lizards.

ONE MAN LEAGUE OF NATIONS WINS LIBERTY IN COURT

His demonstration that he could speak at least seven languages of the forty-eight he claims to know won dismissal on a charge of disorderly conduct yesterday for Morris Levin, 28 years old, 3132 South State street.

Levin told Judge Gibson E. Gorman of the Municipal court that he is a "Negro Arabian Jew" and was born in Jaffa, Palestine, the son of a rabbi. His father, he said, tutored him in languages, and he works when he can as a translator. He was arrested while loitering near his home.

Attorneys, litigants, and spectators in the court tested him in Gaelic, Polish, Italian, Hebrew, Hungarian, Albanian, and Bohemian, and he satisfied each of them that he was familiar with the language spoken. He fell down on classic Latin and Greek. Spectators in the courtroom took up a collection for him when he was discharged.

FOUND DEAD IN TOURIST CAMP.

Collinsville, Ill., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Erwin Reichert, 45, St. Louis, was found dead in a tourist camp cabin near here today. Madison county officers said they were told Reichert was beaten on the head in a fight last night, but was given medical attention. Two men and two women were being questioned.

ACT TO CUT SIZE OF CITY GRADE SCHOOL CLASSES

Reduction from 43 to 39 Is Step Toward Ideal.

A step toward reducing the number of pupils per teacher in Chicago's public grade schools will be taken when the fall term opens on Sept. 14. Enough teachers will have been added classes from 43 to 39, said Supt. William H. Johnson yesterday.

The step was taken in view of a survey of 270 schools in cities of more than 25,000, which showed that superintendents considered the ideal size of elementary classes to be 33 pupils. The actual size of each class in 429 similar cities is 38 per room. In Chicago, last year, the ratio of teacher to pupils ran as high as 1 to 50.

More Teachers Available.

"With the opening of school, Sept. 14, we will have fifty additional teachers to add to the regular staf of 8,000," Johnson said. "This increase, coupled with the decrease in elementary registration, due to the declining birth rate, will allow us to reduce the size of classes."

Another step toward increasing efficiency in elementary grade schools, special teachers will assemble all pupils having difficulty with their work.

"A personal chart will be maintained for every pupil and the difficulties will be recorded," said the superintendent. "Then the special teachers will attempt to adjust the trouble and send them back to regular class work. This will be in the form of an experiment this year."

In addition adjustments are to be made in the teaching stafs at the 330 elementary schools in an effort to place teachers where they will do the 320,000 children the most good. In underprivileged classes, where the number of pupils per teacher has been 39, the ratio will be reduced to 36, Johnson said.

Fights Overcrowding Classes.

In some classes, such as in music, a large number of pupils per teacher is desirable, but in spelling, history, and similar subjects overcrowding must be prevented, Johnson said. "Instead of letting children reach high school before learning to read properly, we intend to correct their faults early, thereby eliminating the need for remedial reading classes."

Recently the superintendent announced a reduction in the spread between the number of teachers and pupils in high schools. For the first time in several years the public high schools will average 30 pupils to each teacher as required by the North Central association. The average in high schools last year was 31.1.

Two Sons Named Sole Heirs Under Will of Fernekes

Two sons, Donald Carrington Darche, 13 years old, and Robert Darche, 16 years old, were named in Probate court yesterday as the sole legal heirs under the will of Henry [Midget] Fernekes, bank robber and killer, who committed suicide on Oct. 29, 1935, rather than return to Joliet penitentiary, from which he made a mysterious escape several months earlier. The two boys took the name of an uncle. They are the sons of Mrs. Jennie Hausner, 2724 Lehman court, who was Fernekes second wife. Her present husband, Benedict J. Hausner, is executor of Fernekes' estate, estimated at $8,500.

Name Technical Director for Old Age Pension Staf

Appointment of Wallace Clark, a member of the staf of the midwest office of the Red Cross in St. Louis, as technical supervisor of the Illinois old age pension organization was announced in Springfield yesterday by James H. Andrews, state pension superintendent. Clark formerly was associated with the United Charities in Chicago. He was employed at the request of the federal social security board, according to Supt. Andrews, who said two federal officials visited his office last week and discussed methods of "raising qualifications of employés in the state and county pension offices."

WITH ISO-VIS "D" YOUR OIL LEVEL STAYS UP AND YOUR OIL COST STAYS DOWN!

Tough? Sure, I'm tough. I've gotta be—and if you knew what goes on inside your engine when you're driving on hot summer days, you'd know why.

It gets hotter'n blazes in there—in fact, the temperature may jump up to 500° Fahr., which is plenty warm. Unless an oil is tough, it's bound to thin out under such heat. But not me! I can take it. Before I left the refinery, I was put through a special process which removed all sludge-forming, carbon-forming elements—that gave me all kinds of endurance. Just take a good look at me. Clean and pure, but I repeat—a TOUGH BABY!

ISO-VIS "D" THE LARGEST-SELLING PREMIUM-QUALITY MOTOR OIL IN THE MIDDLE WEST!

ISO-VIS "D" has won this wide popularity on merit. It is a clean, sound-bodied motor oil made to resist the terrific heat and punishment of long drives. It does not break down, wear out or form sludge. It does maintain a strong, tough film over all moving engine parts, protecting them from the destructive wear of friction.

Were it not for the road grit and other abrasive materials that sift into all crankcases, ISO-VIS "D" would last indefinitely. But these abrasives do get in. Hence, it is advisable to go to your Standard Dealer every 1,000 miles and have him drain, flush and refill the crankcase with ISO-VIS "D". He'll do this in less time than it takes you to walk around the block. The cost is small, the protection big!

M'DONALD PLANS MOVE FOR MEDAL TO RESCUE HERO

Seeks Treasury Award for Engineer.

Commander Eugene F. McDonald, Chicago sportsman, sent a radiogram to THE TRIBUNE yesterday announcing that on his return to Chicago from a yachting cruise he will lead a movement to gain suitable recognition for John Vallinga, 3007 Walnut street, who rescued a drowning woman from the Chicago river at Michigan avenue.

Commander McDonald, who is president of the Zenith Radio corporation, is on his yacht, Mizpah, in Lake Erie. He was a spectator early on the morning of March 8 when Miss Frances Pettyjohn, radio actress, leaped from the Michigan avenue bridge into the ice choked river.

First to Reach Woman.

Vallinga, a stationary engineer, swam out through the cakes of ice, reached Miss Pettyjohn, and started to the river bank with her. Edward J. Esbrook, radio man on the coast guard cuter Rush, then swam to his aid and assisted in taking Miss Pettyjohn to safety.

Esbrook was recently awarded the treasury department's silver medal for life saving, on the recommendation of his commanding officers, Capt. Le Roy Reinburg, commander of the Chicago division of the coast guard service, and Commander E. A. Coffin. Civilians are also eligible for this medal, and Commander McDonald said that he would gather affidavits supporting Vallinga's claim to one.

Coast Guard to Help.

The coast guard officers have also offered to assist in obtaining the affidavits necessary for the award of a medal for Vallinga. They explained that it was not in their province to make the original recommendation for such an award, since he is a civilian and not under their command.

Commander McDonald said that he believed Vallinga was also eligible for an award by the Carnegie hero fund, which annually distributes medals and in some cases monetary awards to persons engaged in any peaceful pursuit who have saved life. He will seek first to obtain a treasury medal for the engineer hero, he said.

Sudden Rise in Pollen Count Increases Suffering

A sudden rise occurred yesterday in the amount of ragweed pollen in Chicago air increasing the suffering of victims of hay fever. The count for the 24 hours ending at 5 p. m. yesterday was 191 grains of pollen per cubic yard of air, as compared with only 41 grains on Wednesday. O. C. Durham of the Abbott laboratories, which makes the count with the aid of the United States weather bureau, explained that during damp weather ragweed pollen continues to form but remains on the plant to be disseminated by returning dryness and winds.

Accused by His Daughter, Father Kills Self in Cell

Virgil McDonald, 39 years old, 13850 South La Salle street, Riverdale, a steel company laborer, hanged himself last night in his cell in the Marquette police station. He was arrested yesterday afternoon after his daughter, Phoebe, 13 years old, had accused him of raping her. As he was being taken to the state's attorney's office for questioning McDonald drew his pocket knife and slashed his throat. At the Bridewell hospital physicians found the wound was superficial and he was taken to the Marquette station.

BURGLAR SCARE KEEPS SUBURBAN LIGHTS BURNING

45 Police Press Hunt for Attacker.

Lights burned all night in many homes in Glenview, Niles Center, and Wilmette last night and many residents slept with weapons close to their beds, ready to face the burglar who has invaded at least seven dwellings in the last few weeks.

Meanwhile 45 policemen were cruising through the suburbs, including ten squads operating from the Morton Grove county highway police station and police of the state's attorney's office. They raided two hobo camps, one at Waukegan road and the Chicago Outer Belt Line in Techny, and the other on Lake avenue in Glenview. Twenty-eight men arrested in these raids were questioned at the Morton Grove station, then released.

Seek More Casuals Today.

Justice of the Peace Albert Sengstock of Des Plaines issued twenty vagrancy warants to be used in a roundup of other casuals which police said would start at dawn today.

As the search for the thief was intensified the condition of Herman Bosman, 28 years old, who was shot by the marauder in the Bosman home at Simpson street and Cicero avenue in Niles Center early Wednesday, was reported to be improved after an emergency operation in St. Francis hospital, Evanston.

Prowler Seen Only Twice.

Although the outlaw has made at least seven early morning visits to homes in the three suburbs, he was seen only once before his invasion of the Bosman home. That was in the home of Arthur A. Nolan, 910 Golf View road, Glenview. There the burglar, whose noise awoke Nolan, his wife, and their son, Arthur Jr., 13 years old, compelled the three to lie on the floor while he gathered up $34 and a few valuables and escaped.

Eight Years Old

Anthony Roppolo, 4237 North Springfield avenue, yesterday was proudly exhibiting to friends and neighbors a fig tree which has flourished in his back yard for the last eight years and for the first time has yielded more than fifty figs. The tree is 7 feet high. Roppolo explained that he protects it from the rigors of winter by carefully wrapping and covering it.

Here's Why the Wrigley Clock Is Acting So Funny

Persons in the habit of glancing at the clock on the Wrigley building tower at 400 North Michigan avenue were startled yesterday to discover that each of the four faces told different time. The building management explained that tuck pointing work is being done on the tower and that it was necessary to stop the hands on one dial, with the result that none of the others are correct. The clock will not be "right" until the tuck pointing has been completed.

MYSTERY DUST FOUND FLOATING IN MILKY WAY

Particles Unlike Anything Known on Earth.

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 3.—(AP)—A mysterious new dust, unlike anything known on earth, discovered floating between the stars in the Milky Way, was reported at the Harvard tercentenary today in a session of the American Astronomical society.

The dust, reported by Paul W. Merrill and O. C. Wilson of Mount Wilson observatory, is part of the dust in the Milky Way which is visible to the naked eye as the dark patches.

Dr. Merrill, examining these patches with the spectroscope, found that some of the particles absorb light in a way wholly new to scientists.

Unable to Explain Cause.

He said he was unable to give an explanation of the cause. Astronomers are reluctant, it was announced by the society, to believe that this dust is some chemical element unknown on earth. Instead, they think it is some familiar stuff in a peculiar physical state unknown and probably not existing on earth.

In a study of music, which shared with astronomy the fourth day of Harvard's celebration of its founding, "reverence for the classics" was held to be a "nuisance," and music was declared the starting point of the recently attained national independence of several European nations.

Unsettling, Says Professor.

Dr. Edward Joseph Dent, professor of music, Cambridge university, said that music has become almost a religion, or a substitute for religion.

"A modern doctrin," he continued, "which in these days is becoming something of a nuisance, is 'reverence for the classics.'

"To persons of taste all this musical antiquarianism is dangerous and unsettling. It is not surprising that some of the younger generation, as well as one or two of the older, are inclined to throw the classics and all old music overboard."

Tells Effect on Nations.

Concerning music's effect on nations, he said: "Consider what has happened in Europe during recent years; a number of new states have been formed and a number of small nations have obtained new independence.

"In almost every case the movement toward independence has been initiated by men of learning who collected and wrote down the songs and legends of the peasant classes."

PROBATION FOLLOWS QUARREL.

James M. Loving, 48 years old, 4329 West End avenue, arrested after a quarrel with his neighbor over a rubbish heap, was placed on six months probation yesterday by Judge Nuncio J. Bonelli in Fillmore Street court.

THE BUILDING CODE.

Every one is agreed that Chicago's building code should have been revised at least ten years ago. Since it was written new materials and new methods of construction have been devised. Improvements in design have been worked out by architects, which increase the efficiency and safety of buildings. Many of the new materials and designs present technical violations of the existing code. In so far as the law is observed it serves as a bar to improvements in the appearance of the city, keeps rents needlessly high and in some instances actually adds to the hazards of life.

Skeleton steel fire escapes on exterior walls of buildings will serve as an example. The use of fire escapes of this sort should be forbidden. They are at once unsightly and unsafe. They can easily become rotten with rust. At best, escape by means of them must be needlessly slow because people generally are unaccustomed to openwork stairs. Uninclosed fire escapes afford scant protection against flames shooting from windows. In a high wind and especially on cold days when the stairs are covered with ice these so-called fire escapes present a hazard almost as great as that of fire itself.

Architects have long recognized the superiority of fire stairs inclosed within the outer walls, but separated from the main part of the building by fire walls. Fire escapes of this sort are not unsightly and they are vastly safer. The present building code discourages their use and actually encourages the use of the other type.

Committees of architects, engineers and contractors have worked for years upon a revision of the law and have prepared a draft of a new ordinance. This draft has been knocking about the city hall for months, with little or no action by the city council.

This inaction can be explained. An obsolete code is politically useful. It enables public officials to do favors and exact rewards. Because the code is out of date a very large number of new buildings violate it. There was a thriving trade in permissions to violate during the last building boom and no doubt there are those who expect the trade to be revived as building operations increase.

BOOMERANGS.

It is no secret that the New Deal campaign managers are disappointed in the results achieved by Mr. Roosevelt on his recent campaign tours. He has not clicked. The reasons are plain enough.

His first mistake lay in his insistence that he was not campaigning for votes but rather investigating the ravages of flood and drouth. The public response to this hokum was clearly indicated at Cleveland. Mr. Roosevelt started his speech at a luncheon there by saying his visit was in no sense political. Just at that moment a waiter dropped a tray of dishes with an enormous clatter. The audience roared with laughter at the aptness of the unspoken reply.

Mr. Roosevelt did not succeed wholly in concealing his irritation, but he seems to have learned nothing from the incident. At Chautauqua he had the temerity to mention his experiences at the front in France. He hated war, he said, because he had seen it in all its fury. His remark served only to remind his countrymen that Mr. Roosevelt, though of combatant age in 1917, chose not to be a combatant. As assistant secretary of the navy he occupied a swivel chair in Washington and such glimpses as he may have caught of the front were obtained on personally conducted tours where his safety was always a first consideration.

Mr. Roosevelt preferred to remain in Washington in 1917 and he would have preferred to remain there in 1936. He was driven to make his recent campaign tours by the growing popularity of Gov. Landon. Mr. Landon's strongest appeal to the voters is his attack upon Mr. Roosevelt's wasting of the taxpayers' money. By way of reply Mr. Roosevelt said in a speech the other day that he would always spend a million to save ten million.

This was his third blunder. It was a reminder that he hadn't saved anything, any time. He was a squanderer as governor of New York and he has been an unparalleled squanderer as President of the United States. When his term is concluded he will have spent close to 30 billion dollars. Ten times 30 billion is 300 billion. Where has Mr. Roosevelt hidden all that money?

THE SHAKEDOWN.

Two young adventurers, hailing from California, decided on a vacation automobile tour to New York. Perhaps they dallied too long on Broadway, but in any event their resources had dwindled to five dollars in currency on their return to the Chicago area. Necessarily, they were in a hurry and were stepping along a bit near Barrington when they encountered Highway Policeman Moehling, who accused them of speeding, but offered to forget the offense for a consideration—the five dollar bill. Later the lads explained their predicament to Chief Laird and the grafting copper lost the five spot as well as his job.

While the infraction of law should not be condoned, it seems a pity that the elimination of a weekly pay check is the only punishment suffered by the officer. Commercial employés are discharged for failures in the line of duty, but debauching the position of public guardian is something else. Jailing might help, but it is altogether too bad that rail riding and tar and feathers are no longer in fashion. It is just such fellows as Moehling that increase the difficulties of highway patrol tenfold by creating a public antagonism toward motorcycle policemen.

POLITICAL SAND BARS.

Government stupidity is proverbial, but when its minions insist on drying up a waterway on which city, state and federal funds have been lavished somebody high in command is obviously directing the folly. If the shallowness of the Illinois waterway resulted from drouth conditions or other natural phenomena there would be no cause for complaint, but an unlimited supply of water may be secured from Lake Michigan by merely opening the gates.

The reason given for holding the Lockport diversion to a minimum shows a tendency to grasp for excuses. The rivers and harbors act which provided for dams in the waterway states that "The water authorized at Lockport, Illinois, by the decree of the Supreme court . . . is hereby authorized to be used for the navigation of said waterway." The truism that the Supreme court never decides questions not before it and the fact that the canal was not at the time finished are ignored.

Far more to the point is the provision in the act "That as soon as practicable after the Illinois waterway shall have been completed . . . the secretary of war shall cause a study of the amount of water that will be required as an annual flow to meet the needs of a commercially useful waterway." Congress did not set a limit on the war department. If so, there would be no necessity for an investigation.

Politics is only interested in spending the money to make waterways, not in navigation after they are finished.

TRANSLATION ENGLISH.

The translation by the Associated Press of the Osservatore Romano's comments on the activities of Father Coughlin reads in part:

"The holy see wishes to respect all liberties and all conveniences."

And, at another point:

"The inconvenience is greater as well as more evident when the speaker is a priest."

These sentences as they stand make a good deal less than no sense at all. The fault lies with the translator. The Italian word convenienza [like the related French word convenance] can mean convenience but more generally means propriety. That is what the writer in the Osservatore meant when he used the word. The translator's carelessness made gibberish of the quotations.

The Romance languages are full of pitfalls for the translator. A large proportion of the longer words of Latin origin translate accurately into their English cognates, but some, like convenienza do not. Again, some of them, like the French subvention, translate accurately into English as subvention, but the English word happens to be one which is unfamiliar to many readers who would have no difficulty if the common word, subsidy, were used.

Word-by-word translations from the French tend to be pedantic. Similar translations from Spanish and Italian generally sound bombastic, and not infrequently they become senseless. Cable editors may safely assume that Frenchmen, Italians and Spaniards, though frequently misguided, are neither pedants nor idiots. When translations make no sense it was not because the original writer or speaker didn't know what he was trying to say.

Editorial of the Day

AT THE MERCY OF WARMAKERS.

[Tulsa (Okla.) Tribune.]

In a cartoon a day or two ago was a quotation from President Roosevelt's recent speech at Chautauqua, N. Y. "Permanent friendships between nations as between men," he said, "can only be sustained by scrupulous respect for the pledged word." The cartoonist recalled that President Roosevelt has broken every promise made in the 1932 Democratic platform, except the prohibition repeal promise, and asked, "What can he mean?"

A pledge from Franklin D. Roosevelt to keep the United States out of the communist-Fascist row that threatens to involve all Europe in war would not be worth one thin dime if he were reëlected with the support of the men who have persuaded him to break his 1932 promises.

Rexford Guy Tugwell is the brains of the New Deal. Speaking before the Democratic state central committee of California a few months ago he urged farmers and workers to arise and "crush the enemy." That is the communistic battle cry.

Earlier, discussing the farm problem, Prof. Tugwell said, "Planning will necessarily become a function of the federal government . . . or the planning agencies will supersede that government."

Prof. Tugwell's AAA planning board, which planned destruction of the so-called farm surplus and paved the way for wholesale food imports, now has its hands tied with a Supreme court decision holding that the government has no right to tell farmers when, what, and how much to plant. The AAA is struggling along with a "soil conservation" program for crop planning. If President Roosevelt is reëlected, is it not reasonable to expect Tugwell and other would-be planners to insist that the planning board be allowed to supersede the Supreme court, congress, and even the people's ballot, which is a part of the government?

"Business will logically be required to disappear," Prof. Tugwell continued. "The future is becoming visible in Russia . . . perhaps our statesmen will give way or be more or less gently removed."

Russian statesmen, hated capitalists, scientists, professional men, kulaks, or independent farmers who objected to confiscation of their farms by the communist party, and all other "counter-revolutionary enemies," were gently removed by being backed up against stone walls and pumped full of lead, or by being shipped off to the mines of Siberia.

But, the New Deal defender may reply, Prof. Tugwell has repeatedly said that he does not believe in force. That is true. He has said "the revolution" should be effected in an orderly manner. But the zealot is usually lacking in self-control.

HIS LOGIC.

Teacher—Robert, give me an example of returning good for evil.

Bobby—We shouldn't try to kill time just because we know time is going to kill us.—Chesterton, Ind., Tribune.

IN ARDEN WOODS.

In Arden woods the lovers walk no more,
And feet that danced have now long years been still.
But I have heard sweet Rosalind's gay laughter,
And young Orlando calling from a hill.
On summer nights, when nightingales are singing,
And glowing willows flutter in the breeze,
I've heard the echoes ripple back with laughter,
And seen white shadows dance among the trees.

In Arden woods there never can be silence,
Where two once loved. What if their hearts are dust?
The words they spoke shall ever echo onward,
And find an answer, as all beauty must!

One of old Jim Flood's favorite stories concerned the return of Katie Curlett to a state of grace. The Curletts, in Jim's youth, formed one of the most important clans in Hometown, and Katie's father was the third strongest pillar in the Baptist church. It was, therefore, rather surprising that Katie, after a year in boarding school and much reading of books, developed a mild case of agnosticism. Although this gave her an air of conscious superiority, the God fearing young folk still included her in their social gatherings. It was a hayride that furnished the stage setting for Jim's story.

"We were all goin' along singin' in the moonlight," he said, "when the off hoss seen a piece of paper fly by and made a bust for it. The nigh hoss, not wantin' to miss anything, joined in, and in no time they were goin' lickety split up the road. It looked bad and we were all mighty scared. Katie grabbed aholt of me and commenced one of them Ingersoll prayers. 'O God,' she hollered, 'if there be a God, have mercy on my soul, if I have a soul!' Maybe it helped. I don't know. But the driver pulled the hosses down and nobody got hurt. After that Katie went back to the Baptist church and finally married Brother Gibbs, a preacher from over in Cherokee county."

THE POINT OF VIEW.

Down in College Corner, O., about 1890, old man Vereker drove his horse (buggy attached) on a railroad crossing about the time a fast mail train arrived. The buggy was smashed to bits, but the driver was tossed aside unhurt. A bystander helped him to his feet and said: "Mr. Vereker, you certainly were lucky." The old man snorted, "Lucky! Look at my buggy all smashed to hell."

Under the marble-grey of clouds, their wings
Beat restlessly as if to find a place

Can crash to earth. What more can one expect
Who claims a castle made alone of sand?

WHEN BACTERIA INVADE THE HEART.

WHEN bacteria find their way into the water mains of a city—or into its milk supply—disease is likely to follow. The nature of the epidemic will depend upon the type of the invading organisms. If their source is stopped new cases will cease to appear. Fortunately, we have means of protecting both water and milk; the former by adding chlorine at the pumps and the latter by pasteurization.

But the situation is quite different when microbes flourish in the blood, for we cannot sterilize that vital fluid. In the presence of an infection, some bacteria filter into the circulation. But they do not remain there long. Fighting forces that kill and destroy these microscopic enemies of life become active, and when recovery takes place we know that the disease has capitulated—that the skulking hordes of those hostile to health have been killed.

But once in a while nests of streptococci or other organisms will be able to establish themselves where they can live contentedly. Now and then the tip of the root of a tooth or a pocket in a nasal sinus will protect them for a time, but sooner or later they will be ferreted out and removed.

The chief danger spot to human life is the lining of the heart [endocardium]. This location is favorable for the rapid reproduction of bacteria and unfavorable for healing, although recovery does occur in a few instances. Tiny colonies may hide beneath the thin heart lining where they cannot be reached effectively by the germ destroying properties of the blood, nor by any antiseptic circulating in it. Miniature volcanoes thus discharge microbes into circulation.

The disease is known as chronic or subacute bacterial endocarditis. At its onset the patient will exhibit no symptoms that can be traced to the heart. Lassitude may be increasingly evident, however, and sooner or later the temperature will rise, with the high point at about 102 degrees Fahrenheit. Occasionally the fever will drop to normal and remain there for many hours—even two or three days—only to resume its up and down character. Minute skin hemorrhages appear and not infrequently a blood vessel in the spleen, a kidney, or the lungs may become plugged.

There is at present no possibility that the surgeon can reach the seat of the infection. Therefore, the only method of attack besides raising resistance to the level where the disease can be overcome is the use of radium and X-ray, which has been advocated recently.

Lord Horder reports one case in which X-ray apparently brought about recovery. In illustrating the use of radium he tells of a young woman who gave all the clinical signs of bacterial endocarditis with severe anemia. Streptococci were found in the blood. She was treated with a radium bomb at four different sessions. The fever subsided, the blood cells returned to normal, and the patient left the hospital after an illness which had continued for five and one-half months.

He refers to an additional case—that of a young woman whose heart became infected following the extraction of a diseased tooth. She received numerous blood transfusions from her husband, who had been inoculated with large doses of streptococci vaccine made from organisms recovered from the patient's blood. Despite the strikingly favorable outcome in this instance, Horder favors the use of X-ray or radium directed to the infected area as accurately as possible.

Of course, prevention is of the greatest importance. This means at all times careful attention to the hygiene of the mouth, nose, and throat in well individuals, the procedure scrupulously enforced with those who are known to have heart valve defects. It is believed that slight sepsis in the tonsils and teeth that might be disregarded in normal individuals should be removed thoroughly in all who are known to possess damaged hearts. In fact, the plan applies to collections of pus wherever they may exist.

Again, it must be emphasized that fatigue [lowered resistance] paves the way for chronic illness. Too often the occupation is resumed long before the forces of healing have restored the power of the body. This applies particularly to such acute infections as tonsilitis, quinsy sore throat, and influenza.

CRACKED LIPS.

G. F. S. observes that slight cracks at the corner of the mouth [cracked lips] are sometimes the result of tiny razor cuts.

REPLY.

Probably true in some cases. Using a 20 to 30 per cent alcohol solution after shaving will help such lesions. If an antiseptic lotion is used care should be taken not to permit it to enter the mouth. A sterile cold cream is of value in softening the skin and preventing excessive drying.

CARE OF HAIR.

E. R. B. writes: In your article on the care of the hair you failed to mention the touching up process with sage tea and walnut juice.

REPLY.

These are well known and favorite household shade modifiers. Tea leaves are also employed. The active principle is tannin, which darkens the hair.

NO LUCK!

DAY BY DAY IN THE MAKING OF THE CONSTITUTION

BY JAMES MADISON

[Father of the Constitution and Fourth President of the United States.]

A Subject Greatly Dividing the House.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 4, 1787.—In convention. Mr. Brearley from the committee of eleven made a further partial report as follows [the part of the report as to the presidency has been given in the article of Sept. 2. On the remainder of the report]: Mr. Gorham of Massachusetts disapproved of making the next highest after the President the Vice President without referring the decision to the senate in case the next highest should have less than a majority of votes. As the regulation stands a very obscure man with very few votes may arrive at that appointment. Mr. Sherman said the object of this clause of the report of the committee was to get rid of the ineligibility which was attached to the mode of election by the legislature and to render the executive independent of the legislature. As the choice of the President was to be made out of the five highest, obscure characters were sufficiently guarded against in that case and he had no objection to requiring the Vice President to be chosen in like manner where the choice was not decided by a majority in the first instance.

Mr. Madison was apprehensive that by requiring both the President and Vice President to be chosen out of the five highest candidates the attention of the electors would be turned too much to making candidates instead of giving their votes in order to a definitive choice. Should this turn be given to the business the election would in fact be consigned to the senate altogether. Mr. Randolph of Virginia and Mr. Pinckney of South Carolina wished for a particular explanation and discussion of the reasons for changing the mode of electing the executive. Mr. Gouverneur Morris of Pennsylvania said he would give the reasons of the committee and his own. The first was the danger of intrigue and faction if the appointment should be made by the legislature. Second, the inconveniency of an ineligibility required by that mode in order to lessen its evils. Third, the difficulty of establishing a court of impeachment other than the senate which would not be so proper for the trial nor the other branch for the impeachment of the President if appointed by the legislature. Fourth, nobody had appeared to be satisfied by an appointment by the legislature. Fifth, many were anxious even for an immediate choice by the people. Sixth, the indispensable necessity of making the executive independent of the legislature.

Col. Mason of Virginia confessed that the plan of the committee had removed some capital objections, particularly the danger of cabal and corruption. It was liable, however, to this strong objection that nineteen times in twenty the President would be chosen by the senate, an improper body for the purpose. Mr. Wilson of Pennsylvania: This subject has greatly divided the house and will also divide people out of doors. It is in truth the most difficult of all on which we have had to decide. He had never made up an opinion on it entirely to his satisfaction.

The further consideration of the report was postponed that each member might take a copy of the remainder of it.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

THE VOICE OF THE INSURED.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—You should be commended for the front page editorial today, relative to life insurance. Every insurance policy holder should read this. I, personally, think the Republican national committee should have millions and millions of copies of this printed and put in the hands of the voters just a few days before the election. Unfortunately, the very people who will be hurt the worst in the event of Mr. Roosevelt's reëlection are the ones who are going to vote for him. It is pathetic that the electorate is so indifferent, or better said, ignorant of the dynamite that Mr. Roosevelt's reëlection carries.

Again I want to commend you for your fearlessness in publishing articles on "this gang in Washington." You have published other front page editorials in the past which have been to the point, and I sincerely trust that you will continue to print such editorials from now until election.

Frank M. Phifer.

WOLF! WOLF!

Chicago, Aug. 31.—The front page editorial captioned "Are You Paying Life Insurance Premiums?" is a gross insult to the intelligence of the American people. It is also the most dastardly attempt to motivate fear in the minds of America's citizenry to which the press has thus far resorted and, therefore, it should not go unchallenged.

Suppose those who own life insurance ceased to pay their premiums and hoarded their money instead, or invested it elsewhere, would they be better off if and when the crackup to which the editorial alludes comes? Would their hoarded dollars, or those invested in any other commodity, buy more than would their life insurance dollars?

If the millions now owning life insurance permitted their policies to lapse, imagine their situation when, after this cry of "Wolf! Wolf!" has been proved to be but political propaganda, thousands find themselves unable to reinstate their policies because of uninsurability. Has the editor thought of that, or does he give a hoot about it?

Old line legal reserve life insurance is the soundest and the only guaranteed investment known. The institution of life insurance is the only one to weather the storms of every depression and come through with colors flying. Words are inadequate to describe one who solely for political purposes attempts to discourage the people from reaping its benefits.

America's people constitute its government. There need be no fear of whomever the people elect to service in Washington putting the government on the rocks. American dollars will continue to be the world's best money regardless of the political affiliations of the man in the White House or his helpers. You may lay to that.

R. C. Forbes.

THE FULL DINNER PAIL.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Just a year ago today you published an Orr cartoon entitled "Reviving an Old Campaign Slogan." The picture is of a workingman holding a dinner pail full of processing taxes.

The working people are being kidded into thinking they are not paying for this New Deal, but with the cost of living rising I believe the use could be made of this cartoon by the Republican campaign committee. I would like to see a million copies printed and broadcast.

I, too, want to save our country and hope this suggestion may be worth something.

OBNOXIOUS FUMES.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—[Friend of the People.]—We are suffering considerable discomfort from acid fumes which are vented directly into the open air and spread by the wind for hundreds of feet throughout the neighborhood from a tinning establishment on our street.

Numerous complaints to the owners have brought no relief and repeated calls to the city officials have not brought any action to remedy this condition. Could you advise the necessary steps which can be taken to remedy this condition?

J. H.

Several inspections have been made regarding the operation of this plant, and within the past week the following notice was served: "Abate neighborhood nuisance of fumes and odors." Promise has been given to the board of health that the nuisance will be stopped. The matter will be followed up until a satisfactory abatement has been obtained.

MERCY AVIATOR, FIVE PASSENGERS KILLED IN CRASH

Bodies Are Removed from Alaskan Ridge.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Bodies of six persons killed in the wreck of Pilot Steve Mills' airplane were flown to Seward late today after their removal from the top of a 2,000 foot ridge near Skilak lake, 60 miles south of here.

The victims, four men and two women who left Anchorage on a fishing trip Sunday morning, will be removed here by plane later.

Mills, former Seattle flying instructor, at the controls when his ship struck the ridge, was crushed between the motor and the pilot's seat.

Worst Alaskan Air Tragedy.

In loss of life it was the worst Alaskan airplane tragedy on record.

The plane was sighted from the air yesterday, a four mile hike from the nearest landing place. Flyers said the motor had thrust itself back into the fuselage and that the pontoons were smashed.

Cause of the tragedy was undetermined from the air, but it was known thick weather shrouded the district when Mills hopped Sunday to take his five passengers on a fishing jaunt.

The passengers, all of Anchorage, were Mr. and Mrs. George Markle, parents of 10 year old Lou Ann Markle, patient in a Portland, Ore., hospital; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Davis, and Augustus Teich. Teich and David were barbers. Markle was an Alaska railroad employé.

Mills, widely known Alaskan "mercy flyer," leaves a widow and two children here.

Other Bodies Recovered.

The tragedy occurred while rescuers were recovering the remains of four persons who burned to death in the crash of a plane between Fairbanks and Dawson more than a year ago. The wreckage was found only recently.

Led by Elmer Simco, veteran Kenai peninsula trapper and prospector, a rescue party established a base camp at a small lake near Skilak lake. They operated from there today with the help of nine woodsmen.

Miss Markle was informed of the tragedy tonight by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Hayssen, who said they will care for her after she recovers.

Police Warn Motorists to Get O. K. on Cars

Police began issuing warning notices yesterday to motorists who have not had their cars approved under the city's compulsory vehicle inspection law. The notices, made out in duplicate and bearing the license number, warn the owners that unless they have their cars inspected immediately they will be subject to fines ranging from $1 to $100. According to Edward J. Gorman, deputy city vehicle commissioner, the notices will be issued as long as the inspection lanes remain crowded. After that arrest slips will be given.

Operate on John Brennan of Civil Service Board

John E. Brennan, 1128 North Shore avenue, a member of the city civil service commission, underwent an operation for a gall bladder ailment at the John B. Murphy hospital yesterday. Dr. A. Cosmas Garvy, who performed the operation, said Mr. Brennan's condition was satisfactory.

SCHOOL BOARD DEFIES PUFFER IN HUGGING ROW

"Charles O'Hearn is positively coming back to Union Ridge school as principal," Herman Russeau, president of the trustees of the school, which is in Norwood Park township, said yesterday.

Mr. O'Hearn was involved in charges made last month by three women teachers at the school that he had hugged them.

Later the three modified their charges and 200 residents of the suburb held a massmeeting to vote confidence in Mr. O'Hearn. Despite this, however, Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, stated he would not give the principal a certificate to teach at Union Ridge unless the three teachers who were dropped on a technicality growing out of their charges were also rehired.

Mr. Russeau's statement yesterday continued: "The teachers who raised this rumpus will not be rehired. If Puffer does not like it, the next move is his. He is only a sort of adviser to county schools, anyway."

David Shanahan's Condition Reported to Be Unchanged

The condition of State Representative David E. Shanahan, who is critically ill in the Mercy hospital, was reported unchanged yesterday by Dr. Charles F. Sawyer, attending physician. Mr. Shanahan will be 74 years old on Monday. He has been in the hospital since last May when he suffered a heart attack.

FASTEST PLANES IN NATION FLY IN AIR RACES TODAY

Thousands to See Finish of Gruelling Grind.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Before the gaze of thousands, the nation's fastest air craft will roar over Los Angeles at speeds of five miles a minute tomorrow to open aviation's annual carnival of speed and endurance—the $70,000 national air races.

In many cases flying innovations will get their first public showing in the four day program here. Past experience has demonstrated that engine design developments which stand the gruelling tests of the national races soon find their way into commercial aviation.

Foresees New Speeds.

Vincent Bendix, donor of one of the principal prizes, believes this year's races "will be the most significant ever held," he said today.

"Developments of carburetion and motor design in the last six months," he said, "have made possible speeds heretofore believed impossible."

As this year's program gets under way tomorrow, pilots in two annual cross-country events will be headed for Los Angeles municipal airport, scene of the meet.

Contestants in the Ruth Chatterton Sportsmen Pilots' Derby are to arrive soon after the meet opens.

Spreckels Wins Derby.

Frank Spreckels of San Francisco was declared winner of the grand prize of the Chatterton derby at San Diego tonight. Derby officials credited the wealthy young sportsman pilot with 1,184.21 points of a possible 1,200 for the six-day 2,460 mile jaunt from Cleveland, O.

Second was Jeannette Lempke of Bay City, Mich., with 1,182.52 points.

Cash prizes aggregating $5,000 were awarded by Ruth Chatterton, film star and sponsor of the derby, for winners of the 12 laps into which the event was divided.

Off on Coast to Coast Hop.

New York, Sept. 4 [Friday].—[Special.]—The first of seven racing teams entered in the Bendix Transcontinental Derby from New York to Los Angeles took off from Floyd Bennett field at 1:37½ a. m. today.

The plane, piloted by William B. Warner of Brooklyn, carried three others in its cabin. Warner said he probably would make two stops, the first at St. Louis or Kansas City and the second at Albuquerque. The second craft took off at 2:04 a. m. It was the entry of George Pomeroy of Washington and carried Mr. Pomeroy, the navigator; Louis Brewer, pilot, and Irving Picker, mechanic.

The third craft, piloted by Amelia Earhart, left the field at 2:47½. With her was Miss Helen Richey of Pittsburgh, her co-pilot, the only woman who has flown professionally on one of the country's air transport lines. Their plane was a new Wasp powered Lockheed electro.

Joseph Jacobson of Detroit was the fourth out, leaving at 3:14½.

The race, an annual feature of the national air races, must be flown between last midnight and 10 o'clock tonight [eastern daylight time]. Vincent Bendix, airplane and motor accessory manufacturer, has offered $15,000 in prizes, $4,500 of which will go to the pilot making the fastest time. If Roscoe Turner's record of 11 hours and 30 minutes for the westward flight is broken the winner will receive a bonus of $2,500.

MARIA CONLEY'S ESTATE IS GIVEN VALUE OF $60,000

The estate of Mrs. Maria S. Conley, who died May 1 in the Kenilworth sanitarium at the age of 77, was appraised at $60,000 yesterday in an inventory filed by the Northern Trust company, administrator, and approved by Edward Luczak, assistant to the Probate judge. Mrs. Conley was the widow of John W. Conley, a stock broker. A sister and a number of nieces and nephews will share the estate. The bulk of the investments was in mortgages and United States bonds. Personal property was valued at $8,812, including 622 pieces of table silver and a diamond necklace and fifteen rings valued at $5,378.

Ten children will share most of the $34,000 estate of Ernst Naegele, retired grocer who died Aug. 12 at the age of 76 in his home at 1153 Diversey parkway. His will was admitted to proyate yesterday. A sister, Mrs. Caroline Henneberg, will receive the income from $6,000 for life.

Dog Bite Victim Dies with Symptoms of Rabies

John Suchor, 25 years old, 3623 South Damen avenue, a truck driver, died in the County hospital with symptoms of rabies yesterday, three hours after he had applied there for treatment of his infected left hand. He told hospital attendants he had been bitten by his dog on July 15. A coroner's physician will make an examination today to determine the cause of death.

Girl "Human Projectile" Hurt as Cannon Misfires

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Jane "Bobby" Bernhardt, 20 year old stunt performer of Kansas City, Mo., was critically injured tonight when a cannon from which she was to be shot as a human projectile misfired, the Canadian Press reported. Miss Bernhardt, a grand niece of the late Sarah Bernhardt, famed French actress, was hurled to the ground before thousands of spectators at the Canadian National exhibition.

"You get that quality in Fleischmann's Gin. It's distilled from American grain by an American formula . . . and Americans have always had a special hankering for smooth drinks."

"Thanks for the tip, old man. If Fleischmann's can do things like this for a Tom Collins, I'm certainly going to use it myself from now on!"

WHY PUT UP WITH PIMPLES, WRINKLES AND A SALLOW SKIN?

So many women throw their charm and beauty away—look years older than they are—because they neglect common constipation. They forget that badly balanced meals, over a period of years, can change how they look and feel.

Often their menus lack the "bulk" needed for regular habits. Then constipation, the beauty-killer, sets in. Other effects may be headaches, listlessness, sleeplessness.

Get "bulk" back into your meals with a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal or in cooked dishes. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

RICHMAN SPANS SEA; PREPARES FOR RETURN HOP

Lands in Welsh Pasture; Flies to London Today.

while we were trying to talk to London. We circled about for an hour and a half before we could find a suitable landing place."

Dispatches from Llandilo said Richman, upon landing, asked:

"Are we in Scotland?"

When informed he was in Wales, the wise cracking entertainer exclaimed:

"Well, I'm a Welshman."

"Boy, I never knew there were so many cows in the world—such nice, gentle cows—but still it's just too darn still around here," he grinned as he surveyed the countryside.

The field in which the airmen landed is about 10 miles from Burry port, where Amelia Earhart Putnam, the first woman to fly the Atlantic, came down June 18, 1928.

Shortly after Richman telephoned to Croydon two planes took off with 100 gallons to enable continuance of the flight One of the planes landed at Cardiff. The aviator decided not to proceed before morning because of poor visibility and the difficulty of landing where Richman and Merrill came down. A supply of 100 gallons of gasoline was taken to the flyers from Cardiff, but the fuel was found unsuitable.

Friends began to worry about the flyers as early as 1:15 p. m., when it was reported the big silver monoplane with its 40,000 ping pong balls, which were carried for buoyancy in case of a forced landing at sea, was seen over the Irish coast.

Jimmie Town, an old friend of Merrill, took up the plane in which he was waiting to guide the Lady Peace to landing, and headed toward the coast, hoping to pick up a message. He had just returned to Croydon when he learned of the landing.

RICHMAN LANDS IN WELSH PASTURE

Landing their plane, Lady Peace, in a Welsh cow pasture 200 miles short of London, Harry Richman, night club singer, and his pilot, Dick Merrill, last night said they would finish their flight to the British capital today. They also announced they would begin their return flight to the United States as soon as possible. The Atlantic flyers were forced down by fuel shortage near Llandilo, Carmarthenshire, South Wales, after being in the air 17 hours and 53 minutes. They flew about 3,300 miles.

MAN IN WOMAN'S CLOTHING IS HELD IN RAPE SLAYING

Another Suspect Also Detained.

La Jolla, Cal., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Two men—one of whom was wearing women's clothing and lived in a hut where officers found numerous articles of feminine apparel and cosmetics—were detained for questioning today in the rape slaying of Ruth Muir, Wellesley college graduate.

Meanwhile, admittedly baffled, San Diego police looked for possible new clews in the "Lovers' cove" slaying Monday night and scientists examined hair found clutched in the 48 year old social worker's hand.

Found Wearing Wig.

Police Captain L. L. Curtis at Los Angeles said a man wearing women's clothing was detained there. He said the man gave his name as Jack Birge, 31, former marine, newly arrived from San Diego, but later said he was Joe B. Smith of Los Angeles.

Smith was picked up on complaint that some one was annoying women on the streets.

Officers said Smith wore a pink skirt and blouse, Lipstick and rouge, and a brown wig. Hairs from the wig were sent to Pomona college for comparison with those taken from Miss Muir's hand.

Tells Conflicting Stories.

Police said they learned Smith lived in a canvas hut back of a restaurant where he worked, and that they found seven corsets, 11 pairs of women's shoes, four girdles, several women's hats, and various cosmetics in the tent. They said Smith gave conflicting stories about his whereabouts Monday night.

Oceanside officers detained a man who gave his name as Archie Best. Police Chief Paxton of Oceanside reported Best was "very scared" and that his arms appeared scratched.

Miss Muir was killed as she sat alone in the moonlight on a bench at picturesque "Lover's cove" on the beach front. She had been beaten with a jagged instrument.

Dog Cleared of Blame in Drowning in Illinois

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 3.—(AP)—A coroner's jury today exonerated Shep, a large shepherd dog, from blame for the death of Frank Barthell, 54, who was drowned yesterday in the Illinois river. Coroner William B. Elliot investigated the dog's part in the tragedy after he was told Shep was in the river as Barthell fought to keep afloat and that the dog had placed his paws on the drowning man's shoulders.

MISS EARHART PLANS A FLIGHT AROUND WORLD

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Amelia Earhart plans a flight around the world in a new Lockheed-Electra plane, flying nearer to the equator than any pilots before her, Col. J. M. Johnson, assistant secretary of the department of commerce, revealed here today.

Experimental trans-Atlantic mail transport flights by American, English, French, and German pilots are ready to begin Col. Johnson also disclosed. These planes will be prepared to carry 800 pounds of mail and passengers and will go the northern route from New York by Nova Scotia to Ireland and England, and the southern route from New York by Bermuda and the Azores, landing at the intermediary points for refueling.

Trans-Pacific planes of the Pan-American lines are scheduled to carry passengers as well as mail, Col. Johnson reported. Two commerce inspectors have just returned from an investigation of that possibility. It was emphasized that planes on regular Atlantic and Pacific runs are routed to make stop-overs for inspection and refueling.

MRS. RUTH GARDNER FLEISCHMANN WINS A DIVORCE IN RENO

Reno, Nev., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Mrs. Ruth Gardner Fleischmann, the socially prominent former Ruth Gardner of Quincy, Ill., won an uncontested, private-trial divorce here today from Raoul Fleischmann, wealthy New York magazine owner. The decree was granted on grounds of cruelty.

Property rights and custody of the couple's 14 year old son, Peter Francis, were settled by agreement.

The Fleischmanns were married in New York City on Nov. 15, 1920.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

September 3, 1936.

The economic value of birds in keeping insect pests under control has been demonstrated again this year at the Tribune farms. Grasshoppers, for instance, were more than plentiful on many farms in northern Illinois. On the Yorkville farm they caused real damage. The Wheaton farm was more fortunate. Even on the Yorkville farm grasshoppers caused less damage than on many other Kendall county farms. Birds find cover along Fox river that crosses the farm.

Men at the Wheaton farm have plenty of visible evidence to convince them that grasshoppers and other insects are kept under control by tame and wild birds. Turkeys, ducks, guineas, and chickens all play their part in killing insects. But some of the most important insect eradication work is carried on by the pheasants, quail, wild geese and ducks, and the various other wild birds that are attracted to the farm. There the birds are looked after the year around. Winter feed and shelter are provided and the birds more than pay their way by killing crop destroying insects.

Plans are now being made to set aside a portion of a field of sunflowers for the birds. The tall, leafy sunflower plants will protect them in winter. The plants are blooming and the outlook is for a bumper crop of seeds that will furnish ideal feed for the birds. Heads of the sunflowers not kept for bird cover will be harvested and the seed will be saved for the poultry and wild birds.

11,000 Visitors in 4 Months.

Records kept by guides show that nearly 11,000 persons visited the two Tribune farms during the last four months. The number fell off slightly during midsummer when thermometers registered around the hundred mark and above and the crops were wilted by the sizzling sun. But the farms have again attracted a great many visitors during the last few weeks since rains have freshened up the countryside. In August there were more than 2,250 visitors at the Wheaton farm alone.

Many of the field crops, especially those in the test fields, now are at their best. Practically all of the crops in the test fields at the Wheaton farm are green. They are now in their most interesting stage. Many of them are loaded with pods, ears, and heads. Sunflowers are coming into full bloom. In many cases visitors are having their first look at some of the strange crops that are being grown for the first time in this part of the country.

Visitors are advised by the men in charge of the experimental crops to come to the farm within the next few weeks to see the crops before they are nipped by early frost, which wilts the leaves and turns the plants brown. Before killing frosts arrive practically all of the plants will have been harvested and stored or sent on their way through the various steps in processing.

Visitors are welcome at the farms on any day, including Sunday. Guides are on duty throughout the day. The Wheaton farm test fields, A, B, and C, are reached from Chicago over Roosevelt road [U. S. highway 330] to Maramy road, two miles west of Wheaton farm test fields A, B, and C marked "1 Mile to Tribune Farm." The Yorkville farm is reached from Chicago over highway 34 through Aurora to highway 47, thence to Yorkville and Tribune farm markers.

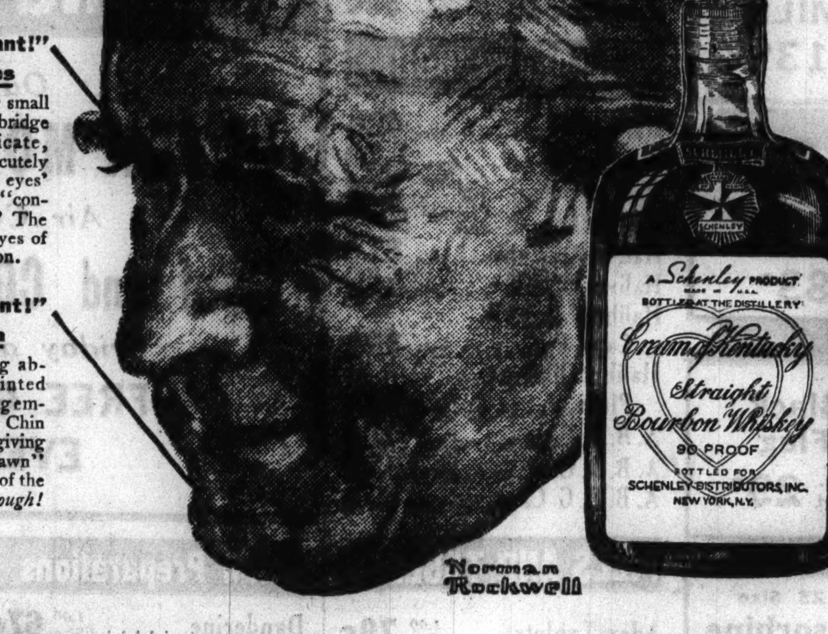
Have you the eyes of a thrifty buyer?



How faces reveal character

"I know what I want!" say these eyes
Eyes . . . long, rather small and deep-set close to bridge of nose. Brows delicate, but beetling down acutely over eyes. Flesh at eyes' outer edges lined with "concentration wrinkles." The practical, observing eyes of level-headed perception.

"I get what I want!" says this chin
Wide jowls tapering abruptly to sharply pointed chin. Base of chin having emphatic forward thrust. Chin muscles rigidly taut, giving the skin a "tightly drawn" appearance. The chin of the type with follow-through!

Begin now to find your next apartment if you intend to move this Fall. There is a comparative shortage of apartments this season. The most attractive ones will be signed up first.

The way to get what you want with least fuss and bother is to start checking the offers in the Tribune want ad section, daily and Sunday.

From the descriptions of available apartments given in Tribune want ad columns you can make up a convenient itinerary for a tour of personal inspection.

In this way you need visit only those buildings which have definite possibilities of containing apartments which are in line with your ideas.

Start looking for your new living quarters today. Turn to the Tribune want ad section now.

The most comprehensive selection of apartment offerings in Chicago and suburbs is to be found in the Tribune. During the first seven months of 1936 the Tribune printed more apartments-to-rent want advertising than any other Chicago newspaper.

15,000 TRUCKMEN REVIVE THREATS TO STRIKE IN N. Y.

Hope for Accord Wanes as Parley Hits Snag.

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—The threat of a strike of 15,000 truck drivers, averted once on intercession of Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia, became real again today when it appeared that representatives of employers and employés had reached an impasse in their negotiations for a new agreement.

The deadlock which marked the joint conference yesterday of the wage scale committees of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and the Merchant Truckmen's bureau, representing all the leading trucking firms in the city, remained unbroken.

Outlook Appears Dark.

Statements issued by spokesmen for the two organizations indicated no immediate hope of resumption of the negotiations. The next move appears to be up to the union. It was said today that the union would strike.

The painters' strike continued today while sixty-four additional employers signed individual agreements with the union, according to the strike leader, Louis Weinstock, secretary of District Council No. 9, Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers. Weinstock said that as a result of some 400 employers signing individual agreements since the beginning of the strike a fortnight ago approximately 4,000 men have returned to work. There still are about 8,000 on strike.

Seek Minneapolis Accord.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—The Minneapolis strike front remained tense today as two federal negotiators strove to bring together for an eventual settlement belligerents in six labor disputes.

Four hundred WPA workers involved in the latest walkout remained away from their jobs while M. A. Fitzgerald, district WPA supervisor, planned conferences with their leaders.

The federal conciliators concentrated on a study of the two major disputes—that of the Flour, Feed, Cereal and Elevator Workers' union, which has brought the flour industry to a virtual standstill, and the General Drivers union, which has tied up delivery of grocery supplies and caused shortages of some staples at outlying groceries.

Other groups on strike are the wholesale jewelry workers, employés at a pole and wood treating plant, and about 115 men at a baking specialty plant. All seek union recognition.

Strikers Riot in Toledo.

Toledo, O., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Rioting flared today in the cleaners, dyers, and pressers strike, resulting in arrest of a woman and a man and injury to several persons.

Police with riot clubs stopped the fighting. Several trucks owned by city cleaners were upset by cars filled with hoodlums, and five shops were damaged by raiders. Six employés were barricaded in one shop all night. The strikers are seeking a wage increase.

Poultry Strike Threatens.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Asserting that the department of agriculture is responsible for lowering the wages of live poultry handlers by reducing charges paid by farmers and shippers for unloading poultry, Dennis Lane, secretary-treasurer of the Amalgamated Cutters and Butcher Workmen, today threatened a strike of poultry handlers in New York City and Jersey City terminals if the department does not rescind its order.

Lane announced that the strike order would go into effect on Sept. 15 after he had conferred here today with officials of the department of agriculture concerning the order signed by Acting Secretary of Agriculture Rexford G. Tugwell on July 27, reducing from $52 to $34 the price for unloading a car of live poultry.

Machinist Gets Ten Days on Tipsy Driving Charge

Walter Malicki, 42 years old, 5239 Strong street, a machinist, was sentenced yesterday to ten days in the county jail by Judge Joseph A. Graber in Safety court on a charge of driving his automobile while intoxicated. Police testified he was so intoxicated he was incoherent after his automobile ran over the curb at 4721 Milwaukee avenue and injured a woman pedestrian a month ago. Malicki denied he had been drinking. He said he lost control of his car after it had been cut off by another vehicle.

TWO SMALL BOYS HIT BY AUTOS, DIE OF INJURIES

One Driver Fails to Stop After Accident.

Robert Alfred Dichiser, 4 years old, was pulling a small wagon across the street in front of his home at 919 Altgeld street yesterday when he was struck by an automobile. The car did not stop. The boy died at midnight of a skull fracture in the Children's Memorial hospital.

Bernard Riley, 7 years old, 3939 Arthur avenue, Brookfield, died last night in the Berwyn hospital of injuries suffered during the afternoon when he was struck by a truck in front of 3907 Prairie avenue in the suburb. The driver, Frank Twick, 41 years old, 4137 Nelson street, was directed to attend the inquest today.

Squad Car Hits Truck; One Dead.

A pedestrian was killed and two Berwyn policemen were seriously injured yesterday when a Berwyn police car collided with a bakery truck at Washington boulevard and 19th avenue in Maywood.

Harry Taylor, 60 years old, 1619 Washington boulevard, an electric welder who had been standing on the corner, was crushed to death against a mail box and the overturned truck. The policemen injured are Frank Parzak, 40 years old, 2402 Gunderson avenue, Berwyn, and Sergt. Thomas Bartunek, 43 years old, 6839 Cermak road, Berwyn, driver of the police car.

Frank Tyler, 34 years old, 1638 South Karlov avenue, driver of the truck, was thrown out of his machine but escaped injury. He said the police car, going at high speed, ran past the stoplight and struck his truck.

Girl Cyclist Dies.

Charlotte Schultze, 15 years old, who resided near Geneva, died yesterday of injuries incurred Wednesday when she and Natalie Newby, 14 years old, of West Chicago, were struck by an automobile as they were riding bicycles in state route 25 in front of the Illinois Training School for Girls on the outskirts of Geneva. The Newby girl was seriously injured. Karl Lundine, of Elgin, driver of he car, was exonerated by a Kane county coroner's jury when evidence at the inquest showed that the girls were riding on the wrong side of the road.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 643 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 491 were killed in Chicago. In the same period 12,274 persons were injured in trafic accidents within the city limits.

1,500 WPA WORKERS STRIKE FOR LABOR OR PAY ON HOLIDAY

East St. Louis, Ill., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Because they either want to work Labor day or get pay for the holiday, 1,500 WPA workers walked off a levee district ditching job here today.

Announcing they will remain on strike until their demands are met, leaders of the group have wired Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, asking security wage pay for bad weather days and holidays. Formerly, the men said, they received pay for reporting to work on holidays and days that weather prevented work.

Warns of WPA Suspensions.

Mount Holly, N. J., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—With reports current here that all WPA projects in Burlington county will be closed down because of the workers' strike for a pay rise from 45 to 50 cents an hour, Frank S. Absalom, deputy WPA director, tonight warned county authorities that workers will be withdrawn from projects where they are not properly protected from interference.

"If we do not have a favorable reply from you by Sept. 8," he advised officials, "we will be forced to suspend the projects involved."

Absalom has declared that bodily harm is being threatened to men who desire to work.

STATE SAFETY PROGRAMS URGED TO CURB DEATHS

Heads of safety departments in sixteen states met here yesterday to discuss advanced methods of organizing safety programs to halt the national trafic toll of approximately 100 deaths a day.

The two day conference was called by the national safety council as a part of its five year campaign, begun last year, to reduce the automobile massacre at least 35 per cent by 1940.

"Since the majority of highway accidents occur outside cities, it is obvious that the best results can be obtained by creating state safety departments," said Sidney J. Williams, director of the public safety division of the national safety council. "Organized highway safety campaigns are now under way in thirty states and the others are making preparations to follow suit."

Bind Michigan Av. Cafe Cashier and Flee with $255

Two gunmen entered the Pine room, a restaurant of the Congress hotel, 514 South Michigan avenue, late last night while Miss Anna Meyer, 35 years old, the cashier, was alone in the place. The men forced Miss Meyer up to a balcony and tied her to a chair, then took $255 from the cash register.

JAPAN NOTIFIES U. S. OF PLAN TO BUILD UP NAVY

Will Keep Her 'Over-Age' Subs and Destroyers.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Japan today formally notified the United States of her intention to build a navy larger than that allowed her under the expiring London naval treaty. She announced her intention to retain submarines and destroyers due to be scrapped by Dec. 31, the date of expiration of the treaty by Japanese abrogation. Similar notice was given Great Britain yesterday.

Notification of the Japanese decision was carried to Secretary of State Hull late this afternoon by the Japanese ambassador, Hirosi Saito. The notification was received with a mere bow of acknowledgment from Mr. Hull.

Invokes "Escalator" Clause.

Japan's action followed the invocation of the so-called "escalator clause" of the London treaty under which Great Britain will retain in active service 40,000 tons of over age destroyers which were to have been scrapped Dec. 31.

Under the notification Japan intends to retain 15,598 tons of submarines and 11,000 tons of destroyers. In effect this will increase the tonnage of the Japanese navy by keeping in service what were to have been turned over to ship wreckers.

By the action, Japan's undersea fleet will surpass those of the United States and Great Britain. Latest comparative data list Japan's under age submarines at 50 compared with 43 for the United States and 39 for Great Britain.

The United States still has a larger undersea fleet, with 86 vessels as against 62 for Japan and 54 for Great Britain. However, almost all of the American submarines are so obsolete as to be considered practically worthless by naval experts. Japan has previously built almost to the full of submarine strength under the treaty whereas the United States and Great Britain had lagged behind.

U. S. Lags in Destroyers.

The United States has not moved to retain destroyer tonnage. Here, again, America is far behind other sea powers. Virtually all American destroyers except those built in the last three years are obsolete. On Wednesday the navy offered nine old destroyers for sale. America is, however, prepared to match British capital ship building.

Secretary Hull officially announced that the United States will follow the lead of Japan and Great Britain in retaining destroyer tonnage.

VOTE TUESDAY ON EVANSTON LABOR STRIKE

The Chicago Building Trades council will vote at its meeting Tuesday, officials said yesterday, on a strike of all union labor employed on municipal projects in Evanston, as a result of the refusal of the suburban city council to employ union plumbers on a water main construction job.

Installation of the main, a 30 inch concrete pipe from the Evanston pumping station at Lincoln avenue to the downtown district of the city, is being carried on by fifteen city employés and thirty men taken from Evanston relief rolls, Mayor Charles H. Bartlett explained last night. Evanston started a policy of using relief labor on city projects when support of the unemployed was turned over to the city in July.

THERE'S WHITE MAGIC
In These Amazing AMERICAN FAMILY FLAKES

Give 'double suds' that turn out a whiter wash without hard rubbing

TODAY, thousands of women have discovered in American Family Flakes an amazingly simple, safe way to a whiter wash. A way that ends hard rubbing, so destructive to clothes. A way that does not depend on harmful alkali or strong chemicals to restore clothes to first-day whiteness.

Yet, miracle of miracles, every piece of the wash comes out perfectly clean—linens snowy white—colored fabrics bright and brilliant.

If you would enjoy this thrilling experience, then by all means discard your present soap in favor of American Family Flakes. Your reward will not only be a whiter wash in less time, and with less work—but your clothes will last much longer. This is why:

By actual tests, American Family Flakes proved that they contain more suds-making material than ordinary flakes, chips, or powders. Please consider that statement carefully.

These paper-thin flakes dissolve almost the instant they hit the water into rich, creamy, active "DOUBLE SUDS." And there you have the secret of the amazing success of American Family Flakes.

For, instead of depending on hard rubbing, or harsh chemicals to get clothes white—the "DOUBLE SUDS" actually float out dirt with utter safety to fabrics.

For over ninety years American Family has been the largest selling brand of soap in and around Chicago. A single wash will prove American Family Flakes the simplest, quickest, safest way to a whiter wash.

The few extra pennies American Family Flakes cost will be returned to you many times over in the extra length of time your clothes last.

Try American Family Flakes and prove, beyond any shadow of doubt, that it is always cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes. And for dishwashing, you will find American Family Flakes unexcelled—and as good for your hands as the fine toilet soap.

"don't reach twice for soap flakes - reach once for Climalene"

"Ever have that experience? Ever find even two or three sprinklings of soap flakes failed to produce that rich, creamy suds every woman knows is essential to white clothes and sparkling dishes?

There's a reason for that... the old story of hard water and grease that won't come off!

Grease, science says, is the basis of all dirt! Grease is the stubborn foe that water and even repeated use of soap can't budge. My grocer told me about that. He also told me about CLIMALENE, the wonderfully quick, safe, grease-cutting cleanser.

I tried CLIMALENE . . . sprinkled a tablespoon or so in my cleaning water!

It did cut the grease. It removed the last trace of 'soap scum' from my dishwashing!

No reaching twice for soap flakes now. I just sprinkle them in once . . . after CLIMALENE . . . and use only ½ as much!"

FEW FOOD PRICE CHANGES FOUND IN STORES HERE

Some Staples and Fresh Meat Cuts Cheaper.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Food shoppers will find comparatively few price changes in Chicago and suburban stores today and tomorrow when they make their purchases for the three day holiday. A few staples and fresh meat cuts are cheaper than last week. Fresh fruits and vegetables are about equally balanced between "ups" and "downs." Less than a score of items have been materially changed in price since last week.

Most stores will remain open longer than usual tomorrow night. All will be closed on Monday, Labor day.

Many Flour Bargains.

Many stores have included various grades of flour in their lists of week-end bargains. The price reductions range from 2 to 10 cents a 24½ pound sack on the brands affected. A few stores have reduced their prices on small packages of cake flour.

American cheese is on sale in some stores at about 4 cents a pound less than last week. Many stores have reduced the price of sugar 4 cents a 10 pound sack. A few are offering canned corn and tomatoes at slight reductions.

Several items on the green grocers' counters are lower than a week ago, but these are offset by about an equal number that are higher. Cooking apples are a little lower in some stores. Cabbages are lower generally. Bananas, sweet potatoes, lemons, celery, and fresh peaches are lower in most stores. Fresh tomatoes are up in some stores and down in others.

Green Beans Much Higher.

Green beans are much higher than last week-end, the price in some stores having been doubled. General quality of the beans is better. Fresh peas are higher in stores generally and several have marked up their price tags on head lettuce, spinach, bunch carrots, radishes, grapes, and beets. Cantaloupes and watermelons are higher than last week. They are becoming scarce and some stores have stopped handling them.

Bargains will be scarce in the butcher shops today and tomorrow. Some stores are selling pork spareribs, bulk pork sausage, and beef pot roasts about 2 to 3 cents a pound less than last week-end. Many of them are featuring the cheaper brands of bacon at reductions of 6 to 8 cents a pound.

Upward Trend at Stockyards.

Leg of lamb is up 2 cents a pound in some shops. A few have raised their prices on cured hams. Most cuts of fresh beef are about the same as last week.

There was a general upward trend in live stock and wholesale meat prices during the week at Union stockyards. Farmers were paid 10 to 25 cents a hundred pounds more for live hogs than last week. Wholesale prices on pork loins and other fresh cuts of pork advanced $1 to $2 a hundred, according to federal market reporters.

Live lambs brought 25 to 50 cents a hundred pounds more than last week, and wholesale cuts of lamb sold strong to $1 a hundred higher.

Beef Steers Sell Strong.

The better grades of beef steers sold strong to 25 cents a hundredweight higher than last week. There was little change in wholesale beef prices, although the better grades of beef showed a slight advance.

The following fresh fruits and vegetables were cheaper this week than last on the wholesale market: Cooking apples, head lettuce, celery, dried onions, pears, peaches, and fresh tomatoes.

Wholesale prices on fresh peas, sweet potatoes, bunch carrots, green beans, and cauliflower are higher than last week.

APPLE PIE, ALL DRESSED UP, IS TASTY DESSERT

Candied, It Will Give Guests a Thrill.

Apple pie has been a dessert favorite for many years—particularly with the men folk. When company occasions seem to call for a little dressing up of the old-time standby [although apple pie lovers will claim it needs no such thing], on the top go wedges of cheese to be quickly melted in a hot oven. Or perhaps the à la mode touch is given for a little added glamor.

For an unusual dessert nothing could be more toothsome than a one crust delicacy called candied apple pie, which is so rich and flavorsome that it needs no further touches.

Here's How It's Done.

You'll receive praise for this one—and indeed you'll deserve it.

CANDIED APPLE PIE.

1 cup brown sugar.
½ cup butter
1 cup flour
6 or 7 medium apples, pared and sliced.

Mix the sugar, butter, and flour by rubbing between the fingers until the ingredients are well blended. Fill a pie pan with sliced apples. Pat the butter-sugar-flour mixture on top of the apples and bake in a slow oven [325 degrees F.] for fifty minutes.

The brown sugar gives a delicious butterscotch taste and an attractively moist crust.

For this type of pie, service is made easy by the use of glass pie pans and a pie server.

For Deep Dish Variety.

Deep dish pies are becoming nearly as popular in this country as they are in England and here again apples score. This simple recipe for an apple pie of the deep dish variety is certain to be a success.

DEEP DISH APPLE PIE.

1¾ cups flour
⅓ cup lard plus 1 tablespoon
1 teaspoon salt
8 or 9 apples, pared and sliced
1 cup granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon.

Sift the flour and salt. Cut in the shortening and add chilled water to make a stiff dough. Roll out about ⅛ inch thick. Fill a deep baking dish with layers of apples sprinkled with sugar and cinnamon. Place an egg cup in the middle to support the crust and allow steam to escape. Bind the edge of the baking dish with a dampened strip of pastry. Cover apple pie top, pinching edges and strips together. Bake in a moderate oven [375 degrees F.] about 45 minutes.

ELEPHANT PAYS THE FAMILY JUST A FRIENDLY CALL

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Twenty-one year old Mary Kitchart of Newton, N. J., awoke today, thinking she had heard a loud noise. What looked like the end of a fire hose with no nozzle was sticking in through the window of her bedroom.

Suddenly it said, "Brrraahh!"

Miss Kitchart said, "Eeee! Help!" and set a record for getting out of the bed and the room, too. She awakened her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kitchart, and her father investigated.

He found that a "visiting" elephant had uprooted five trees in the yard and had removed a hammock from its moorings. He called the police.

Patrolman Cortelyou Fisher arrived shortly, and telephoning back to headquarters said, "Yes, it honestly is an elephant. Has any one reported an elephant missing?"

No one had, but Patrolman Fisher remembered there was a circus in Newton yesterday, and the elephant soon was returned to its keepers.

FOOD, IF COVERED AND COOL, CAN BE LEFT IN THE CAN

It is just as safe to keep canned food in the can it comes in—provided the can is cool and covered—as it is to empty the food into another container. The reason for this is that cans and food are sterilized in the processing. But the dish into which the food might be emptied is far from sterile. It is likely to have on it bacteria, which causes food to spoil. The principal precautions for keeping food are to keep it COOL AND COVERED.

LEARN THINKING, FEELING BEGIN BEFORE BIRTH

Hanover, N. H., Sept. 3.—(AP)—A proof that thinking and feeling begin before birth was offered today to members of the American Psychological association by two University of Rochester scientists.

By means of extremely delicate measurements on guinea pigs in the unborn stage of development they found clear evidence of brain activity twelve days before birth.

Dr. Charles S. Bridgman used the now-familiar method of inserting silver electrodes into the brain and measuring the electrical waves set up. With this method, changes between quiet brain activity and stimulated activity can be recorded as differences in wave formation.

He tested their sense of feeling by subjecting animals of progressive fetal age to drops of salt solution, ranging in temperature from 32 degrees F. to 168 degrees F., applied to the nose, ear, and paws.

'RAREBIT' OR 'RABBIT'? YOUR GUESS IS GOOD!

Controversial but Tasty Dish Is Topic Today.

BY MARY MEADE.

All right, all right! Let the arguments cease and we'll take a vote. All those in favor of calling it "Welsh rarebit," raise their right hands. Those in favor of "Welsh rabbit," stand up.

Gracious me, it's a tie!

Opinion seems divided among chefs and food fanciers as to the proper title for this cheese dish, and you may find it listed either way upon your menu. Some persons think that the word originally was "rarebit," but became "ra'bit" and then "rabbit" through some quirk of pronunciation characteristic of the people to whom it was most often served. Old English cookbooks list it as "rabbit" although the connection with Peterkin Bunny remains a mystery.

Recently I heard a man remark that Welsh rarebit [or rabbit] just isn't worth eating unless it's made with beer. Personally, I believe that it's just as good without beer, but I'm going to give recipes for making it both ways, so that you may take your choice. American cheese is used in the nonbeer recipe, and old English cheese in the recipe calling for beer. The flavor of the old English type of cheese seems to go particularly well with the beer flavor.

Out of respect to the early English cooks who made this dish popular, we'll label it "rabbit."

Welsh Rabbit with Beer.

[Serves eight.]

1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon dry mustard
⅛ teaspoon cayenne
Salt to taste
¾ cup beer
2 pounds old English cheese

Mix all seasonings to a smooth paste in a chafing dish or the top of a double boiler. Add the beer. Heat slowly. When the beer is hot, add the cheese, crumbling it into the mixture. Stir in same direction until the cheese is melted and the mixture is hot. Serve on slices of crisp, dry toast, garnishing with parsley or with strips of bacon and tomato wedges.

Welsh Rabbit.

[Without beer.]

1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon flour
½ cup milk
Salt to taste
Dash of cayenne pepper
½ teaspoon dry mustard
Few drops Worcestershire sauce
½ pound grated American cheese

Make a sauce with the butter, flour, milk, and seasonings. When the mixture is thickened and smooth, add the grated cheese. Stir until the cheese is melted. Serve hot on crisp toast, garnished with parsley or with broiled bacon and fresh tomato wedges.

There are other variations for this cheese sauce. It may be made with ale instead of beer, or it may be flavored with tomato juice. An attractive and tasty way to serve it is to pour the sauce over grilled tomatoes on triangles of toast. The broiled bacon garnish is appropriate here, too.

'MEAT LORE' AN AID IN SHOPPING; BOON TO COOKS

Other Helpful Books by Mary Meade.

This undoubtedly will be a year of bargain hunting in foods, particularly in the line of meats, and the housewife who goes forth to the meat market needs to be armed with a certain amount of information about meat in general, if she's to purchase shrewdly.

Then there is the necessity of knowing how to prepare the less expensive and tougher cuts of meat in ways to make them tender and tasty.

In Mary Meade's booklet, "Modern Meat Lore," there is complete information of this kind. There are charts showing how to choose and use the various beef, veal, pork, and lamb cuts and there also is a section on how to prepare the "meat sundries" brain, heart, kidneys, liver, sweetbreads, tongue, and tripe.

Other Sections Add Value.

Another section is devoted to meat dishes for young children, and still another to using meat leftovers. This decidedly is a book of valuable information which you will be wise to add to your kitchen library.

To obtain "Modern Meat Lore," send 23 cents, stamps or coin, to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune, or pick up a copy at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower, for 20 cents.

PICKLING NOTES

1. A blend of several kinds of spices gives a much more pleasant and more subtle flavor than a larger quantity of one spice.

2. Whole spices are better for pickle making than the powdered spices. Tie spices in a cheese cloth bag and cook with the pickling sirup, then remove spices before sealing pickles in jars.

3. Use white granulated sugar in preference to brown sugar in pickle making. Brown sugar is apt to give a strong flavor and a dark color. Many old time recipes call for the dark sugar, but that was the only kind of sugar people had for common use years ago.

JELLIED MEATS SOLVE SUMMER DINNER PROBLEM

Hot summer days call for lighter meals, it's true, but the diet must continue to be well balanced in spite of higher temperatures. Body processes go on regardless of weather and tissues which are continually being broken down must be repaired. Hence the proteins found in meat are as necessary in the summer as in the winter. Less food is needed during warm weather to maintain body temperature, but proteins, minerals, and vitamins necessary to maintain health must continually be supplied.

Naturally hot meats are not always appetizing or appealing on days when the thermometer soars to great heights, so in order to include this valuable food, it is served in other various tempting forms. Cold sliced beef, lamb, veal, or pork served with one hot vegetable, a crisp salad, and a cold dessert, makes a fine hot weather meal.

Meat and Salad in One.

Jellied meats are always popular, and they decidedly reduce the hot hours spent in the kitchen. In the jellied corned beef recipe following, vegetables are included, so that the loaf is a meat dish and salad all in one.

JELLIED CORNED BEEF.

1½ tablespoons gelatin
1-3 cup cold water
2 bouillon cubes
1 cup boiling water
1 cup cold water
Dash of Worchestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt
6 ounces canned corned beef
1 cup diced celery
½ cup canned or cooked peas
¼ cup sliced radishes
½ cup pickled beets, diced

Soak the gelatin in cold water. Dissolve bouillon cubes in the boiling water and pour over the gelatin. Stir until dissolved, then add the cold water. Add the seasonings and place in the refrigerator to chill and slightly thicken. Add the vegetables and the corned beef cut into small pieces. Chill thoroughly and serve garnished with fluted cucumbers.

Using Chicken or Veal.

Veal and chicken are equally adaptable to the jellied meat loaf. This foundation recipe has been found very satisfactory:

JELLIED CHICKEN OR VEAL.

2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
4 tablespoons cold water
2¾ cups chicken or veal broth
3 cups cooked meat, finely diced
1 teaspoon salt

Soak the gelatin in the cold water and dissolve in the hot broth. Let the mixture cool until it begins to thicken, then add diced meat and salt, and chill until stiff in a loaf pan. Slice to serve and garnish with radish roses, olives, and curly greens.

How to Prepare Meat.

To cook the meat: Simmer until tender, with 2 sliced medium sized onions, 1 tablespoon salt, ½ cup of celery tops, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley. Requires about 2 hours of cooking. Strain the liquid from the meat, and boil rapidly until reduced to the amount of liquid needed for the recipe. Before adding to the above ingredients, strain off celery tops, etc. A five pound chicken will supply enough meat. If making the loaf with veal, use about a 3 lb. knuckle of veal and one lb. lean veal from the neck or leg.

Marx Brothers See Doubles Try Out Gags

Business of Being Funny Is Solemn One.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—So that the three Marx brothers can see themselves as they look to others while they do their comedy bits, Groucho, Chico, and Harpo have put three vaudeville performers to work representing them. Billie Dooley enacted the Harpo part in rehersals. Harry Lash of the vaudeville team of Stuart and Lash is Groucho by proxy. Skins Miller represents Chico.

One will find the three brother comedians sans makeup and wardrobe, sitting alongside Director Sam Wood and Writer Al Boasberg while they "look at themselves."

The scene today was supposed to be a hotel room with Groucho making comedy love to a pretty girl. In rush Harpo and Chico as paper hangers and proceed to hang everything in sight, including Groucho, the girl, and themselves.

For two weeks they will be working out their comedy this way and then will be ready to go to work once again.

It isn't as much fun as you would expect. On screen and when free from duty the Marxes really are quite insane and get a big kick out of life. But when they are confronted with the serious problem of being funny they are so serious they are solemn.

So one finds the three with heads together pacing about the stage shouting out suddenly with an idea, listening to Wood or Boasberg and looking over props and wardrobes critically.

The comedians report a successful recent tour, returning to Hollywood with 175 sure fire laughs which they tested on theater audiences in key cities. They figure only seventy-five of these laughs were in their script when they left the film city. The others were developed on the road. Dozens of situations and jokes were tossed out bodily, but some returned in different form to win a new place in their current film comedy, "A Day at the Races."

They played Duluth, Chicago, Minneapolis, Cleveland, and San Francisco, but none of these cities saw the same show as any of the others. For that matter, no two audiences saw the same thing.

It was hard work, but they had a lot of fun. They were at the theater every morning by 10 o'clock to reherse. Between shows they altered their material for the next performance.

As gags were tossed out so were props. One of the first to go was the horse they took along. He lasted only one performance. The tossing out of props provided quite a problem for the prop boy, who had to crate them up and send them back to M-G-M. studios. He did likewise with new props which were later discarded. When the comedians got back to Hollywood they still had four truckloads of things which had been used in their act.

Only one prop was not shipped to Hollywood when discarded. In each city they bought a gross of cheap tooth brushes for a gag. Once used they were useless. Druggists looked at the comedians in amazement when they ordered a gross of tooth brushes.

In one rehersal room adjoining the Marxes are 100 dancing girls practicing routines for "Born to Dance." In the room on the other side are Frank Morgan and forty girls singing and dancing "Jump Jim Crow." The Marx brothers assert that it is a bold rumor that they work better amid noise and confusion. The tap-a-tap-tap from one side and the shout of voices and leaping feet on the other wore them down.

They still might have kept on had not the sound of drums not suddenly come from the "Born to Dance" group. Seizing hammers, pieces of wood, and old shoes the entire Marx troupe rushed to the walls and started hammering. But the drumming, tapping, jumping, and shouting went on. So the Marx brothers and their whole crowd went home.

In their first kiss in "Camille" Greta Garbo slipped out of Robert Taylor's arms and rolled from a love seat to the floor. Instead of loosing a flood of temperament Greta only laughed.

The Hays office won't let RKO-Radio use the name of the well known play "Street Girl" for its movie.

An electrical crew on the set of "Tarzan Escapes" drew a cable across a hornet's nest and Maureen O'Sullivan was stung. Earlier in the film Miss O'Sullivan was bitten on the shin by a parrot in a jungle scene.

John Lee Mahin, writer, wrote a part in the next Gable-Crawford film, "Love on the Run," for himself, and he will enact it.

Jean Harlow chartered a seaplane and flew to Catalina Island with her pal, Barbara [Bobbie] Brown, who is her stand-in and secretary.

Robert Cummings took the money he realized from the sale of his yacht to apply toward the purchase of an airplane.

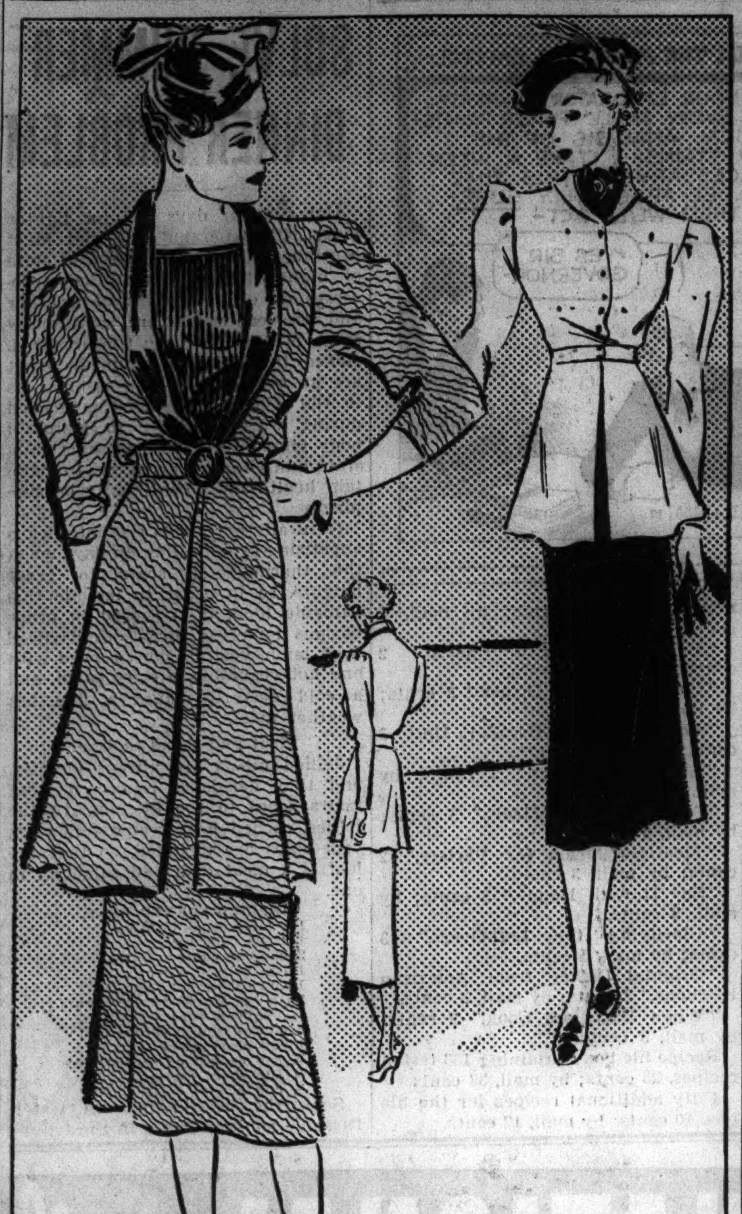
Kent Taylor explains his black eye was caused by not ducking a tennis ball.

Mary Phillips, stage lead for George M. Cohan, was imported from New York for a comedy rôle in "Maytime" at M-G-M. She'll play with Frank Morgan.

Nino Martini has announced an intention to apply for American citizenship when he completes his picture. He was born in Verona, Italy, and sang in grand opera on both continents.

Humphrey Bogart has an unusual method of "saving" money. "My method," he was saying in the Warner studio lunchroom, "is to make small deposits in banks in different cities. Wherever I am I start a savings account. There must be forty of them. Eventually, of course, I lose the pass book and forget the name of the bank. But the money is 'saved' though I may never remember to draw it."

Suits Variety of Fabrics



WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

Silks, velveteen, and woolens all are wonderful selections for this distinctive tunic dress for autumn and winter wear. The tunic, in this case, adopts coat lines, which are particularly slenderizing. In the larger sketch the frock is shown with a plaited vestee with matching rever-collar. The sleeves take to fullness at the shoulder line and may be either three-quarter or full length. If you choose, you may make the bodice button all the way up the front, and have a tiny rolled collar embellished by a neat ascot scarf.

The original of this model is fashioned of satin-back crêpe in black. The plaited vestee and the revers are created in the shiny surface of the material. Woolens and other lovely silks also will be appropriate and smart for this model.

Here is a stunning scheme if you make the frock according to the version shown in the sketch at the right. Create the dress in rich brown velveteen and trim the bodice with gold buttons.

Style No. 2713 is designed for sizes 16 and 18 years, and 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 4⅞ yards of 39 inch material, with ¾ yard of 39 inch contrasting, and ⅞ yard of 39 inch lining.

Shirley Temple's New Shetland Pony on Way to U. S. from England

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Shirley Temple soon will have a new Shetland pony.

Samuel of Speen is its name and it is a gift of Joseph Schenck, chairman of the board of 20th Centry Fox studios.

Samuel is now on his way here from England. He was purchased as a surprise gift, but the pony's owner put Samuel on exhibition in a zoo labeled "Shirley's own," so the secret is out.

Samuel is traveling in style across the Atlantic in the Queen Mary.

Fall Skirts Are Shorter; Look to Your Ankles

Beauty Adviser Gives Some Leg Exercises.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

This time we can say with definite assurance that the skirtlength for fall is on the up and up. Fourteen inches high is the rule. Your fur coats are going to be above the skirt hemline, so, all in all, it looks as if the legs were going to be on view again.

The other day we saw a photograph of a short skirted young stylist among a group of young college girls in last year's skirtlength. One look proved that the shorter skirt is by far generally more becoming than the ankle length [or near it] of recent seasons. Feet look better with the skirt frame lifted a few inches higher. Even not perfect feet! The skirtlength that ends just above the ankles somehow cuts the leg silhouette too awkwardly. So you'll be hopping right into the shorter skirts before the next snow flies, or you're not the Eve man expects all girls to be.

But, have you the legs? That, after all, is going to be the test, isn't it? You have a few good weeks to get them trimmed down in case they don't subscribe to the perfect measurements.

How, you ask?

Try this one: With hands on hips, run all over the place, lifting knees higher than a prancing horse, toes pointed down hard.

And try this: Stand with feet together. Jump, placing them wide apart. Back to position. Jump again, back. Repeat again and again.

And this: Rise on toes, lifting the heels high. Sink down to floor again. Rise, sink. Repeat fifty times and you may be sure that you're doing something to make the new skirtlength a success.

Then, this old timer, which is one of the best for leg workout: If you have a bicycle, get out on it every minute you can for long rides. You can't beat the bike way of slimming down the leg and ankle. If you haven't the time, place, or money for a bicycle, just pretend you have one and go through the leg movements from a prone on your back position. But do your pedaling with enough vim to make you realize that bicycling isn't like riding in a boardwalk chair. And keep on pedaling like everything!

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

CHAPTER III.

The Practical Application of the Defensive Table.

The practical application of defensive honor tricks comes up at every stage of bidding. It enables the player to estimate:

1. The limit of the opponents' trump contract.
2. The exact value of the hand when average, below, or above average.
3. The balance of strength in partner's and opponents' hands at any bid.
4. The game, slam or no-game expectancy at partnership's own bids.

Defensive Valuation of Opponents' Trump Bids.

In order that he may estimate the probable limits of the opponents' trump bid for the purposes of the penalty double and sacrifice overbids, the player should [1] add the number of honor-tricks as shown by or inferred from partner to his own honor and trump tricks, and [2] subtract the total from 13.

The result is the approximate maximum number of tricks available to the opponents.

Trump Tricks.

Honor tricks in the side suits are valued at their defensive value, but the trump tricks in a player's own hand are valued at their expected playing value. For instance, if the opponents are bidding spades, ♠ Q J 10 3 are worth two winners; ♠ Q 10 9 6 can be valued as two tricks, if the trump bid is on the right and the bidder's partner repeatedly denies the suit.

TODAY'S HAND.

Among my most prolific contributors is J. C. Stablein of Seattle, Washington, who seems to possess a special genius in the field of safety plays. He apparently delights in pointing out [always accurately] that the technique used by generations of bridge players on certain type hands is faulty. He always, of course, charts the proper line of play. Today's hand is an illustration of Mr. Stablein's skill at analysis.

North, dealer.

♦ A 5

WEST
♠ Q 5 3

SOUTH
♥ A Q 10
♦ Q 8 2
♣ None

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	4 spades	Double
Redouble	Pass	Pass	Pass

After North's initial pass, South felt there was little chance for a slam, and therefore decided to contract directly for game. West's double was, of course, of the gambling variety but not bad. He could hardly tell that South's bid was as sound as it was, or that North would turn up with two aces. Now, I quote Mr. Stablein's terse analysis:

"After taking the ace of club on the opening lead it may appear that there are several methods of play that might be essayed. However, a heart should be discarded on the ace of clubs and the ace and a small diamond led. If the king is with East the queen becomes established; if with West the latter can make no return which will not permit a diamond ruff, unless he leads into South's trump tenace or heart tenace."

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Please state the correct bidding on the following hands, opponents making no bid:

South	North
♠ A K Q 6	♠ 4 3
♥ Q 9 8 4	♥ A J 5 3
♦ 5 2	♦ Q J 10 9 7 4
♣ A 7 4	♣ 10

Answer: The correct bidding is as follows:

South	North
1 spade	2 diamonds
2 hearts	3 hearts
3 no trump	4 hearts

You will note that I have recommended the bid of a very shaded suit when I give two hearts as the only logical second bid of South's.

Name Soloists of New Season for Orchestra

First Concert Is Scheduled for October 15.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Among the world famous instrumentalists to appear this year with the Chicago Symphony orchestra, whose forty-sixth season opens on Oct. 15, are Vladimir Horowitz and Josef Hofmann, pianists; Fritz Kreisler and Albert Spalding, violinists, and Gregor Piatigorsky, cellist. This will be the thirty-second year of Frederick Stock's leadership.

The soloists new to Chicago in the 1936-'37 list are Gaspar Cassado, cellist; Jan Smeterlin and Rosalyn Tureck, pianists, and Stephen Hero, violinist. The last is a son-in-law of Jose Iturbi. He will appear under Iturbi's direction at one of the Tuesday concerts. The famous Russian composer, Serge Prokofieff, is the only other guest conductor scheduled.

A complete list of soloists will appear in the music section of this newspaper next Sunday.

Following is the program for the gala final concert of the Grant park series, to be played Sunday, Sept. 13, by the combined forces of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, the Woman's Symphony orchestra, the Chicago Civic Opera orchestra, and the Chicago Philharmonic orchestra. Frederick Stock will direct.

1. Overture, "Solennelle" ....Glazounow
2. Symphony in E minor......Rachmaninoff
3. "Sigurd Jorsalfur" Suite............Grieg
4. Adagio of violin concerto..........Sibelius
   [Played by all of the first violins.]
5. "Ride of the Valkyries"...........Wagner
6. "Les Preludes"........................Liszt
7. "Wine, Women and Song"........Strauss

Milton Douglas, young baritone now featured in the floor show at the Empire room of the Palmer house, will be soloist tonight with the Marcelli Symphonic band at Grant park. Not many years ago young Douglas was working for the New York Stock exchange as messenger boy.

When Ralph Ginsburgh appears Sunday evening as soloist with the Woman's Symphony orchestra, he will be using a Guarnerius violin valued at $40,000 from the Lyon & Healy collection of rare old violins. The instrument was made in 1737 and was in the possession of one family in Geneva, Switzerland, for more than a century and a half. It is known as the "Joseph of Geneva."

The university college of Northwestern university announces its second annual series of concerts and lectures on "The History and Enjoyment of Music," beginning Sept. 28. Concerts will be given at the Auditorium theater, with special programs at Thorne hall on the McKinlock campus.

Virginia Ashcraft Is Bride

MR. AND MRS. GERALD HEWITT SMITH.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Ashcraft Is Married to Gerald Smith

Miss Virginia Ashcraft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Ashcraft Jr., became the bride of Gerald Hewitt Smith of New York City at one of the first weddings of the autumn yesterday afternoon at St. Mark's church in Evanston.

Bishop George Craig Stewart of the Chicago Episcopal diocese, performed the ceremony before the fern-banked altar. Tall standards of tapers illuminated the dim interior of the church.

The garden of the Ashcraft's home in Asbury avenue was a lovely setting for the reception afterward. The twelve bridesmaids received with the Ashcrafts and their daughter and son-in-law under an elm at one end of the garden, the green foliage a soft background for the vivid blue of their gowns.

Tables had been placed about the long pool in the sunken garden, and the guests gathered here and under the pergola where a string orchestra played softly, and the bride's cake stood embowered in towering bouquets of lilies.

The bride was charming in a white satin gown cut on princess lines. The heirloom lace trimming the high neck and the long sleeves had adorned the wedding dress of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edwin M. Ashcraft III. The long bridal veil of tulle was held in place by a circlet of seed pearls, and the bride carried a sheaf bouquet of white orchids and valley lillies and a prayer book.

The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Amond G. Smith of New York.

Virginia Polytechnic.

The Chicago chapter of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute Alumni Association will hold its annual picnic and outing tomorrow at Camp Bemis South, near the intersection of Wolf road and U. S. highway 34. D. P. Clemmer, 3919 Pine Grove avenue, is president.

The Stage

The Theater Guild promises its Chicago subscribers for the season of 1936-'37 the following productions: "End of Summer," by S. N. Behrman, with Ina Claire as star; "Idiot's Delight," by Robert Sherwood, with Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne as stars, and "Call It a Day," by Dodie Smith, with Gladys Cooper and Philip Merivale as stars.

Three plays staged by other managements will also come to Chicago under the Guild's subscription plan, which is trade-marked as the American Theater society. They will be "Pride and Prejudice," a dramatization of Jane Austen's novel, staged by Max Gordon; "Lady Precious Stream," by H. I. Hsiung, under the auspices of Morris Gest, and "The Children's Hour," by Lillian Hellman. The first play of the schedule will be "Lady Precious Stream," which is announced for a two weeks' engagement in the Harris theater beginning Sept. 28.

The Theater Guild's Chicago representatives say they have been informed that the city administration will not sanction performances of "The Children's Hour" here. Nevertheless the New York office announces a Chicago booking. A movie version of the play has already been exhibited in this city, with the questionable aspects of the story removed.

Charles Laughton the movie star, will return to the American stage this fall in a play called "Promise," to be presented by Gilbert Miller. He will be co-starred with Sir Cedric Hardwicke, a London actor. The work is by Henry Bernstein, French dramatist.

Many Guests Will Be in City for Labor Day

Lake Forest to Be Scene of Gay Dinner Parties.

BY JUDITH CASS.

NEVER have prospects of a festive Labor day been brighter for the stay-at-homes, since almost as many visitors are arriving to spend the holiday here as there are Chicagoans leaving town for the long week-end.

Lake Forest will be gay. Among the guests there are the Wayne Chatfield Taylors, who are visiting the Philip D. Armours over the holiday. Mrs. Taylor arrived yesterday from Wyoming with Miss Adelaide and Hobart Chatfield Taylor, and Mr. Taylor has come on from Washington, D. C., to join them.

Mr. and Mrs. John Andrews King, just back from a month in Maine, are giving a dinner Sunday night for the Taylors, and numerous other parties are being arranged by their old friends. Philip Armour Jr. and the young Taylors, who also are old friends, will be busy with the activities of the sub-deb group.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Addington are arriving from the east to spend the week-end with Gen. and Mrs. Robert E. Wood. The entire family will be reunited at dinner on Labor day, with the exception of Robert W. Wood, who is returning today to Texas after a brief visit with his family. The Addingtons will be here until the middle of next week, when they will go to Wabash, Ind., where Mr. Addington has been transferred on business.

One of the gayest events of the week-end for the young married people will be the dinner which Mrs. Addington's sister and brother-in-law, the junior Calvin Fentresses, and the Gordon P. Kelleys are giving Sunday night at the Shoreacres.

Give Dinner Tonight for Brownie Baum.

Another gay evening party in Lake Forest is the dinner the A. Thomas Taylors and her sister, Miss Marie Swift, will give tonight for their cousin, Miss Brownie Bess Baum, who is to be married tomorrow. Miss Baum and her fiancé, Alfred Gawthrop of Wilmington, Del., and several of her old Lake Forest friends will have dinner at the Louis F. Swift estate in Lake Forest, where the Gustavus F. Swifts, parents of Mrs. Taylor and Miss Swift, are living this summer.

Tomorrow night many of the same group will drive to the Gustavus Swifts' house in the grounds of the Shoreacres club to attend the Gawthrop-Baum wedding. The James E. Baums have taken the house for the month, and their relatives and a few close friends have been invited tomorrow to witness the quiet ceremony and to drink a toast to the bride and bridegroom.

There will be some gay week-end parties out of town, too, for at the Buckingham Chandlers' hospitable home, Lawn Beach, in Green Lake, Wis., Mrs. Chandler's three daughters, the Misses Eleanor, Betty and Celia Coit, will be hostesses to a group of young friends. Among their guests will be Miss Barbara Lawrence, Miss Marjorie Street, Nelson Thomasson III., Peter Moon, A. Howard Richardson Jr., and George Lill.

Miss Elizabeth and Miss Eleanor Coit have sent out invitations to a small dinner for their sister next Thursday at the Drake hotel. Miss Celia, who is to be a debutante this season, will return to Winnetka just a day or two before the party. Mrs. Chandler has put off her daughter's formal debut from a tea this month until Christmas time, when she probably will give a dance for the bud. Miss Coit will leave for Vassar Sept. 16.

Mrs. Chandler will come from

IF you've never had the pleasure of seeing humming birds poised in the air above a flower garden, their tiny wings whirring, you might take a trip to the northeast corner of Kimbark avenue and 53d street some afternoon soon. There, if you arrive fortuitously, you will see a whole family of humming birds sipping honey from the flowered bushes that grow there. The heavy early evening trafic and the fact that it is a shopping vicinity does not deter the tiny creatures from gathering their evening meal. They are quite tame—and one Chicagoan—his name is Robert Kramer, came close enough to touch them without their flying off.

WHAT'S-IN-A-NAME note. The Pittsburgh Coal company of Wisconsin is located in Duluth, Minn. But then, think of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool company, which holds its annual meeting in New Jersey, owns its own building in New York, where its offices are located, and has manufacturing plants in three states and three foreign countries, but none in Chicago.

IN the morning mail [from Joliet] "I read with interest the story about former Gov. Fifer. We had him on our centennial celebration of Will county and he made the best address I have ever heard. He spoke for an hour, seated in a chair. . . . He quoted the year and named the acquisition of every piece of territory acquired by the United States since 1787. He had no manuscript or notes. His most striking figure of speech was: 'The common people will cling to their liberties like a lost sinner to the Rock of Ages.'

AMONG the personalities of interest in town this week was Hans Alin, young Swedish playwright, author of "Robespierre" and other pieces. Mr. Alin and W. Raymond Jamieson of Shullsburg, Wis., left Chicago yesterday for a Wisconsin retreat to work together on an English translation of Strindberg's "Queen Christina," with an eye to Broadway production. Mr. Jamieson has done other translations from the Swedish, including Strindberg's "The Pelican," which was produced in 1929 by the Provincetown players. Slender, sun-tanned, blue-eyed, Hans Alin is said to have been a protégé of Strindberg's. A dramatic critic once printed that in Stockholm people go to the theater to see favorite stars, but that in the rest of Sweden they go to the theater to see plays of Ibsen, Strindberg, or Hans Alin.

The Swedish playwright came on to Chicago after a visit at the home of Artist Katherine Dreier, in West Redding, Conn., where Marcel Duchamps, painter of what is perhaps the most famous cubistic painting in the world, "Nude Descending a Staircase," was a fellow guest. Duchamps has gone on to Los Angeles where the present owner of his famous painting, Walter Conrad Arensberg, lives, and Mr. Alin, who has a letter from Miss Dreier to the Arensbergs, will go west when the play translation is done.

Through the Looking Glass

Some people like sailboats, some like snuffboxes, and some, for a hobby, like beautiful bottles. If you're in the last class [and we're afraid we're there] you should hop downtown to see the latest shipment of imports in one of the shops. They're dreams come true in crystal. Nothing more decorative for your dressing table can possibly be imagined.

Prices vary, of course. There are some inexpensive finds and some elaborate examples of the glass blower's art that will run into money. But all are exciting if you like beautiful bottles.

Our own favorites are the modern ones, simple and stunning, in clear crystal. But there are literally dozens of others for those who like the delicate, rather fanciful touch. There are small ones with huge, elaborately designed stoppers; some in clear crystal, some in colors. There's one stunner in crystal with two blue glass birds standing guard over the stopper.

These are marvelous gifts for the woman who likes luxuries. They give a bedroom a luxurious, feminine touch that the average woman revels in. Perfumes are ten times more beloved of their owner if they are in a bottle that is a joy in itself.

Some are equipped with atomizers, and these, too, are beautifully executed. These will probably be preferred by the woman who takes her perfumes seriously, since it's one of the first principles of perfume use that it should be sprayed, not dabbed.

Furtwaengler Given Clear Path to Return to Berlin Opera Post

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—The way for the return of Wilhelm Furtwaengler as director of the Berlin opera was cleared today when Clemens Krauss was transferred to Munich as artistic director of the Bavarian State opera.

Herr Krauss was brought from Vienna to succeed Furtwaengler when the latter resigned all his offices in December, 1934, following a National Socialist attack on him because of his public defense of Paul Hindemith. Furtwaengler's popularity was such, however, that within a few months he was publicly rehabilitated. He won great ovations when he resumed conducting the Berlin Philharmonic, but before he could return to the Berlin opera Krauss had to vacate his new office.

Fall Dresses Copy Lines of Summer Hits

Offer One Piece Models in Thin Wools and Crepes.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Probably more smart one piece dresses were worn last summer than ever before. All of them were carefully designed, perfect trim outfits for street, and every one owned as many as she dared boast about.

Remember the clever button down the front affairs, the engagingly simple numbers with constrasting tape or braid trim, with chest pockets outlined with the same braid as that down the center, and the crisp, little upstanding collar and the two piece effects, that fooled thousands because they looked exactly like very prim tailored suits?

Believing that such good models should be repeated, enterprising designers have entered some similar models in the early fall and winter collections and they're going strong. Stunning high colored wools have crisp, thin straight silhouettes, square cut shoulderlines, long sleeves, and cleverly concealed plaits in the skirtline. These dresses with such tremendously interesting details are ready for the big rush. Shiny flat braid edges appear on some pockets; fur tails or bands of fur crust some hip pockets, and there are all kinds of decorative metal buttons, literally dozens of them, and wide effective belts to give the necessary swing to perfect "first" frocks to wear with and without a fur piece.

Dull green, mustard yellow, copper brown, and vivid combinations of green-blue bands against leaf brown are just a few of the best finds. One model we found has enameled zippers in bright blue down the front and sleeves of a brown dress. Another henna red affair uses the glitter of silver metal ball buttons down the front closing and up the cuffs.

Still another has a huge metal belt buckle and a clip at the neckline, while a sleek smart black dress has a multi-strand necklace of seed pearls as the only relief for the all black streamline. Whether you need thin wools or novelty dull crêpes, this collection with unusually low price marks is one to see.

Fashion photograph . . . from the above described collection of dull crêpe dresses for immediate wear. The color is a lovely soft dull green, with the skirt slightly flared, the sleeves long and gracefully draped and the shirring on the blouse held in place with stunning green gold metal buttons in the shape of maple leaves. A pair of larger leaves holds the crush belt in position. It is obtainable in a Chicago store.

Film Actor Seriously Injured in 20 Foot Fall to Stage Floor

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Ray Finney, 36, a stage and screen player, was seriously injured today when he tripped during a movie scene and fell 20 feet to the floor of a stage.

Dr. Geoffrey Grace, studio physician, said both of Finney's arms were broken, several ribs fractured, and he may have internal injuries and a skull fracture. Dr. Grace said the actor's steel trench helmet averted injuries that might have been fatal.

Finney was playing a British soldier in "Love Under Fire," a film centered around street battles of the Irish rebellion. He was to leap from the roof of a building to the street.

Instead, said studio attendants, he tripped over his rifle and plunged head first to the stage.

Finney has played numerous small rôles in Hollywood. Before coming here he appeared on the New York stage.

SYNOPSIS.

Shortly after the world war Roger Mallard, handsome young Englishman, is embittered by the loss of hearing in one ear from a war injury. Mal has been raised by his godfather, William Grimwold, an actor. At a New Year's eve party Mal meets lovely young Pamella Wyeth, though he forgets her on meeting Zelda Manners, whom he marries a month later. The marriage ends disastrously. In a rage at his failure to make a living on the stage, Zelda flings a mirror at Mal and unknowingly destroys the hearing in his other ear. Fourteen years later Mal, under Grimmy's tutelage, has become a great success in pictures, hiding his affliction from his public. Zelda has refused him a divorce. Pamella Wyeth has a home in Pasadena. David Barkley, son of an old friend, boards with her. David invites Ellen Greet, young law stenographer, to a New Year's eve party at the hotel where Mallard lives and asks Pamella along as chaperon. Mal is mourning the sudden death of Grimmy. David, as a joke, has a boy page Ellen with a message that Roger Mallard wants to meet her. Mal, skilful at lip reading, is sitting at the next table. Attracted by Pamella, Mal introduces himself and asks to join their party. David and Ellen desert Pamella. Mal takes her home. There Mal drops on her couch unconscious. Pamella calls Dr. Ware. He says Mal has collapsed from shock and worry. Mal's business friends arrange to have him stay at Pamella's to recuperate. David is jealous of Ellen's interest in Mal, though Mal is only interested in Pamella. A letter from Zelda, delivered to Pamella's home, begging for a reconciliation, determines Mal to leave, fearing harm to Pamella's reputation.

INSTALMENT XXXV.

SECRETS SHARED.

Mal stared into the fire, only permitting himself the briefest glances at Pamella's face.

"Pam—I haven't thought of vanity for years. I was sure there wasn't a shred of it left in me. Until I met you."

She sat upright on the couch, leaning toward him.

"Mal, how can you say that! You make me feel dreadfully. Why should I——"

"Because along with feelings never before experienced, you stirred up old ones long buried. I had become so used to the difficulties, you see. But after I met you, Pam, I began to have a great fear that you might find them very tiresome. That my voice, for instance, might be unpleasant—might be painful to you——"

Pam's eyes held his by sheer force of will. She was determined that he should see no shine of tears in hers.

"Mal—your voice and what you say with it are more beautiful and dear to me than I can ever tell you."

Mal's face quivered.

"Thank you, Pam! I believe you. I——"

Though his gaze fled for safety to the fire, he couldn't keep it there, lest he miss a word, a shade of meaning from her every thought.

"Something I caught David saying once stirred it all up," he smiled at her stiffly. "Gosh-awful, he called my voice. You see, dear, now that Grimwold is no longer here to keep everlastingly working with me—he never let a poor tone pass—though I'm clever with vibrations—I've wondered—Pam, when did you first discover that all I have to hear with is my eyes?"

Pamella longed to say, "when I began to really love you." But she could say nothing; she didn't even dare to look at him.

"You see, I had fooled every one for so long, even myself—for I can't remember when what I do became instinctive—that I was deeply—profoundly touched to find that you—you the very one I would want to understand, did understand it——"

"Pam, I can no longer stay here."

"Yes, Mal, I knew. Perhaps from the first—though dimly. Perhaps when I went up after your illness and found you on the balcony—but O, my dear, need it make any difference with you?"

"Only where it concerns you, Pamella. . . . The fact is, old rebellions, long ago choked down, have come up again to the surface. . . . You have become so dear to me, I want to be—I keep wondering about this and that."

"O, Mal, don't! You are making me cry."

"Forgive me! See what a selfish brute vanity can make of me. But it goes deeper than that with you, Pamella. . . . I don't know why I am harrowing you like this. But while we are on the subject, I'd like you to know about it. There may never be another chance."

Mal began speaking almost roughly as though he were tearing open something sealed deep within him. . . . He had no desire to harbor concealment with regard to himself, he told her. That was an idea fostered by Grimwold and Goldberg and a few of his friends and associates for professional reasons. "They seemed to take a vicarious pride in a skill that had become as habitual with me as breathing." . . . It had all begun long ago with an injury in the trenches. Later an attack of influenza and a silver mirror—vanity's own tool—finished off what was left.

"I think what happened to me at this later time, though hard enough, didn't cause me the sharpness of the agony I went through there at the start. . . . I used to break out in a cold sweat because, when lying in bed on my left side, I couldn't hear the tree toads! I went around pressing my head to clocks, and if I had to ask some one to repeat what was said, I was in torment. I was a passionate, proud, ambitious boy, going about maddeningly lopsided. Fear and rebellion had me by the throat. I kept sauntering down, down into hell. So that when the second injury came, it was fairly a relief to have the suspense over—to be plunged at last into almost total silence. A strange new world, Pamella, where life about me was only a fantastic pantomime. Where my own footfalls became a mere thud that jarred my body all the way to the top of my head. Where my own voice was just a weird vibration, and other people's voices nothing at all but moving lips that tired my eyes to watch. . . .

"Of course, it isn't absolute, blessed silence, Pam. There is always the boom and roar of your own pulse. Which maddens you at first. Drives you frantic, if you let it. But you soon grow used to it. Now I have to stop and listen to be conscious of it. . . . I confess I didn't try very hard to meet it. Far too long I made Grimwold's life impossible for him. More by his fists than by his clever tongue was I reclaimed and brought to my senses. Then I began to get real fun out of baffling people. As soon as I realized I could no longer depend on sound, I found I could develop great skill in other ways. From my earliest infancy, you must remember, diction and voice production were second nature to me. Then, Grimwold took me to the best in London. I learned fast—just as you do when you have to speak another language. . . .

"There, Pam, I didn't mean to distress you! Believe me, I rarely feel any lack now. Only occasionally with music. With your—with the voices of those I love——"

Mal broke off and lit a cigaret. He put such a deal of concentration into it that Pam thought she would never get his eyes back again. She leaned over and laid a hand on his knee. After a long look, she was at last able to say:

"Mal—thank you for letting me share your victory."

He seized her hand and kissed it.

"The public should know about this triumph, Mal——"

"Yes. Some day I want to write my story. It might help other people."

Mal got up and went over to the window. When he returned to his chair, his eyes were filled with the defeat he must also share with her.

"Now for a thing that's very hard for me to tell you," he said shortly. "The thing I came in here to discuss."

Pam slipped farther down upon the couch, trembling. She felt she couldn't take that which was torturing Mal's eyes, if she remained at all upright.

"Don't tell me, Mal!" she urged him. "You don't have to if it's as hard for you as—that——"

"But it concerns you. Or rather my relations with you. Pam, I—can no longer stay here. And to go away, leaving you so defenseless—but, Pam, I have to."

She was beyond forming the word "why" with her lips; but it blazed in her eyes.

"Yes, partly because of that ridiculous conception put on my disappearance New Year's eve. But chiefly because—the woman who is legally my wife knows I've been living here."

Pam sank down a little lower.

"You knew that, too, didn't you, Pam? That I am married?"

She slowly nodded her head.

"Yes," she acknowledged the truth with difficulty. "Yes, Mal. At least, I guessed it. But I've wondered——"

"It was craven of me not to explain it all to you. I couldn't bring myself to talk about it. . . . When I came here, I had reason to believe that my—that this woman was no longer in these parts.

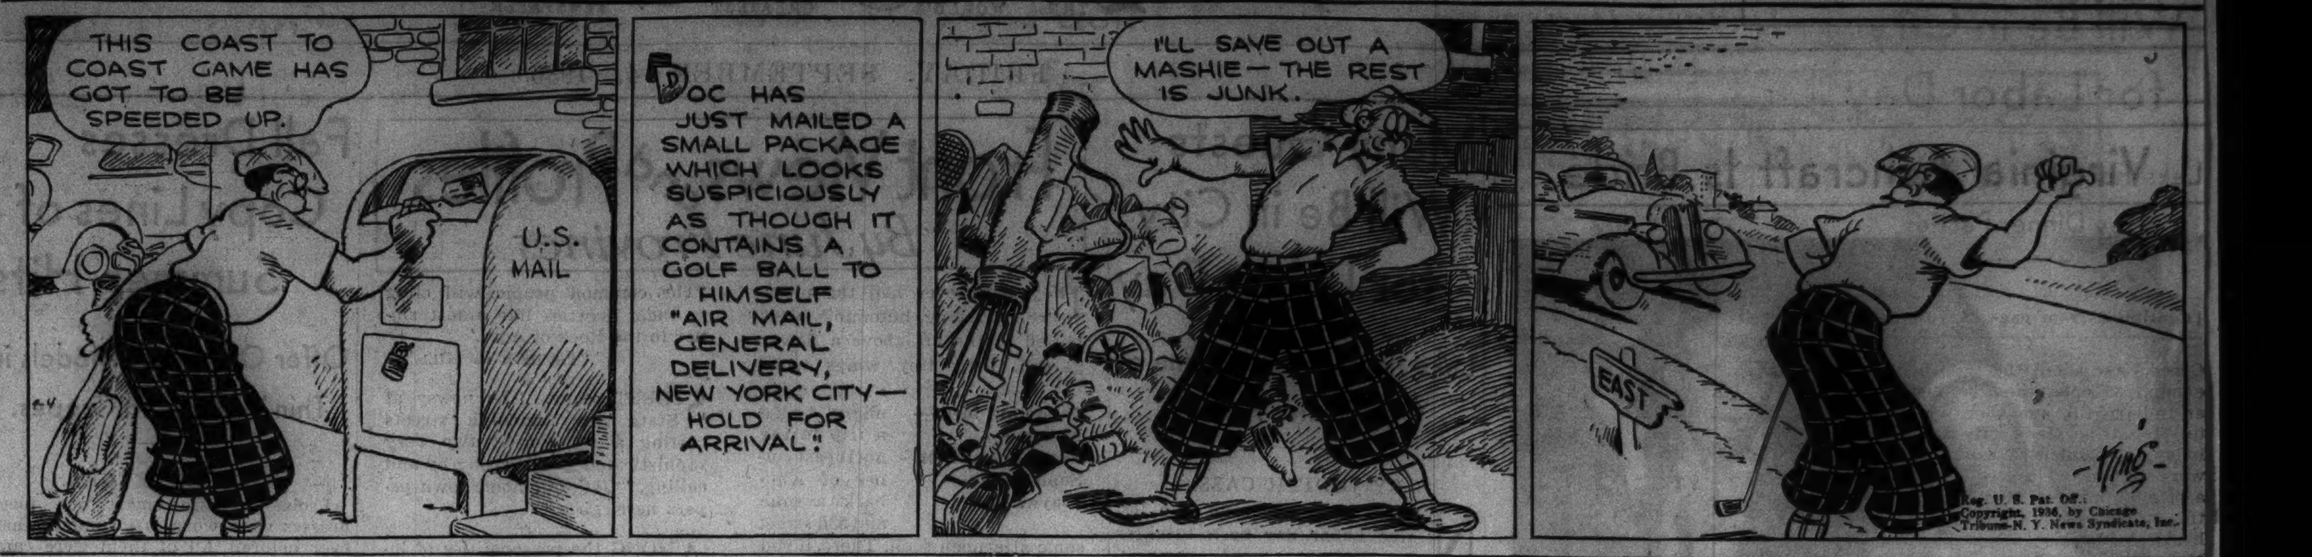
GASOLINE ALLEY—TRAVELING LIGHT



If You Feel Sorry for Mate Never Tell Him

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Being sympathetic," this married woman tells, she married the man, although she knew at the time that she didn't have the feeling for him a woman ought to have. But he turned out all right. For a few years everything went along serenely. Then the wife was introduced to a second man for whom she recognized the feelings she should have had for her husband. He simply bowled her over. Well, in a perturbed state of mind one day the woman told her husband how she felt toward him and toward this second person.

The second one has been no ardent pursuer, seemingly quite taken up with an eligible young girl. So there is no likelihood of a triangle. But what really has changed the atmosphere of the woman's home is her husband's reaction to her recent confession.

"I tried to make him understand that I had no intention of leaving him, that I would see my marriage through. But he has been as angry as a boiled owl ever since that night I told him that I had the feeling for this other man that I should have had for him.

"What drove him crazy was to think that I married him because I felt sorry for him. He refers to that in the meanest words. He used to be generous with me. Now he says he will pay all the bills and give me a limited amount each week for my own expenses. I was only trying to be honest with him, and I don't see why he should turn on me the way he has done!"

While we doubt that the damage ever will be repaired, the incident may serve as a warning to other wives not to expose their state of heart unless it is one flattering to the mate. We can't imagine anything that would be less welcome to our ears, as a man, than to be told we were married because some one felt sorry for us and that this "sympathetic" act of a woman had cheated her out of the big flame of her life. We'd hold that against the woman until the day she died. We wouldn't be of normal composition [if we were a man] and received the news otherwise.

So, wives, don't go revealing any secret longings, unless you are prepared to give your present victim his freedom.

Mary Stone, Chinese Woman Physician, Is Guest at Banquet

Dr. Mary Stone, Chinese woman physician who heads a large medical center in Shanghai, was the special guest last evening at a dinner given by Chicago women physicians at the Women and Children's hospital, 1606 Maypole avenue. Dr. Stone interned at the former Mary Thompson Women and Children's hospital, the precursor of the present institution, after her graduation from the University of Michigan school of medicine in 1896. Dr. Bertha Van Hoosen, head of the department of obstetrics at the Loyola university school of medicine, presided.

Dr. Stone related that she was the first Chinese woman to have unbound feet and that her father was the first Chinese to become a Christian minister. The Bethel mission center which she started 16 years ago with Miss Jenny Hughes, an evangelist, now occupies 8 acres in Shanghai, has 5 doctors, 250 nurses, 10 evangelists, 3 hospitals, 3 schools and a tabernacle, Dr. Stone said. In the preceding 25 years she had been one of two women physicians at Kieukang, where they were the only doctors for a population of 5,000,000. Miss Hughes also was a guest at the dinner.

Many Guests Will Be in City for Labor Day

Lake Forest to Be Scene of Gay Dinner Parties.

Green Lake about the 15th, just long enough to open the Chandler home at Indian Hill, and then will return to Wisconsin. Her brother and sister-in-law, the Robert Weston Babcocks, were seriously injured in a motor accident not far from Green Lake this summer, and after a siege in the hospital have been convalescing at Mrs. Chandler's home.

Gay House Parties at Desbarats.

Two gay house parties of Chicagoans are going to Desbarats for the holiday. The junior James O. Heyworths [Jean Stevens] have invited the Gaylord Donnelleys, the Conway H. Olmsteds, and Donald R. McLennan Jr. to spend the week-end with them on the senior Mrs. Heyworth's island.

The Hermon D. Smiths, who have been vacationing at the Robert J. Thornes' camp, have had the Adlai E. Stevensons, the junior Carroll H. Sudlers, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Welles as their guests for most of this week, and they will stay for the holiday.

The Thornes, just back from vacation trips, are spending Labor day in Lake Forest. Mr. Thorne was at Desbarats, Mrs. Thorne was in the east, and Miss Narcissa, the debutante of the family, has been visiting in Santa Barbara.

The George Gillespies returned this week from a motor trip in the east and will be with the Thornes until they return to Arizona Oct. 1. Mrs. Alexander B. Spence [Laura Thorne] left for home in Arizona Wednesday with her little daughter.

Mrs. George Corson Ellis, another of the Thornes' daughters, who has been in Lake Forest all summer, is entertaining for Miss Narcissa at dinner before the dance at which the debutante will be presented on Sept. 12.

The junior Edward F. Hamms originally had planned to spend Labor day at Castle Park, Mich., with his sister and brother-in-law, the junior Rush C. Butlers, but they have decided to remain in Winnetka over the holiday because Mrs. Hamm's brother, Fred W. Fairman Jr., and his bride, the former Caryl Ely, are returning tomorrow from their honeymoon in Hawaii.

Young Mr. and Mrs. Fairman will stay with the senior Fairmans in Winnetka until they find a house of their own. The senior Mrs. Fairman probably will give a reception for them later this month.

Hersey-Hart Nuptials Today.

About two dozen relatives and close friends will witness the ceremony at 5 o'clock this afternoon that will unite in marriage Mrs. Beatrice Burnet Hersey and Louis E. Hart Jr. The services will be read in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carpenter at 1320 North State street.

Mrs. Hersey will be married in a blue traveling suit trimmed in grey fox. Her flowers will be a corsage of lavender orchids, and her blue hat will match the suit. Among the guests will be the bride's aunt, Mrs. John Holbrook Hardin, who has come from Hayward, Wis., for the occasion, and her brother, Robert Burnet, and Mr. Hart's parents, the Louis E. Harts. Mr. Hardin is in the east.

The wedding was to have taken place at the home of Mrs. Americus Callahan, a great friend of Mrs. Hersey's late mother, Mrs. John Sidney Burnet, but decorators still are in Mrs. Callahan's apartment. Mr. Hart and his bride will make their home at 190 East Chestnut street. Mrs. Callahan is in England.

Dunham Woods Horse Show to Be Held Sunday.

Of interest over the holiday is the Dunham Woods Riding club's fifth annual horse show which will be held all day Sunday at the club in Wayne. Two hundred and fifty entries have been made in the show's 19 classes. Reservations are coming in daily for luncheon which will be served at the clubhouse to members and their guests, and in the coachhouse to spectators.

The committee is congratulating itself because all of the available parking space around the horse show ring has been sold to automobile owners at $5 a car, with six passengers permitted per vehicle. Members of the Wayne fire department, which will receive proceeds from the show to buy new equipment, and local farmers, have been assigned various duties at the parking lot taking tickets and unloading horses. By way of thanking these volunteers for their services, Joy Morton and the committee will give a dinner next Friday at the coachhouse.

Mrs. Robert R. McCormick, the Chauncey McCormicks, the Henry Stantons, the Nathan D. McClures, the David McDougals, and Mrs. Austin Pope are among those who have entered horses. Miss Betty Morton will ride with her parents in the family class, and she also will ride two of H. S. Mills' horses.

Family Class Popular One.

Brooks and Roger McCormick will ride with their parents, and Nathan Jr., Douglas and Barbara McClure will enter with their mother and father. Mr. and Mrs. Stanton, and James and Henry, rode Wednesday in the horse show at Castle Park, Mich., and with another son, Charles, the foursome will ride as a family group in Wayne.

David, Bill and Alec McDougal are arriving tomorrow from camp in Michigan to ride with the David McDougals in the family class, which is one of the most popular in the Dunham Woods show. Beth and Scott Davis will ride with the Ralph Davises.

Mrs. Charles R. Lindsay Jr., Mrs. Stanton, and Mrs. West Dunham will act as hostesses at the club during the show. Mr. and Mrs. Stone, who are building a beautiful new home near the St. Charles Golf club, will have guests over the week-end, and have made reservations for luncheon at the clubhouse on Sunday. Also entertaining at luncheon there will be George Fairweather, Mr. Davis, Gen. George Marshall, Miss Elizabeth Van Hagen, and John Ewing.

George S. Chappels Parents of Daughter.

George S. Chappell Jr. is pleased that the long holiday week-end has come at this time for he will have all the more leisure to spend at the Presbyterian hospital where a daughter was born to him and his wife, the former Caroline Smith, on Wednesday evening. The infant is the Chappells' third child, and another granddaughter for Mr. and Mrs. Solomon A. Smith.

From Santa Barbara comes word of the birth of the Clarence B. Mitchells' first son last Friday at the Cottage hospital there. The baby, who has three sisters, has been named Peter Buckingham. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garfield King are the child's maternal grandparents.

Mrs. Freeman Hinckley has decided not to introduce her elder daughter, Miss Eleanor McClurg, until 1937.

Invitations have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilmore Hanford of Columbus, O., to the wedding on Sept. 19 of their daughter, Katharine June, to Cortlandt Whitehead Guthrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Resley Neville Guthrie Jr. of Haverford, Pa., and grandson of the late Bishop Whitehead of Pittsburgh.

Old Star Pattern Is Basic Design in Quilt World

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

Aunt Lottie's Star.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Aunt Lottie's Star" is one of the oldest star patterns and is used as a basic pattern and a foundation upon which other star designs are built. It never has lost its charm or individuality, and usually is found on every clothesline when spring cleaning demands that the quilts be laundered before being packed away for summer. The combination of printed and plain materials is one of the favorite arrangements for "Aunt Lottie's Star."

WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Little, 2841 Mobile avenue, announce the marriage of their daughter, Alice Margaret, to Eugene A. Erickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Erickson of Hampshire, Ill., on Aug. 22 at the North Austin Methodist Episcopal church.

Miss Lorraine Little was her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Vivian Erickson, the bridegroom's sister, was a bridesmaid. Jesse Little, the bride's brother, was best man.

After a reception at the Littles' home, Mr. Erickson and his bride left on a wedding trip to the west. They will be at home in Hampshire today.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arner Windes of Winnetka announce the engagement of their daughter, Margery Bacon, to Herbert W. Wilson of San Francisco.

New Book of Poems Is Ideal for Little Child

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

I have just received a lovely book called "Sung Under the Silver Umbrella" [publisher, the Macmillan company of New York City].

It is a collection of poems for children who are less than 9 years old. But you needn't take this age classification too seriously, for you probably will enjoy these poems as much as your little son or daughter. The authors, the literature committee of the Association for Childhood Education [and don't be floored by the impressiveness of the name], have done an execellent job.

This anthology is unique in that it is not the choice of one or two editors, as so many of these collections of poems, stories, and so forth, are. The poems were selected and voted upon by several editors, and the children themselves have approved of them. It does not include Mother Goose and many of the better known rimes, but some folk rimes and jingles are in the collection.

There is such a variety of poems that any child can find many that he will love. There are folk poems, nonsense rhymes, poems about animals, "story" poems, and imaginative poems of simple but deep beauty.

The price of the book is $2.00. If you have $2.00 that you possibly can spare, it is one of the best bargains I know of, my definition of a bargain being "getting more than your money's worth."

Padraic Colum, in his introduction to this book, says: "The more verse they [children] hold in their minds the more mental and imaginative capital they possess."

Walgreen DRUG STORES

Today we introduce TABOO

A Vanishing Cream that Actually Stops Perspiration!

50¢

.. keeps underarms dry
.. ends underarm odor

TABOO does more than simply deodorize. It is a soothing, fragrant, pure white vanishing cream that actually stops underarm perspiration. One application of TABOO will keep your underarms dry and sweet, and your charm secure for days. Dries instantly ... not sticky ... and has no medicinal odor. We think TABOO is the one perfect way to underarm daintiness ... sure, safe, quick and easy ... and a delight to use!

LABOR DAY WILL CLIMAX RECORD MOTOR SEASON

Triple Holiday to Attract Final Heavy Trafic.

BY HAL FOUST.

The three day holiday beginning tomorrow and closing on Labor day will climax an automobile travel season surpassing even the boom years when "easy money" referred to the stock market. All indices indicate that more miles of highway have been covered for recreation this summer than ever before.

The three holidays will see the final heavy trafic movement of the year. Bert Vanderwarf, manager of the Chicago Motor club's touring bureau, estimated that 400,000 Chicago and suburban residents will make round trips of 800 miles or less starting late this afternoon, tonight and tomorrow morning.

Resorts Heavily Booked.

Resorts within 400 miles of Chicago are booked with reservations, which at some places have taken all sleeping accommodations.

Little highway congestion is expected before the late afternoon of Labor day although pavements will be busy throughout the week-end. State, county and city police have received assignments to help move the crowds.

Ernst Lieberman, state highway engineer, issued an appeal for drivers to exercise more than ordinary care. He pointed out that during the Labor day week-end last year there were thirty-two lives lost in trafic accidents in Illinois and there were 128 other mishaps resulting in personal injuries.

Wisconsin Dells Popular.

Judging from inquiries for road information, popular destinations for trips this week-end include Wisconsin Dells, 200 miles from Chicago; Devil's Lake state park, near Baraboo, Wis., 186 miles; Turkey Run state park, near Marshall, Ind., 151 miles, and Brown county state park, near Nashville, Ind., 250 miles.

Other resorts that will receive Chicagoans, classified by states and listed with the mileage from Chicago, include the following:

Illinois—Mississippi Palisades, Carroll county near Savanna, 146 miles; White Pines State park, Ogle county near Dixon, 105 miles; New Salem State park, Menard county near Petersburg, 209 miles; Blackhawk State park, Rock Island county near Rock Island, 171 miles; Giant City State park, Jackson and Union counties near Carbondale, 345 miles; Cahokia Mounds State park, Madison and St. Clair counties near East St. Louis, 297 miles.

Indiana—Clifty Falls State park in Jefferson county near Madison, 280 miles; McCormick Creek State park, Owen county near Spencer, 211 miles; Pokagon State park, Steuben county near Angola, 156 miles; Spring Mill State park, Lawrence county near Mitchell, 240 miles.

Wisconsin—Peninsula State park in Door county near Ephraim, 272 miles; Potawatomi State park, near Sturgeon Bay, 245 miles; Perrot State park, near Trempealeau, on the Mississippi river, 321 miles; Nelson Dewey State park, near Prairie du Chien, 250 miles.

Michigan—Muskegon State park, near Muskegon, 188 miles; Grand Haven State park, near Grand Haven, 175 miles; Van Buren State park, south of South Haven, 115 miles; Mason County State park, near Ludington, 254 miles.

All of these places report 1936 as a big tourist season. Michigan finds that its gasoline tax receipts are up 10 per cent over last year. National parks in the west have gains of 10 and 12 per cent over last year, making new all time records.

BRITISH KING VISITS GRAVES OF GALLIPOLI WAR DEAD IN TURKEY

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Sept. 3.—(AP)—King Edward VIII of England interrupted his vagabond cruise today for a pilgrimage to the graves of British war dead at Gallipoli.

A Turkish delegation boarded Edward's holiday yacht Nahlin at Tenedos Island to welcome the king to Turkish waters on behalf of President Kamal Ataturk. Disembarking at Sedd-Ul-Bahr, Edward and his party, accompanied by the Turkish group, motored to Gallipoli to place wreaths on the British graves.

Deny King Got a Ducking.

ATHENS, Greece, Sept. 3. — (AP) — The British legation today said it had heard nothing of an incident in which King Edward was reported to have been thrown into the water from a skiff he was rowing. The skiff was said to have capsized in the wake of a motorboat attached to the yacht.

O'BRIEN REFUSES COURT ADVICE TO PATCH MARRIAGE

Lawrence C. O'Brien, former state representative and once a Democratic power in the Forty-second ward, yesterday refused a final suggestion by Master in Chancery Henry L. Burman that he talk to his wife with a view toward reconciliation. O'Brien's wife Irene, has a separate maintenance suit pending against him in Superior court. She had agreed to talk with him and the master, but O'Brien said: "It's too late now."

Master Burman refused a request to continue the case, contained in a written statement O'Brien handed him. He has been hearing testimony on the matter at the request of Judge John P. McGoorty.

A report of the case probably will be completed next Tuesday, Master Burman said, and will be presented by counsel to whatever judge is hearing divorce motions.

WOUNDED TAVERN BURGLAR DIES.

Herbert Smith, 42 years old, 5728 South Parkway, colored, who was shot on Aug. 28 by Joseph Kiaud as he was robbing Kiaud's tavern at 6101 South State street, died of his wound yesterday in the Bridewell hospital.

Baby Fretful?

Avoid Constipation

Remember your baby is helpless, unable to point out that constipation is making its life miserable. You must be able to recognize the symptoms.

Convulsions, night terrors, grinding the teeth in sleep, feverishness, fretfulness—all indicate that poisons from baby's stagnant intestine are flooding the little body.

Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach, and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is so safe, so gentle and so natural in its action.

Nujol makes up for a deficiency of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular bowel movements without griping.

Just try Nujol regularly for the next month and see if your baby doesn't feel better than you ever suspected he could.

Ask your druggist for Nujol and insist on the genuine.

CUBS LOSE IN TENTH, 1 TO 0; SOX DIVIDE AT BOSTON

THE GUMPS—ON GUARD

FOURTH DODGER HIT EARNS RUN OFF PITCHER LEE

Champs Held to Six Safeties by Mungo.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Van Lingle Mungo and an errorless cast of Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday licked the Cubs, 1 to 0, in a fine ten inning battle with Bill Lee and an alert but handcuffed company of Cubs.

Lee held the Dodgers to four hits but he had a terrible time with Frenchy Bordagaray, once of the White Sox. Frenchy made three of the four hits off Lee and the last of these, a single with two out and Lonnie Frey on second as a result of a pass and a sacrifice by Mungo, drove in the afternoon's lone run.

The Cubs made their best bid for a run in the latter half of the tenth, but a one handed catch off his shoe laces by Johnny Cooney ended the game as Pinch Runner Tuck Stainback crossed the plate with the potential tying run. Gabby Hartnett had led off the tenth with a single and Stainback went to first to run for him. A sacrifice by English put Tuck on second. O'Dea batted for Lee and whiffed, then Allen drove a fly to center which seemed a sure hit until the aforesaid catch by Cooney.

Policeman Gums Up Play.

The Dodgers are supposed to do something funny in every game they play, but there was nothing amusing to the Cubs about the snappy way the Brooklyns played yesterday. The game, however, was not without its clown aspect. The comic note was supplied by Harry Hanson, mounted policeman, badge No. 3900, who fielded a fair ball which robbed Phil Cavarretta of a certain double and a possible triple with one out in the first inning.

If Phil had scored and the game otherwise had been played as it was, the Cubs would have won their seventh 1 to 0 victory of the year in nine innings. But befuddled coppers have gummed up the works many times before now, and we have no intention to make Policeman Hanson a scapegoat. The Cubs can't expect to win 1 to 0 every time they get hooked up in a swell pitching duel, coppers or no coppers, and Phil might not have scored anyhow, the way Mungo felt.

Walks Frey Three Times.

Next to Lee's inability to get the ball past Bordagaray was his inability to get it over the plate for Frey. Bill issued four passes, one of them intentional. The three that weren't intentional went to Frey his last three trips to the plate. The last of these, the fatal one in the tenth, was issued on four pitches.

The game marked the end of visitations by easterners to Wrigley field this year. It was the fifth victory the Dodgers have scored over the faded champs this season.

The Cubs probably would have scored in the first inning but for that copper's boner. After Allen had flied to Cooney, Cavarretta slashed a hit past first. The ball hooked to the bench in the Dodger bullpen, where Policeman Hanson was enjoying a light nap after a hard morning on his horse. The shout of the crowd brought Hanson out of his slumber with a start and when he saw a baseball bouncing around his vicinity he jumped up from his resting place and fielded it. He then made a perfect throw to Right Fielder Moore.

Cavarretta Sent Back to First.

Moore, however, knows more about baseball than Policeman Hanson, despite the fact the latter has been frequenting Wrigley field since Randy was a little boy. Randy did not try to relay Hanson's throw and Cavarretta reached third, only to be sent back to first base. The copper re-

Sox Take Opener Behind Whitehead, 3-2; Lose 2d, 5-0

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., Sept. 3.—The White Sox turned out one fine piece of work today and then rested on their laurels. They dusted off the highly temperamental Wes Ferrell, the man who thinks he's king, in the first half of a rainy double-header. But, after the fiery southern had been handed a dose of the kind of medicine he hates, the millionaire Red Sox bounced back and recorded an even break on the afternoon's toil. The scores were 3 to 2 and 5 to 0.

The year's concluding victory in the east resulted from John Whitehead's being just a bit better than Ferrell in the first game and the year's concluding defeat in the east can be charged mainly to the fact that the Chicagoans couldn't hit. They were stopped in their tracks by Johnny Marcum who, until the eighth, when Merritt [Sugar] Cain fell apart, thought he would have to win on one run, if at all. However, his mates made it easy for him with a belated four run rally, but the ex-Mackman didn't need it.

Sox Get Going in First.

The Sox took a short cut to register their success while the great Ferrell was pitching. They stepped on him with three hits and a pass in the opening inning, the actors in this bit of meritorious labor being Mule Haas, Luke Appling, Mike Kreevich, and Zeke Bonura. The blast which netted two runs didn't look important at the time but it was, especially after Whitehead had escaped on a one run yield despite six hits in the first three innings. After that shaky start he was a fine pitcher, what proved the winning run being scored by himself on a double by Jack Hayes in the fifth. The Chicagoans had all sorts of chances to make progress against Marcum in the second game, but Manager Dykes' batting order, which was revamped for the day, didn't function properly. They had one or more men on bases in every inning after the second, but none of them ever located the scoring counter.

Meanwhile Cain was doing a pretty good job of his own pitching, only six hits being cut loose against him prior to the eighth. Then he weakened and Clint Brown had trouble completing a rescue rôle.

FIRST GAME

The two run advance against Ferrell in the first inning of the opening game opened after Hayes and Rosenthal had been retired. Haas started the drive by singling to left and going to second when Rick Ferrell made a wild throw of a pitch back to Brother Wes. Appling walked. Kreevich punched a single through the right side of the infield, Haas scoring and Appling moving to third. Bonura also singled to right, Appling counting and Kreevich taking third. Piet's pop to Kroner ended the inning.

Manager Dykes wasn't exactly comfortable while watching Whitehead operate during the first two innings. Two hits with a fumble by Rosenthal put men on third and second with two out in the first. Appling's neat stop of Kroner's bounder behind second erased this threat. The second was worse. Cronin and McNair singled with none out, but Whitehead escaped. The Red Sox got him for one run in the third, however. Doubles by Cramer and Foxx were responsible.

Sox Add Another Run.

The Chicagoans made it 3 to 1 in the fifth on one hit. The stormy Ferrell invited this annoyance by walking Whitehead with none out. Hayes wanted to bunt, but took a swing instead and whistled a double down the left field line, Whitehead stopping at third. The best Rosenthal could supply was three strikes. Haas' out, Kroner to Foxx, gave Whitehead time to sneak home. Appling was retired in the same way to conclude the inning.

Rain was on the job in earnest by the time the Red Sox reached their turn at bat in the eighth, so the wabbling done by Whitehead was excusable.

Cramer opened with a two bagger to left and a pass to Foxx came next. After failing in an attempt to bunt

All-Americans Leave for Games in New York, Dallas

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The All-American squad which fought the Detroit Lions, professional football champions of the world, to a 7 to 7 tie Wednesday night dispersed yesterday just an hour before the Lions entrained for Detroit to continue preparations for their National Professional league season.

Others Go to Texas.

Others of the All-Star squad, including all the Texans, Larry Lutz of California and Bob Reynolds of Stanford, who was an outstanding tackle in Wednesday night's battle, left last night for Dallas, Tex., where they will oppose the Chicago Bears next Monday night in a centennial game.

Tuffy Leemans of George Washington university, who proved that the big names in football mean nothing in his life, went to New York where he will play with the New York Giants after the game next Tuesday. Leemans was the outstanding ball carrier of the Soldiers' field clash, although his fumble in the fourth period gave the Lions the opening by which they tied the score. Tuffy felt badly about that misplay yesterday as he strolled through the Sherman hotel lobby.

"I just dropped the ball," Tuffy said. "But it couldn't be helped. I'm sorry I didn't hold up in the pinch."

Wins Praise of Bystander.

"What do you mean, you didn't hold up?" a bystander remarked. "You were the best half back on the field. The coaches kept you in there regardless of the injury to your hand, and you not only outgained Bill Shakespeare and Jay Berwanger, but you threw the 40 yard pass to Butch Loebs which led to the touchdown by Babe Le Voir."

Berwanger was a marked man Wednesday night. He never was able to show the form which brought him so many plaudits during his three years at Chicago. Leemans was more rugged in his work and on one occasion, when he fought his way through five tacklers on a nine yard return of a punt, he had the thousands cheering him as no other All-Star was applauded.

More than 76,000 watched the third All-Star game sponsored by THE TRIBUNE. These thousands paid more than $130,000 despite the one night postponement which necessitated refunds to hundreds of out of town visitors who could not stay over. Many of these tickets were sold, however.

Fans See Real Game.

Financially the game was the greatest success. But more important, the spectators saw a real game in which the offense of both teams proved that this series of contests is more than an exhibition.

Al Lind, Northwestern center, suffered the only serious injury of the game. Lind's right hand was fractured when he accidentally struck

U. S. WALKER CUP TEAM DEFEATS BRITISH, 9 TO 0

Win Seven of the Eight Singles Matches.

Clementon, N. J., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Once more a British Walker cup team has come and gone—down in defeat. Defeat, however, is much too mild a word to describe what happened to the British invaders in this year's international matches which were concluded at Pine Valley today.

The team, rated as one of the strongest ever sent over to America, was the victim of the worst trouncing the British have yet received in the matches. Heretofore they have always been able to get at least one point outright, but this year the best they did was to halve three matches, two in the foursomes played yesterday. Today they lost seven singles and halved one, so that the score will go down in the record books as 9 to 0.

Sole British invader to stem the tide which ran so strong against them was Harry Bentley, English closed champion, who halved his match with George T. Dunlap Jr.

Smith Easiest Winner.

Altogether the Americans finished 42 holes up on the Britons, an average of 8 1-3 per match. This was only in the singles. Counting the foursomes they were 57 holes up during the two days of play.

To young Reynolds Smith went the honor of turning in the biggest margin. The 24 year old Texas oil salesman defeated G. Alex Hill, his solidly-built adversary, 11 and 9.

Charley Yates, the Atlanta youngster, and Johnny Fischer, tall, slender former University of Michigan star, scored 8 and 7 victories over J. Morton Dykes and Cecil Ewing, while Ed White, the other Texan on the team, won from J. D. A. Langley, 18 year old British boy's champion, 6 and 5.

Albert W. [Scotty] Campbell of Seattle disposed of Jack McLean, 5 and 4, and Johnny Goodman of Omaha beat young Hector Thomson, British amateur champion, 3 and 2.

Emery Goes to Last Green.

Walter Emery, Oklahoma star, had to get a half on the last green to save his match with Gordon B. Peters, the American winning, 1 up.

For a moment or two it appeared as if Emery might not do more than halve his match, for the bronzed Oklahoman struck his downhill putt a little too hard and the ball rolled five feet past the cup. He holed it, however, and, so far as he was concerned, the day was saved.

As usually has been the case in cup matches it was putting that made almost all the difference. In most instances the British hit the ball just as well off the tees and their iron play generally was just as good. But once on the greens the superiority of Americans was easily discernible.

HUBBELL, GIANTS BEAT DEAN AND CARDINALS, 2-1

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 3.—(AP)—The New York Giants wound up their most successful western invasion in years today with a 2 to 1 victory over the Cardinals in a pitching thriller in which Carl Hubbell bested Dizzy Dean both from the mound and at bat.

Aided by the batting of Gus Mancuso and Dick Bartell, who had a big hand in both New York runs, the lean portsider stopped the gas house gang with four hits, to boost the Giants' National league lead to four full games as they returned to the Polo grounds.

Eleven Straight for Carl.

It was Hubbell's eleventh straight victory and his twenty-first of the season, and gave the Giants a record of ten triumphs in thirteen starts since they left their home lot.

Dean held the New Yorkers to eight hits, but that wasn't good enough, leaving him with nine defeats and twenty-two victories for the season.

Although Mancuso with three singles, and Bartell with a double and a triple, were the batting big guns for the Giants, it was Hubbell who won his own ball game in the ninth.

Mancuso Starts It.

Mancuso had singled to right for his third hit of the game. Bartell advanced him to third with a two bagger inside the third base line. Bill Terry rushed Burgess Whitehead out to run for Mancuso, and Hubbell promptly sent him home with a fly to Pepper Martin in short right center for the winning run.

A crowd of more than 22,000 witnessed the game.

WALTER BAKKE NAMED TRAINER AT WISCONSIN

Madison, Wis., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—The appointment of Walter B. Bakke, Columbus, O., as trainer of the University of Wisconsin athletic teams, has been confirmed by the board of regents' executive committee, it was announced today.

Bakke, assistant trainer at Ohio State university for the last six years and now with the Columbus American association baseball club in a similar capacity, succeeds William J. Fallon, who was ousted along with Drs. Walter E. Meanwell and Clarence W. Spears in a departmental shakeup last winter. A former pupil of Matt Bullock at the University of Illinois, Bakke is due to report in a few days.

Milwaukee Wins Pennant; First Time in 22 Years

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 3.—The Milwaukee Brewers won the American association pennant today by defeating the Minneapolis Millers in both games of a double-header by identical scores of 9 to 5. It was the first time the Brewers have won a league championship since 1914, when Harry Clark was manager of the club.

Although they have six more games to play the Brewers are mathematically certain of the championship. St. Paul, which is in second place is now seven games behind Milwaukee and has six more games to play. Two of St. Paul's games were rained out and cannot be played. Should St. Paul win all six of its remaining games and the Brewers lose all six of theirs the final standing would be:

Fight Decisions

NEW CHAMPION'S FLURRY IN 15TH GAINS DECISION

Verdict of Referee, 2 Judges Unanimous.

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Lou Ambers punched his way into the world's lightweight championship tonight. The ebullient little hurricane from Herkimer, N. Y., won the decision over Tony Canzoneri, scarred veteran campaigner from Brooklyn, in a viciously waged battle of 15 rounds at Madison Square Garden.

The decision was an unanimous one and met with the complete satisfaction of the crowd of 19,000. Nevertheless, in spite of the complete accord of the officials and the onlookers, the fight was a close one, and only Ambers' inspired showing in the final round gained him the verdict.

Canzoneri, who a year ago last May handled Ambers pretty much as he pleased in a 15 round bout, was in the ring with a different fighter tonight. They started off with Canzoneri making his challenger fight the way he wanted him to fight, but Ambers quickly saw the error of his ways, and reverted to the whirlwind, swing-from-all-angles type of punching that earned him the name of the Herkimer hurricane.

Alternate in Winning Rounds.

While this style was not exactly to Canzoneri's liking, he gave just as much as he took throughout the battle. They more or less alternated in rounds won until the fifteenth. Then Ambers, sensing that the championship was in his grasp, sprang at Canzoneri with a fury that was not to be denied. He was insensitive to the punches that Tony threw at him. He jumped in with his whirling dervish attack and kept punching continuously, setting so fast a pace that Canzoneri could do but little more than try to hold him off.

The score cards of the referee and judges was hardly indicative of the closeness of the fight. Referee Arthur Donovan credited Ambers with 12 rounds, Judge George Kelly gave him nine, and Judge Charley Lynch gave him ten. One of the rounds that Canzoneri lost was taken away from him because of a low punch.

Ambers Cut Under Eye.

In the first round Canzoneri pegged several good lefts at Ambers' jaw and craftily stepped out of the way. He continued to depend on his left in the second, but Ambers returned enough lefts on his own account to win the round.

They traded rights eagerly enough in the third and fourth, with honors about even, and Canzoneri went ahead in the fifth when he tagged Ambers with a number of rights. Ambers suffered a cut under his right eye in this round.

They continued a pace as the battle wore on, first Ambers and then Canzoneri seeming to have a slight advantage. The distance did not seem to affect the older Tony as they passed the ten round mark. He held his own until the thirteenth. It was this round Tony lost because of a foul.

Canzoneri was strong enough in the fourteenth, and in the fifteenth, too. But Ambers fought so savagely in the fifteenth that mere strength was not sufficient.

Four Year Climb.

Ambers' rise to the championship was a four year climb. He started his professional career in 1932 in Herkimer, where he was born on Nov. 8, 1913, the son of fairly comfortable Italian immigrants. The family name was—and still is—D'Ambrosio.

Unexpected reversals to the family fortunes prompted Ambers to become a fighter. He was successful in his first try, for which he received $8.

Shortly afterward Lou came to New York. He had trouble getting opponents, but at length went in as a substitute against the late Tony Scarpati and won so clearly that he had little trouble subsequently finding work. Scarpati died of blows received in a subsequent battle with Ambers.

Loses First Canzoneri Bout.

Ambers had his big chance, previous to tonight, when Barney Ross gave up the lightweight championship more than a year ago. Canzoneri and Ambers were named to fight for the vacated title. The Herkimer fighter was decisively outpointed, but the setback did not discourage him. He beat back all opposition soundly in his succeedingly fights, with the result that he again earned the right for a chance at Canzoneri and the title.

It was not an entirely bad night for champions, however. In the semi-final, scheduled for 15 rounds, Mike Belloise, whom the New York state athletic commission recognizes as world's featherweight king, defended his claim to the championship by knocking out Dave Crowley of England in nine rounds.

The bout had an unsatisfactory ending, Crowley being counted out in 2:52 of the round as he lay on the canvas, claiming that the punch that laid him low was a low one. Referee Donovan, bound by commission rules to count over a fighter felled by a low punch, tolled off ten and declared Belloise the winner. He said he considered the punch a legal one.

Baby Casanova, the Mexican featherweight, stopped Petey Hayes of New York in the fourth round.

TENNIS GREATS WIN VICTORIES IN EASY STYLE

Perry, British Star, Clowns Through Three Sets.

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 3.—(AP)—The tennis giants marched into the second round of the national men's and women's tennis singles championships today without a single protest from the little fellows.

Everything went exactly as was expected. Fred Perry, the English favorite, clowned through a 6-0, 6-0, 6-2 victory over Alfred Jarvis of Tenafly, N. J.; Helen Jacobs was mercilessly consistent in winning two love sets in eighteen minutes from C. Esther Edwards of Bridgeport, Conn.; Don Budge, Oakland, Cal., disposed of George Seewagen of Jackson Heights, N. Y., 6-0, 6-1, 6-0, and Kay Stammers, the little English miss, was as efficient as ever in beating Grace Surber of New York, 6-1, 6-1.

Offer Merely Practice.

All other seeded players in the field did no more than practice in their early matches. John McDiarmid, Princeton, N. J., and J. Hal Surface, Kansas City, the only other seeded player who played in the men's tournament today, beat John Anderson, Hoboken, N. J., 6-3, 6-3, 6-2, and Dr. David O'Loughlin, Pittsburgh, 6-0, 6-3, 7-5, respectively.

In the women's division three other seeded players, Carolin Babcock, Los Angeles; Mary Greef Harris, Kansas City, and Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn, Philadelphia, advanced. Miss Babcock defeated Mrs. Josephine Gray Beach, Cincinnati, 6-3, 6-3; Mrs. Harris downed Catharine Sample of Miami, 6-3, 6-4, and Mrs. Van Ryn routed Lydia Kayser of Buffalo, 6-1, 6-0.

Hall Wins Tough Match.

Perhaps the best match of the day was the struggle of J. Gilbert Hall, eighth ranking player in the country, to defeat Bernard T. Welsh of Rockville, Md., 6-4, 3-6, 10-8, 6-4.

Bryan Grant, Atlanta; Sidney Wood, New York; Frankie Parker, Milwaukee; Bobby Riggs, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, Cambridge, Mass., will get under way tomorrow for the first time.

VINEYARD YACHT CLUB RETAINS SAILING TITLE

New York, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The Vineyard Haven [Mass.] Yacht club retained the national junior sailing championship today by finishing well up the list in each of three races which concluded the series on Great South bay.

Scoring 91½ points in the eleven races, Jack Ware, Ed Robie, and John Willis finished with a margin of 3¼ points over the Pequot Yacht club. Another Massachusetts entry, the Eastern Yacht club, finished third with 83¾, and Squantum, Mass., fourth, with 78½.

The midwest's entries, Sheridan Shore of Wilmette, Ill., and Sandusky, O., finished far down the line with 55½ and 42 points, respectively, although Dick Otter, Sheridan skipper, took second place in the final race.

Results of today's races:

NINTH RACE—Squantum, Mass., R. H. Darling; Eastern, Arthur P. Poor; Richmond County, N. Y., Roger Willcox; Sandusky, Ray Swanbeck; Vineyard Haven, J. H. Ware Jr.; Watch Hill, R. I., R. F. Conant; Duck Island, Conn., Richard Greene; Westhampton, N. Y., C. F. Froeb; Sheridan, Ill., R. R. Otter; Pequot, Charles Stetson; North Haven, Me., D. Arnold Jr. [disqualified].

TENTH RACE—Richmond, Pequot, Squantum, Westhampton, Duck Island, Eastern, Vineyard Haven, Sheridan, Sandusky, North Haven [withdrew], Watch Hill [disqualified].

ELEVENTH RACE AND FINAL POINT SCORES—Eastern, 83¾; Sheridan, 55½; Westhampton 72½; Pequot, 88¼; Watch Hill, 57¾; Vineyard Haven, 91½; Richmond, 74¾; Squantum, 78½; Duck Island, 32; North Haven, 46; Sandusky [withdrew] 42.

2d Olympic Group Lands in New York

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Police sirens screeched a welcome today for 81 American athletes, last to come home from the Olympic games in Berlin. The contingent came home aboard the liner Manhattan.

At the pier a cavalcade of 100 automobiles met the contestants, and this afternoon, in the stadium at Randall's Island, Mayor La Guardia welcomed them home and pinned medals on them.

With the mayor were Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney, Babe Ruth, Vincent Richards, Red Cagle, Earle Sande, Matt McGrath, Gertrude Ederle and other sports celebrities.

The welcome ended tonight when the athletes were guests of the mayor at a dinner.

Among those in the returning party was Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the National A. A. U.

Some of the athletes said they plan to turn professional, others said their plans were indefinite.

Ralph Metcalfe of Chicago, the colored sprinter, was thoroughly disgruntled.

"The athletes," he said, "lost money on expenses during the trip, and there were too many managers—too much passing the buck."

Metcalfe said he was not going to run in any more A. A. U. meets, but that he had not made up his mind about turning professional.

ARRANGE PLANS FOR FIREMEN'S GAME TUESDAY

Officials of the Chicago fire department yesterday left by plane for New York to complete details for the intercity firemen's baseball game to be played Tuesday at Wrigley field for the benefit of the Firemen's Mutual Aid and Benefit association. The officials who will be the escort for the New York team on its trip to Chicago are Edward Maloney, secretary of the fire department, and Acting Division Marshals Graham and Braband. The New York team will arrive Monday morning.

Bill Minarek and Rip Duncan have looked best in pitching workouts of the Chicago team and Manager Chester Sullivan has indicated that one or the other will be given the starting assignment.

ORVILLE WHITE, WITH 68, LEADS HERSHEY GOLF

Hershey, Pa., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Young Orville White, Overland, Mo., sharpshooter, swept into the lead of the fourth annual $5,000 Hershey open tournament today by scoring 68, five under par.

White's five birdies and thirteen pars, equaling Leo Diegel's mark in the tournament last year, placed him two strokes under Harry Cooper, Chicago, and Sam Snead, 25 year old Hot Springs, Va., professional.

Ed Dudley, winner of the first Hershey open in 1933, came in with 71, two under par. Behind him were Henry Picard, home club pro, and Al Espinosa, Akron, O., with 72 each.

Par, 73, was only good enough to land Byron Nelson of Ridgewood, N. J., in seventh place. Strung out behind him were Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill., 76; Leo Walper, Bethesda, Md., 74; Ted Luther, Girard, O., last year's champion, 75.

YANKEES POUND FELLER; DEFEAT INDIANS, 6 TO 4

Get Five Runs in First to Clinch Game.

New York, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The Yankees found Bob Feller, the boy strikeout sensation, just another pitcher with a fast ball today and clubbed him off the mound in one inning for a 6 to 4 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

The victory boosted their American league lead back to 17 games, as Lefty Gomez, who survived one bad inning, chalked up his 11th triumph against seven losses.

Phillies and Pirates Split, 4 to 3 and 5 to 1

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 3.—(AP)—The Pirates and the Phillies divided a double-header today, the Phillies winning the first, 4 to 3, and the Pirates the second, 5 to 1. Jensen's homer with two on bases in the fifth inning brought victory for the Pirates in the second game. Hoyt permitted eight hits, and Passeau, nine. Joe Bowman held the Pirates to seven hits to triumph over Red Lucas in the first game.

Sox Start for Home; Indians Here Tomorrow

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., Sept. 3.—After completing their eastern chores for the season the White Sox hopped an early westbound train for Chicago. They'll land there tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock. On Saturday they'll resume work with the Cleveland Indians at Comiskey park.

The $1,000 fine recently plastered on Wes Ferrell didn't completely curb his famous temper. When he walked Whitehead in the fifth inning of the opening game Wes tried his punting skill on the resin bag and booted it away out to shortstop position.

Paul Shannon, local scribe, had to frisk the family sugar bowl today for the price of a new hat. The hat went to Jim Dykes, who early in the season challenged Shannon's declaration that the Red Sox were a cinch to win the pennant.

Luke Appling's hitting streak was stopped at 27 games when Wes Ferrell stopped him in the opening battle. Big hearted Wes did the best he could about breaking the streak by slipping two passes to Luke. The season's longest string is 28 games by Hal Trosky of the Indians.

White Sox Beat Boston in First; Lose Second

Kroner sent a fly to Kreevich. Cronin singled past Whitehead's feet, Cramer scoring. McNair bounced to Appling and a double play was put together. Then Umpire McGowan decided to let the boys get in out of the wet. After a 25 minute delay the game went on to its finish without any untoward happenings.

SECOND GAME

The second battle was pleasingly orderly until the third inning when Cain was backed in a corner. He got away after one run had scored. Berg led off with a single to left. Marcum hit the left field wall for one base. Almada doubled to left, Berg scoring. Cain then went to work. Werber was coaxed into a pop to Bonura. Appling picked up Cramer's bounder and threw him out. Foxx was purposely passed, filling the bases, after which Bonura took a tall one off Kroner's bat.

Umpire Ormsby got tangled up in the fifth and the Red Sox would have profited by it if they, too, hadn't pulled a boner. Almada singled with one out and Werber flied to Kreevich. With a 3 and 1 count on Cramer, Ormsby called the next pitch a strike, but Cramer went to first and Almada moved to second. Then Ormsby realized a mistake had been made and called Cramer back to bat, but Almada stayed on second despite some eloquence from Manager Dykes. Cramer followed with a single through short, but Almada, forgetting that two were out, hugged second until the ball was past Appling, so that he was only able to reach third. Ormsby then called Foxx out on strikes.

Maybe It's the Umpires.

The Chicagoans had Haas on base as the result of a single with none out in the fourth, but made no progress. Bonura opened the fifth with a single and again nothing happened. In the sixth Rosenthal walked and Haas singled with two out, but Appling fanned. The Sox continued blind, or maybe it was the umpires, to opportunity in the seventh. Bonura walked and Piet singled with one out. Radcliff was fetched forth to bat for Shea and flied to Cramer. Piet was doubled going to second on the catch. At least, he was called out by Umpire Basil.

The 1 to 0 tension was relieved as soon as the home eighth opened. Werber opened with a double to left. Cramer bunted and the enemy coaches yelled, "Throw it to third." Cain mistook them for friends, so he made the throw and it was too late to get Werber. Foxx slapped a triple over first base. Werber and Cramer scoring. Brown rushed to Cain's assistance and Kroner doubled, Foxx scoring. Kroner scored the fourth run of the inning on a single by McNair.

Cardinals Cut 2 from Squad for First Game

Michigan City, Ind., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Coach Milan Creighton of the Chicago Cardinals today selected the squad which will open the season Sept. 13 at Green Bay. Two additional releases brought the total to four in the last two days. He said there would be no more cutting until after the first game.

The latest to feel the ax are George Tharp, a half back from the University of Nevada, and Lloyd Goodwin, a guard, from the College of the Ozarks. Both are attempting to find places with other teams.

Al Lind, center, and Jimmy Lawrence, half back, both of whom were members of the All-Star team, joined the squad here yesterday afternoon and are expected to get into their first drills tomorrow.

Coach Creighton announced there would be heavy contact work each morning until the Cardinals break camp late next week. Afternoon sessions will be devoted to lighter work of passing, kicking, and dummy scrimmages.

Yesterday's contact work was the first for the squad since the 70 to 0 victory over South Bend last Sunday. Guards and tackles received the major share of attention.

FOURTH HIT OFF LEE BEATS CUBS IN TENTH, 1 TO 0

Mungo Holds Champions to Six Safeties.

mained on the bullpen bench chatting with Dodger bullpen inmates for several innings. Then he went out, got his horse and rode away.

After Cavarretta had been sent back to first base he was forced by Herman. Herman stole second, but Demaree grounded to Bordagaray.

Gill singled with one out in the second inning but the sock promptly went to waste when Hartnett hit into a double play, Bordagaray to Frey to Hassett.

The first hit off Lee was a double which Bordagaray knocked with two out in the third. Cooney then grounded to English.

The next hit of the contest was a double off the left field wall by Demaree with two out in the fourth. Hack walked, but Gill whiffed.

The second Dodger hit also was the work of Bordagaray. Frenchy singled to left center in the sixth and advanced to second on Cooney's sacrifice. He executed a nice delayed steal to reach third, held on while Stripp bounced to Herman, and was stranded when Hassett fouled to Hartnett.

English led off the eighth with the Cubs' fourth hit, a single to left, but was forced on Lee's attempted sacrifice. Allen then hit into a double play launched by Frey.

The Dodgers pretty near finished things in the ninth. Stripp dropped a single back of second and when he rounded first Allen threw to the boxes in an effort to catch the runner going back to first. This let Stripp reach second. Hassett bounced to Cavarretta for the first out, Stripp reaching third. Phelps was given an intentional pass. Then Brandt ran for him. Jordan hit into a double play started by English after a nice play near second.

Cubs Play Today in Pittsburgh; French to Pitch

The Cubs will play in Pittsburgh this afternoon in the first of fifteen games in six cities. Larry French will pitch for the Cubs. Bill Swift is the probable Pirate starter.

After the three games in Pittsburgh the Cubs will move to Cincinnati for a Labor day double-header which will wind up the Cubs-Reds season series, a series, by the way, which stands at ten all, a most disgraceful ratio from the viewpoint of the proud Cubs.

According to reports from Cincinnati, the Reds are doing everything short of billboard advertising to tell what the Reds are going to do with Bill Jurges next Monday. Bill had a fist fight with Gilly Campbell in the final of the Reds' last series in Chicago.

Jurges was out of yesterday's game with the same type of stomach disorder that recently layed low Curt Davis and Gabby Hartnett.

2 FILLIES PERIL BOTTLE CAP IN JUVENILE STAKE

Will Be Well Supported in Handicap.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Two horsemen at Washington Park don't take much stock in that talk about Bottle Cap from the Millsdale stable of Chicago being the best two year old in the country. These optimistic owners are Henry H. Cross and Tom Worden, also of Chicago. Mr. Cross and most of his friends believe that his Tranquillity farm's unbeaten filly Challite will run away and hide from Bottle Cap in the $5,000 Washington juvenile handicap, which comes up for a decision tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Worden is equally certain that his speedy filly, Rifted Clouds, will not only run away from Bottle Cap but that she will also outrun Challite from start to finish. We shall find out all about these boasts come tomorrow.

Tough Going Prevails.

The races at Homewood were run over the most difficult track of the entire meeting yesterday. It took a powerful animal to pick them up and lay them down, for a warm sun was drying out the muddy going. Tomorrow's track may be good, possibly fast, but that doesn't bother the two fillies—Challite and Rifted Clouds—a bit.

Over any kind of going, their owners think they're superior to the much touted fellow from the Millsdale stable.

Challite's record is better than Rifted Cloud's, the youngster which right now is the pride and joy of Worden's extensive stable. The Washington Park juvenile stakes, with a dozen starters, will have a gross value of $7,000 for there were eighty nominations. Thus it will be the most important test for Bottle Cap, for his two filly rivals and for all the others which accept the issue over the six furlong route.

Rifted Clouds Started Slowly.

Rifted Clouds is a late season development. In her first two starts at Arlington Park she was out of the money. In both races she finished well after getting off slowly. On the occasion of her third start she was off flying and at the finish was cantering, six lengths in front of Danke Schon, Come To Taw, and other topnotch 2 year olds. Her time was 1:12 for six furlongs, which is as fast as juveniles have run the distance at Washington Park this season.

Bottle Cap will be ridden by Charley Corbett, Challite by Basil James, but owner Worden is still searching for a capable lad to ride Rifted Clouds. His contract rider, Buddy Haas, is under suspension for the meeting for a rough ride, and so far Worden has been unable to talk Steward C. J. Fitzgerald into giving Haas a reprieve for the stake race engagement.

Worden Fears Challite.

Worden fears the unbeaten Challite more than he does Bottle Cap, which was all out to beat Proph in his last start. So far the Tranquillity farm hasn't seen anything near enough to Challite for them to fear. But word is that Bottle Cap isn't worrying them as much as the possibility that Rifted Clouds is much better than most people suspect. There will be seven or eight youngsters in the race, a bad track will favor the chances of Lakeview and Exclaim, while Proph is considered a certain starter after his last good race. He may have a running mate in Perlette, which set a new track record at Homewood, not long ago. Fair Lead is considered a likely starter, too, but would prefer a fast track.

Good Betting Race.

However, the Bottle Cap-Challite duel, with Rifted Clouds a formidable factor, is the race right now and it is all that is needed to make the juvenile one of the most lively betting races of the season.

Despite the heavy track yesterday the big midweek gathering got a great thrill out of the running of the Beacon handicap at a mile and a furlong which featured the program.

Jocky Basil James turned in one of his most finished riding performances to get the decision on the noted mud runner Silent Shot, owned by John E. Hughes of Chicago, by a head over the 3 year old Understand, which races for ex-Ald. Billy O'Toole.

MIDGET AUTO STARS SEEK TO BREAK UP JINX

Three of the best known midget auto race drivers in the middle west, Emil Andres, Cowboy O'Rourke, and Art Hartsfeld, will have a double purpose in mind when they report tomorrow night at the Torrence Speedway, 169th street and Torrence avenue.

They will seek to break the spell of bad luck that has been annoying them the last few meets. Last week, Andres and O'Rourke turned in the fastest time trials and lined up abreast at the pole in the main event. Despite this advantage, however, both were forced to relinquish early leads after their cars broke down.

Hartsfeld, the former national motorcycle champion, has one of the speediest cars on the midget circuits, but has found his car refuses to hold to the track when he steps too heavily on the accelerator. If these drivers can overcome their ill luck, they will offer a serious threat to the prestige of Wally Zale, Marshall Lewis and Jimmy Snyder.

Tomorrow's race card will feature a twenty-five lap main event, three qualifying trials, handicap racing, a consolation race and an intercity team race. The races start at 8:30 p. m.

De Kalb to Chicago Bike Race Carded Sunday

The De Kalb to Chicago bicycle road race, sponsored by the Belgian-American Athletic club of Chicago, will be held Sunday. The race will start at De Kalb at 12:30 o'clock. The distance will be approximately 60 miles.

Time, :25, :51 2-5, 1:17 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Albino, $11.40 straight, $5.80 place, $5.40 show; Timberline, $9.00 place, $6.60 show; Lockstep, $4.20 show. Winner trained by B. Creech. Went to post at 2:20½. At post 5 minutes. Start good from gate. Won handily; place driving.

ALBINO, placed on the outside for the start and away slowly, began to work her way up on outside on the turn, came between horses after straightening out in stretch and, taking command inside the final eighth, drew out. TIMBERLINE, outrun early, saved ground and, responding gamely to pressure after five-eighths, closed strongly. LOCKSTEP, badly outrun for three-eighths, moved up fast thereafter and finished courageously.

SECOND RACE—One mile, out of chute. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50. [Daily double, 1st and 2d races, paid $137.80.]

Time, :24 1-5, :49 2-5, 1:16 1-5, 1:44 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Brown Witch, $26.80 straight, $12.20 place, $6.20 show; Harold Wiley, $7.00 place, $4.00 show; Black River, $3.40 show. Winner trained by B. Creech. Went to post at 2:52½. At post ½ minute. Start good from gate. Won easily; place driving.

BROWN WITCH, moved into contention after a quarter, easily disposed of BLACK RIVER on stretch turn, opened up a clear lead quickly and easily held sway to the end. HAROLD WILEY, raced wide, improved his position gradually and responded well to pressure in stretch, but did not menace winner. BLACK RIVER had the most speed from the start, saved ground, but gave way steadily after three-quarters.

THIRD RACE—One mile, out of chute. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :24 3-5, :50 2-5, 1:16 4-5, 1:46 3-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Imperial Betsy, $20.00 straight, $7.80 place, $4.80 show; Centennial, $4.20 place, $3.20 show; Roberta, $3.20 show. Winner trained by F. J. Mormile. Went to post at 3:21½. At post ½ minute. Start good from gate. Won driving; place same.

IMPERIAL BETSY, under strong restraint for five-eighths, during which she saved ground, came to outside entering stretch and, after slowly wearing down CENTENNIAL, came away gradually. The latter, well rated and saving ground the entire trip, stood strong urging gamely the final quarter, but could not withstand the winner. ROBERTA, a factor from the start and also well in hand early, was forced wide by winner entering stretch and held on well to the final eighth before tiring.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Claiming. Three year olds and up. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :24, :48 4-5, 1:16 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Below Zero, $17.80 straight, $6.20 place, $4.00 show; Nedrow, $5.40 place, $3.80 show; Grey Streak, $6.20 show. Winner trained by A. Swenke. Went to post at 3:51½. At post 2 minutes. Start good from gate. Won easily; place driving.

BELOW ZERO, suited by the going, but far back for a half mile, raced between horses when beginning to move up and, coming to outside of NEDROW while closing with a rush, quickly disposed of latter and had something left. NEDROW, raced to the lead on the inside, increased his advantage when entering the stretch and held on fairly well, though failing to withstand the winner. GREY STREAK, taken back sharply as PHAROSAY bore out soon after the start, raced under steadying restraint for a half mile and held on with good courage.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Beacon handicap. Three year olds and up. Purse $1,200. Net value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :25 4-5, :51 3-5, 1:18 2-5, 1:44 4-5, 1:58. Two dollar mutuels paid: Silent Shot, $4.60 straight, $3.00 place, $2.20 show; Understand, $4.80 place, $2.60 show; Fra Diavolo, $2.40 show. Winner trained by J. T. Kermath. Went to post at 4:20. At post 1 minute. Start good from gate. Won driving; place same.

SILENT SHOT, under a snug hold for seven-eighths and saving ground throughout, drew into a clear lead gradually when placed to strong hand riding and, holding on well, withstood UNDERSTAND'S rally. Latter forced the early pace under restraint, was shaken up approaching the stretch, failed to keep pace with winner soon after reaching the final quarter, but rallied in the late stages and was wearing down the victor. FRA DIAVOLO began to move up on outside after reaching the final half mile, neared the leaders entering the stretch, but later weakened and swerved to inside in the final furlong.

SIXTH RACE—One mile and 70 yards. Claiming. Three year olds and up. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

THE BREAK [L.Balaski]	108	4	6	$8^{1½}$	9^{6}	10	10	A.C.MacMaster	5.60-1

Time, :24 3-5, :49 1-5, 1:16 3-5, 1:44 1-5, 1:48 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Hit and Run, $27.60 straight, $14.00 place, $7.80 show; Natalie Alice, $9.20 place, $5.20 show; Red Rod, $4.60 show. Winner trained by W. Stock. Went to post at 4:47. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won easily; place driving.

HIT AND RUN, never far back, took the lead without need of pressure after five-eighths, easily increased his advantage and won cantering. NATALIE ALICE lacked early speed, but saved ground while improving position on the inside, came to the outside for the drive and closed gamely. RED ROD, having most early speed, gave way readily to winner and, after racing well for seven-eighths, tired.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-quarter miles. Claiming. Three year olds and up. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :26 3-5, :53 3-5, 1:20 1-5, 1:48 2-5, 2:17 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Brilliant Rose, $3.60 straight, $2.60 place, $2.40 show; Golden Nut, $6.00 place, $4.40 show; Harry Richman, $5.60 show. Winner trained by B. A. Jones. Went to post at 5:16. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won easily; place driving.

BRILLIANT ROSE, on inside for a mile and under strong restraint for seven-eighths, came around the leaders with a rush and drawing out into a long lead, was taken in hand, winning with something left. GOLDEN NUT stumbled slightly soon after the start, worked his way up between horses, came to outside for the drive and closed resolutely. HARRY RICHMAN, raced a trifle wide, was under steady restraint for a mile, responded to a mild shaking up entering the stretch and held on fairly well.

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Claiming. Three year olds. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $100; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Time, :25 4-5, :52 3-5, 1:20 3-5, 1:49 3-5, 2:04. Two dollar mutuels paid: Peggy's Peggy, $8.00 straight, $3.80 place, $2.80 show; Celiba, $3.60 place, $2.60 show; Canteron, $3.40 show. Winner trained by J. C. McAuliffe. Went to post at 5:46½. At post ½ minute. Start good. Won handily; place driving.

PEGGY'S PEGGY, a strong factor from the start and under stout restraint for seven-eighths, took command gradually and, drawing out in the final eighth, won handily. CELIBA, rated along under strong reserve for seven-eighths, slowly gave way to the winner and, tiring badly in the final eighth, swerved several times. CANTERON, well up three-eighths and saving much ground, had started through next to rail when forced back by CELIBA in the last eighth.

LINCOLN FIELDS' CARDS TO OFFER TWO MILE RACES

Crete Track Will Open Meet Wednesday.

The encouragement of distance racing, of events at a mile and a quarter and farther, will be attempted at the coming Lincoln Fields meeting. The Crete track, now equipped with a camera for calling the close ones, and more modern than ever before, opens its 28 day meeting next Wednesday.

All too few events for those thoroughbreds which "can run all day" are provided in the various tracks' condition books. For this reason few trainers are anxious to get their horses trained up to the longer distances, for once they have done that they haven't many opportunities to pick up a purse.

Plan Longer Events.

Two years ago at Detroit weekly route events were run with the sturdy ones working up to over two miles by the end of the meeting. If the response from the trainers at Lincoln Fields is such as to make this possible, Racing Secretary Will Shelley will see to it that Chicago racing followers see some of these events. The possibility of some stout hearted animal getting off poorly and settling into his stride slowly, and yet having time to make up lengths on the leaders and get first money, has made races of two miles or over one of the features of race meetings.

The first stake to be run is the Crete handicap at six furlongs. One week later the Francis S. Peabody Memorial will be held at a mile for the same group of 3 year olds and older.

Meet Closes Oct. 10.

The third stake, the Lincoln handicap, is at a mile and a sixteenth, and then after a week given over to the juveniles which will run in the Joliet handicap, the handicap division comes back for the mile and a furlong Marquette handicap, which winds up the long stand on Oct. 10.

Work on the camera tower was virtually completed yesterday and the 65 foot structure is ready for the installation of the De Brie camera.

Heavy Rains Are Proving Help to River Fishermen

BY BOB BECKER.

Since heavy rains have visited much of northern Wisconsin rivers are higher with the result that river trips to fish a stream like the Flambeau can now be made with a lot more comfort.

When we were near Fifield a short time ago fishing Long, Round, Big Bass, Little Bass, and other lakes west of the village, several soaking rains drenched the country, filled up the feeder creeks and put a lot of water into both the north and south forks of the Flambeau river.

We can recommend two trips on the south fork if a fisherman wants one or more delightful days on a river which offers a good chance for a muskie as well as smaller game fish.

One of the trips starts at Fifield. By 5 or 6 in the afternoon [depending on how much time you spend fishing and the hour of your start] you can take out at the bridge at Lugerville. This stretch [we'll guess it is about 15 miles] is better for muskies than anything else. If you have an experienced river man handling the boat for you and poling you down stream he'll have you cast behind the big bowlders in the stream, into the dark deep spots and the holes and the pools below rapids.

Then there is a dandy trip from the Lugerville bridge down to the next highway bridge. We like this stretch of river very much because of the rapids and the dandy pools. It also offers a good chance for a muskie. We caught small mouth bass on the trip, but the deep pike holes which we counted on didn't produce. But there are pike in that part of the river.

PARKE ADVISED TO GIVE INJURED LEG MORE REST

Doctors have advised Apprentice Chuck Parke, who has been out of the saddle at Washington Park for several days with an infected leg, to refrain from riding until next week.

William Doyle, paddock and patrol judge at Washington Park, will leave for Havre De Grace after the close of the season on Labor day. Doyle serves as patrol judge at the Maryland meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wright, back from a successful and enjoyable season at Saratoga; Leonard Florsheim, and Charles A. McCulloch, chairman of the board of the Arlington Park Jocky club, were visitors yesterday at Washington Park. Mrs. John Hertz returned yesterday morning from New York and will be at Washington Park on Monday to see her colt Count Arthur perform in the Washington Park handicap. Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Peacock were also observed among yesterday's crowd.

Relieving old memories and renewing old friendships Robert Imes, crack jocky of the first decade of the century, came up from his home in Hammond, Ind., to visit Washington Park yesterday. Imes, now totally blind, spent several hours before the races in the jockies' room, a quiet figure sitting in a corner chatting with old timers now valeting and listening to the excitement and hubbub of a new generation of riders going out to new racing wars.

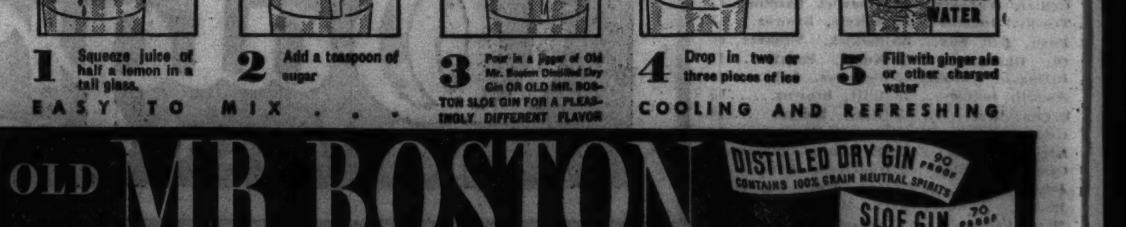
A Tip on Doubling The Pleasure of Long Tall Drinks

YOUR FAVORITE LONG TALL DRINK WILL ALSO BE A FAVORITE MADE WITH MY SLOE GIN

Did you know that each of your tried and true recipes for long tall drinks can now do double duty—give you and your guests double pleasure? You don't have to forsake the faithful old satisfiers, but occasionally—for an entirely different taste—make one small change in your mixing ... instead of Old Mr. Boston Distilled Dry Gin, much as you like it, just try using Old Mr. Boston Sloe Gin. Gives your thirst a fresh and totally different answer, a winey tang—not tart, not sweet ... with the same gentle smoothness and zesty appeal. Then everything else you need for doubling your line of long tall ones right in your home ... lemons, sugar, ice and ginger ale or sparkling water. Tonight or right now buy a bottle of Old Mr. Boston Sloe Gin and make your recipes doubly enjoyable. Ben Burk, Inc., Boston, Mass.

FIVE SIMPLE MOTIONS TO MAKE A TOM COLLINS



1 Squeeze juice of half a lemon in a tall glass. 2 Add a teaspoon of sugar. 3 Pour in a jigger of Old Mr. Boston Distilled Dry Gin or Old Mr. Boston Sloe Gin for a pleasingly different flavor. 4 Drop in two or three pieces of ice. 5 Fill with ginger ale or charged water.

CHICAGO PROS WILL PLAY FOR ILLINOIS TITLE

72 Hole Test to Determine State Champion.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Chicago's colony of professional golfers, rated the best teaching and playing unit in the country, will prepare for their biggest party of the year—the National P. G. A. tournament—on Sept. 20 and 21, when they conduct their own Illinois section championship show at the Itasca Country club. Tom Walsh of Westgate Valley, secretary of the Illinois section, yesterday announced that the Illinois tournament will not only determine the state title but will also settle the winners of Illinois' seven places in the national event at Pinehurst, N. C., from Nov. 16 through Nov. 22.

If there be any doubt about the caliber of Chicago's paid players, it is necessary to hark back only as far as the 1935 national at Oklahoma City, when Johnny Revolta of Evanston and Tommy Armour of Medinah finished as champion and runnerup, respectively.

Many Stars Eligible.

In addition to the seven regular places allotted to this section, Illinois will boast four other players who qualify automatically by reason either of having finished among the quarter finalists in last year's tourney or by membership on the American Ryder cup team. These four are Revolta and Armour, Horton Smith of Oak Park, and Ky Laffoon of Northmoor. Smith reached the quarter finals in addition to being a member of the Ryder cup detail, and Laffoon also was a member of the international squad. Even though Revolta had not won the title, he would have been exempt because of having helped retain the Ryder trophy from Great Britain.

The Illinois section battle at Itasca, however, undoubtedly will draw all four of these because of the fact that the state crown is involved as well as the qualifying berths. The event will be a 72 hole test, calling for 36 holes on each day.

Walsh Winner Last Year.

Last year's tournament at Peoria, reduced to 54 holes by heavy rains, was won by Frank Walsh of Bryn Mawr. The title will go to the low scorer for the 72 holes, and the first seven scorers will qualify for Pinehurst. The champion will take the Willie Marshall trophy and $200, major share of the $750 purse.

The national tournament at Pinehurst will present a full week of golf on a course revered by all of the top professionals of the game. The show, considered the hardest test a pro can face, will open with a 36 hole qualifying round which will be spread over two days, Nov. 16 and 17. The sixty-four low scorers in this will qualify for the match play bracket. The latter will open with two 18 hole matches on Wednesday, cutting the field to sixteen players, but from Thursday through the championship match on Sunday, all of the battles will be at the full distance of 36 holes.

Exemptions for National.

Exemptions from the national tourney, who will not be required to qualify in their home sections, include Tony Manero, the national open titleholder; the quarter-final octet from last year's show, and the Ryder cup team. The quarter-finalists were Revolta, Armour, Al Watrous of Detroit, Al Zimmerman of Portland, Ore.; Horton Smith, Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y.; Ed Dudley of Philadelphia, and Eddie Schultz of Troy, N. Y. Ryder cup exemptions are Smith and Laffoon, Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Revolta, Henry Picard, Sam Parks Jr., and Craig Wood.

Other Assignments Made.

In addition to the seven places allotted to Illinois for sectional trials the following assignments have been made in other sections:

Metropolitan New York, 9; Ohio, [illegible]; New England, 8; Michigan, 6; Philadelphia, 7; New Jersey, 6; northern California, 5; southern California, [illegible]; southeastern, 5; northeastern, 4; central New York, 3; Connecticut, 3; eastern Missouri, 3; Texas, 3; Tri-State, 3; Wisconsin, 3; Minnesota, 3; Middle Atlantic, 3; midwest [Kansas City], 2; Pacific northwest, 2; western New York, 2; Indiana, 2, and Iowa, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Nebraska, and Rocky mountain sections, 1 each.

BOB BROWN WINS C. D. G. A. CLOSED JUNIOR CROWN

Bob Brown of the La Grange High school won the Chicago District Golf association's closed junior championship at Medinah yesterday by defeating Charles Barrett of Evanston, a student at Loyola university, 3 and 2. The boys played their 36 hole final match over No. 3 course.

Brown stood 1 up at the end of the morning round and hung on to his lead throughout. At the thirteenth he was leading by a hole, and it seemed Barrett would square the match with his 5, already holed out. Bobby lay off the green 25 yards in 4, but sunk his chip shot to get a half and keep his lead. The match ended on the sixteenth, where Barrett was in a trap.

BARNHART, COLE TIE IN APPAREL MEN'S TOURNEY

Eugene Barnhart and W. W. Cole tied for low net honors in the second outing of the Chicago Men's Apparel Golf association at Olympia Fields Country club yesterday. Barnhart posted 83—16—67, while Cole toured the course in 91—24—67. Art Olson and Paul Cockrell tied for low gross with 74. Olson won the playoff, 5 and [illegible]. Henry Hames won the blind bogey prize with 87. The prize for the best dressed golfer went to Carl Davis.

Talking It Over

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune.]

NORMAN CAHN, Horace Hedges, Ernie Vick, and Maurice Meyer, who officiated the All-Star football game, said it was one of the cleanest contests they have worked. . . . Both teams had their line charging timed beautifully because there wasn't a single offside penalty. . . . The Lions, who play wide open football, as a rule, in National Professional league games, obviously were timid about taking chances with forward and lateral passes Wednesday night. . . . They had great respect for the All-Americans' secondary, particularly Leemans, Berwanger, Shakespeare, and Crayne. . . .

The All-Star squad broke up shortly after the game. . . . Riley Smith flew to Boston to join the Redskins, with whom he will play this fall. . . . Butch Loebs of Purdue hurried away to his coaching job in Huntington, W. Va. . . . Glen Seidel departed for Tulane, where he will assist Red Dawson. . . . Thirty left on a special train for New York, where next Tuesday night they will meet the New York Giants in a game sponsored by the Herald-Tribune for its fresh air fund. . . . Another group went to Dallas to oppose the Chicago Bears at the Centennial exposition. . . . Bernie Bierman caught a train for Minneapolis an hour after the game and Elmer Layden motored to South Bend. . . . Both will arrive in New York tomorrow to direct the squad that will face the Giants. . . . Bo McMillin was the only member of the coaching staf who was on the special train when it pulled out for New York yesterday. . . . Lynn Waldorf left for a few days' rest in Wisconsin. . . . Coaches, players, officials, and 99 per cent of the spectators were happy about the postponement. . . . They agreed that it is more pleasant to play or watch a game under the moon than in the rain. . . .

Tuffy Leemans, brilliant George Washington university back, was the most disappointed player on the All-Star squad after the game. . . . He felt that his fumble was responsible for the tie score. . . . His mates assured him, however, that it was his splendid ball carrying which also was responsible for the tie score. . . . The 5,000 balloons which were released between halves boosting Detroit as the city of champions were contributed by G. A. Richards, president of the Lions. . . . Gomer Jones, Ohio State center, lost his fraternity pin, valued at $60, the day of the game. . . . The All-Stars said the Lions showed their best offensive punch in the third quarter. . . . "They were charging and running hard," said Sheldon Beise, "but there was a noticeable letup in the closing moments of the game." . . .

Bo McMillin observed the game from the press box on the east side of the field. . . . He telephoned his suggestions for offensive and defensive maneuvers to Lynn Waldorf, who in turn relayed them to Bernie Bierman and Elmer Layden. . . . There were more coaches at the reception for the teams after the game than you ever find under one roof, with the possible exception of the National Coaches' association winter meeting. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—The Cincinnati Reds defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 5 to 0, and moved into first place. . . . The Cubs won two games from the Pittsburgh Pirates. . . . A crowd of 15,000 watched the opening of the police games at Soldiers' field. . . . Vincent Richards and R. Norris Williams retained their national doubles championship by defeating William Tilden and Alfred Chapin.

MEDINAH LEADS WEST DISTRICT GOLF LEAGUE

Medinah, aided by a match total of 20½ points and Westward-Ho's upset of Elmhurst took first place in the standings of the West District Golf league matches yesterday at the Oak Park Country club. While Westward-Ho was scoring a surprise 17 to 10 victory over Elmhurst, which had paced the league throughout the season, Medinah's team defeated Riverside, 20½ to 6½.

In the other two matches, Oak Park won from Glen Oak, 18 to 9, and Hinsdale defeated Brookwood, 19½ to 7½. Art Doering of Westward-Ho, who was among last Tuesday's qualifiers for the national amateur, led the individual scoring with a 76.

The standing of the league, including yesterday's matches, follows:

Medinah, 113 points; Elmhurst, 112; Westward-Ho, 111½; Glen Oak, 105½; Hinsdale, 95; Oak Park, 91; Brookwood, 72½, and Riverside, 55½.

MILLS PLAY HOUSE OF DAVID.

The House of David team with Lefty Sullivan, former Mills hurler, on the mound in one of the games will meet the Mills in a double-header at Mills stadium, Kilpatrick and Lake streets, on Sunday and Monday afternoons.

PATTY BERG IN MASON-DIXON TOURNEY FINAL

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Patty Berg, 18 year old Minneapolis golfer, will seek another championship tomorrow when she faces Virginia Guilfoyle, Syracuse, N. Y., in the finals of the Mason-Dixon women's golf tournament.

In the semi-finals this afternoon, Miss Berg defeated Mrs. Betty Palmer Meckley, Washington, 3 and 2, and Miss Guilfoyle won from Jean Bauer, Providence, R. I., defending champion, 1 up, in 19 holes.

Golf Match to Feature Lincolnshire's Mardi Gras

A golf match in which George Dawson, Don Armstrong, Jim Noonan, and Joe Noonan will be the contestants, will feature Lincolnshire Country club's first annual Mardi Gras Tuesday.

Another highlight of the Mardi Gras, which is to last three days through Thursday, will be a swimming and diving carnival at the club's new outdoor pool Tuesday evening.

ALL-AMERICANS DISPERSE; LIONS GO TO DETROIT

a Detroit lineman in the first half. His hand was in a cast yesterday. He was unable to make the trip to New York. Loebs lost a tooth.

The All-Stars outgained the Lions, 184 yards to 128, and they made nine first downs to five. While this indicates an advantage for the university men, it is not sufficient to start any argument. Each team possessed a real attack. The All-Stars marched 61 yards for their touchdown, and the play by LeVoir, after he took a lateral pass from Sheldon Beise, his teammate from Minnesota, was a perfect maneuver. No one laid a hand on LeVoir during his 17 yard run.

Babe Follows Instructions.

In the huddle before this scoring run, Wally Fromhart of Notre Dame, the quarter back, who roomed with LeVoir, told the boys: "Babe, you get the touchdown, and I'll kick the goal."

That was just what Fromhart did. It was well that he did, for Dutch Clark, the Lion's quarter back, drop kicked the point after the touchdown run by Ernie Caddel from the All-Star 8 yard line in the final period.

Potsy Clark, coach of the National Professional champions, said yesterday before he escorted his boys to their home base that he was well satisfied with the result.

"It was a splendid game," Potsy said. "We didn't score in the first half when I thought we would, and Ace Gutowski's fumble in the third period may have cost us a touchdown. But the Lions smashed through when they had to score or lose the game.

"All of us were pleased with the decision to postpone the game. We realize that neither team could have played football in a downpour, and for that reason, if for no other, we were glad to have good weather in which to prove that, at least, the collegians are no better than we are.

Praises All-Star Team.

"This was the finest All-Star squad ever assembled. We have no alibis. Our tackling wasn't as good as it should be or will be later. But I'm certain the fans appreciated the game and are glad they could see it under clear skies."

The scoring plays were perfect examples of deception. These two plays definitly proved the ability of the rivals. LeVoir cut inside of defensive right end for 17 yards aided by the fake to the right. Caddel's touchdown run was another piece of deception in which Bill Shepherd's fake smash at the line, with one yard needed for fourth down, was the important factor.

Keith Topping of Stanford and Wayne Millner of Notre Dame, ends, were outstanding in their play. Dan Fortmann of Colgate who now joins the Chicago Bears, and Joe Stydahar of West Virginia were others who shared the spotlight with Dick Crayne of Iowa, Bill Shakespeare of Notre Dame and Leemans.

Topping was the last of the All-Stars to leave. The Stanford star will fly to New York today.

Rules Are Discussed by Football Coaches

Central Officials association, an organization of football and basketball coaches, held their first football division meeting of the football season last night at the Great Northern hotel. Interpretation of football rules was discussed by the football committee.

MAREK FIGHTS PARILLE TONIGHT AT WHITE CITY

Max Marek tonight will attempt another leap in his new campaign for heavyweight championship recognition in a ten round bout with Vincent Parrille, veteran South American boxer, at White City, 63d street and South Park avenue. The former Chicago Golden Gloves champion won without working up a sweat in two previous starts recently against Eddie Boyle and George Valles, each of whom fell victim to knockout punches.

Max probably will weigh 186 pounds, about ten less than Parrille. Al Nettlow, lightweight, and Chet Le Vere, light heavyweight, will appear in two of four supporting matches, the Golden Gloves alumnus against Jimmy Richards and Le Vere against Haywood Storey at five rounds.

Verne Patterson, National A. A. U. lightweight runnerup, who was not so hot in a losing battle against William Thomas two weeks ago, tonight will seek to redeem himself in a five round contest against Peter Andrews, ex-novice Golden Gloves welterweight titleholder, at Northwest stadium, 4848 Irving Park boulevard. . . . Barney Ross intends to go to Loretta, Wis., today to rough it preparatory to leaving for Sydney, Australia, next month for a defense of his welterweight crown in a 15 round international engagement there with Jack Carroll Dec. 8. . . . The scheduled ten round return scrap between Harold Brown and Milt Aron at Marigold Gardens next Wednesday has been postponed until Sept. 14. . . . Everett Marshall, heavyweight wrestling title claimant, yesterday was signed to head the show at Arcadia Gardens next Wednesday. . . . Hans Schnable will headline Promoter Joe Coffey's mat card at White City Monday.

NO ROUGH EDGES IN ITS $9,000,000 FLAVOR

There's not even a suspicion of a rough edge in Ten High. It slips down your throat, smooth as cream; a bland, round flavor that never varies, bottle to bottle, case to case. Every drop is mellow with true Bourbon tang.

COSTS YOU—UNDER A DOLLAR

Rough edges are kept out of Ten High by $9,000,000 worth of distillery equipment at Hiram Walker's Peoria plant, the world's most modern distillery the world has ever seen. Here Ten High's super-flavor is born... and guarded by painstaking nature-control.

MADE FROM BLUE RIBBON CORN FIT FOR A BANQUET

Hiram Walker pays premium prices for corn, and you can taste its sun-rich goodness in every sip of Ten High. If a shipment of corn for Ten High fails to measure up in every way to Hiram Walker's rigid standards, it is immediately rejected!

HOW A SOUTHERN COLONEL PICKS PRIME BOURBON

Look first for a dark, rich amber color that glows softly against the light; then for a stimulating, pleasing aroma. When you sip it, look for the robust tang that typifies full-corn bourbon. Dear Sirs,

The half-pound jar of Mentholated Koolox (brushless shaving-cream) which I bought in Texas nearly three months ago for — I think — $35, is beginning to run out.

For Heaven's sake tell me where I can get some more of it in England, because it is the best and cheapest shaving-cream I have ever struck.

I live in the house occupied 250 years ago by Mr. Samuel Pepys, diarist, and Secretary to the Navy of King Charles the Second. He was clean-shaven, and he would have been still cleaner shorn if Koolox had been invented in his time.

BRITISH LEADER AGAIN CALLS ON CANADA TO ARM

Viscount Elibank Hurls Challenge at Dominion.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 3.—Viscount Elibank, president of the British Central chamber of commerce, today again urged Canada to arm itself. Speaking at Vancouver, he made it clear that the dominion is to be politically torn on the issue of imperial defense and the extension of aid to Great Britain in future wars.

Lord Elibank's former injunction to Canada to arm for defense was met by a counterblast from Ian Mackenzie, Canadian minister of defense, speaking for the Liberal government of Premier Mackenzie King. The minister deprecated British interference in Canadian policies and called Lord Elibank a "peregrinating imperialist."

Canadians Get Challenge.

Today Lord Elibank went further. He challenged Canadians to make up their minds whether or not they were to remain in the British empire.

"If London is vulnerable today, then to a lesser degree other cities of the empire are vulnerable," the viscount said. "Great Britain to retain its place in the forefront of nations must rearm intensively and be prepared for the worst.

"We have got to make up our minds now whether we are going to stay in the empire or out of it."

Since Lord Elibank first cautioned Canada to arm—a statement which resulted in the government's counter blast—the press and public organizations have taken up the issue in vigorous controversy.

British Praise Title.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 3.—"Peregrinating imperialists," a term recently used by Ia Mackenzie, minister of national defense, in objecting to remarks by Lord Elibank that Canada may well be within the range of bombing planes in the next war and should properly consider defense measures, is one which Britishers will be proud to have.

This remark was made today by speakers at a banquet tendered by the Montreal Board of Trade to 27 British businessmen, en route to the annual meeting of the Federation of Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire in New Zealand.

"This is a title," said Sir Albert Atkey, former lord mayor of Nottingham, "I propose to adopt myself. I hope there will be hundreds of peregrinating imperialists."

W. M. Birks, who will head the Canadian delegation to the New Zealand gathering, practically apologized for Mackenzie's outburst, calling it "a show of childish petulance."

Dr. Adam Feltmann Dies; Chicago Physician 40 Years

Dr. Adam William Feltmann, who had practiced medicine in Chicago for the last forty years, died in his home at 5262 Monroe street yesterday after a brief illness. He was 72 years old. Dr. Feltmann was born in Richland, Ind., and was graduated from Jenner Medical college in 1896, entering practice here in the same year. His daughter, Tributa, survives him. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the home. Burial will be in Waldheim cemetery.

Lucius Davidson, Official of Surface Lines, Is Dead

Lucius H. Davidson, 832 Argyle street, former Chicago newspaper man, who had been secretary of the board of supervising engineers for the Chicago Surface Lines since 1908, died yesterday in his summer home at Janesville, Wis. He was 66 years old. He is survived by his widow, Nellie. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Janesville.

HENRY C. SPEER, HEAD OF BANKING COMPANY, DEAD

Henry Clay Speer, 85 years old, founder and chairman of the board of the H. C. Speer & Sons company, investment banking concern at 38 South Dearborn street, died on Wednesday in his home at Redlands, Cal., friends here were informed yesterday.

HENRY C. SPEER.

Mr. Speer was born in Water Valley, Miss. For several years he lived in Topeka, Kas., where for a time he served as state superintendent of schools for Kansas. He founded his company in 1885, but did not move to Chicago until 1890. Ten years ago he retired from active participation in business and moved to Redlands.

Mr. Speer is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Edna Speer Dow of Redlands, and two sons, William W. of Evanston, president of the company, and Henry D. of Redlands. Funeral services will be held tomorrow in Trinity Episcopal church in Redlands.

HARRY B. THAYER, RETIRED HEAD OF A. T. & T., IS DEAD

New Canaan, Conn., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Harry B. Thayer, 79, former president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, died at his home here today.

A former president of the Western Electric company, he became vice president of the A. T. & T. in 1909 and became president in 1919.

Mr. Thayer was appointed a member of the aircraft board, a $1 a year position, during the world war, by President Wilson.

Lt. Col. T. W. Hammond, N. Y. Commissioner, Dies

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Lieut. Col. Thomas W. Hammond, 55, commissioner of the New York City department of water supply, gas, and electricity, died today. He retired from active service with the United States army in February, 1934, and was sworn in on Feb. 7 of that year as a deputy commissioner of sanitation. The following June he became head of the sanitation department after the resignation of Commissioner Ernest P. Goodrich over criticism resulting from tardy snow removal. The next year Col. Hammond bore the brunt of similar criticism. Last spring he was shifted to the post which he held at the time of his death.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

With more than 10,000 reservations made in downtown hotels the central division of the American Radio Relay league expects to have more than 20,000 radio amateurs attending its three day convention opening at the Sherman hotel tomorrow. A highlight of the convention will be an address by Dr. Lee De Forest, inventor of the three element vacuum tube and often called the father of modern radio. Dr. De Forest, who will fly here from his home in Hollywood, will speak at the convention banquet Sunday evening on "My Early Reminiscences in Radio."

There are to be many discussions and demonstrations of subjects of interest to "hams." Dr. E. C. Woodruff, president of ARRL of Pennsylvania State college, will speak. Others who will be heard are E. A. Roberts, director of the central division; Lieutenant Commander R. H. G. Mathews, Chicago; Loren G. Windom, Reynoldsburg, O.; F. E. Handy, Hartford, Conn., and George Bailey, Weston, Mass., vice president.

The Republican National committee announced yesterday that it was transferring its sponsored radio program featuring William Hard, a commentator, now on NBC to a Columbia network of 70 stations effective Monday, Sept. 7. Program will be heard locally through WBBM from 10 to 10:15 p. m.

Arthur Pryor Jr. arrived yesterday from New York City to pick a flock of Chicago actors to support Orson Welles and Ned Wever in "The Relief of Lucknow" to be presented Sunday on the "Wonder Show" over W-G-N-Mutual from the Civic Opera house. Fritz Blocki, Chicago playwright and radio writer, sent this telegram yesterday: "Tell Fred Smith of Wonder Show that he will have to exceed his promised stupendous opening for it by having old time costumes and horse drawn vehicles Stop Two years ago I staged a prodigious super colossal opening of same type for Globe Shakespearean players at McVickers theater with whole parade of ancient vehicles and costumed celebrities headed by late DeWolf Hopper Stop It was so sensational that I got a 50 word through wave from Bill Shakespeare himself congratulating me from the other world."

Shirley Temple's mamma, Mrs. George Temple, will tell all about bringing up her famous daughter in an interview with Elza Schallert at 9:45 tonight over NBC. That's about as close as listeners will get to hearing Shirley on the air. But WENR, which should be the outlet for the network program, will be otherwise occupied, so you must try out of town outlets. WJZ is one of them.

Baj. Bowes is getting fussier about his amateurs. A friend of an elderly woman, past 75, who possessed some unusual talents, wrote to the major and suggested a novel specialty act for his forthcoming CBS series. The major replied with a polite note that he had already had an old lady 110 years of age on his program, hence must decline.

GEO. RASMUSSEN SERVICES WILL BE HELD TOMORROW

Funeral services for George Rasmussen, founder and chairman of the board of the National Tea company, who died on his estate near Copenhagen, Denmark, last Aug. 22, will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in St. Chrysostom church. The Rev. Preston Bradley, pastor of the People's church, will conduct the services. Burial will be in the family mausoleum at Rosehill cemetery. Active and honorary pallbearers include many leading Chicagoans.

Mr. Rasmussen was 63 years old. He was born in Denmark and came to Chicago when he was 15 years old. The national grocery chain that he founded began in 1899 with a single store at 1328 Belmont avenue. Early this year Mr. Rasmussen relinquished the presidency of the company to Fred H. Massmann of Evanston. Mr. Rasmussen and his wife, Nana, began a tour of Europe that ended on one of the two Danish estates Mr. Rasmussen purchased in 1925.

Besides his widow, Mr. Rasmussen is survived by two sons, Robert V. Rasmussen and George Rasmussen Jr., both officials of the company. His Chicago home was at 3400 Lake Shore drive.

Daughter of Late Senator Stephen B. Elkins Is Dead

New York, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Mrs. Catherine Elkins Hitt, 56, wife of William S. Hitt of Middleburg, Va., died in Roosevelt hospital here late today. Mrs. Hitt was a daughter of the late United States Senator Stephen B. Elkins of Elkins, W. Va., who endowed Davis and Elkins college. Her brother, S. B. Elkins Jr., also a former senator from West Virginia, survives. Mr. and Mrs. Hitt were both members of the Middleburg and Piedmont Hunt clubs and were widely known in northern Virginia. They maintained a half million dollar racing farm, the Homelands, near Middleburg.

Hold Funeral Tomorrow for Mrs. Patrick Dwyer

Funeral services for Mrs. Nellie Dwyer, 58 years old, 5723 South Green street, who died in the Mercy hospital on Wednesday after an illness of two weeks, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow from the residence to Visitation church. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre cemetery. Mrs. Dwyer, who spent her entire life in Chicago, was the wife of Patrick Dwyer, president of the Police Protective association and secretary of the Police Benevolent association. Two sons, Edward and Raymond, also survive her.

R. J. Corrigan, Newspaper Circulation Official, Dies

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Robert J. Corrigan, 54, widely known newspaper circulation executive, died today in a Brooklyn hospital. He was identified with newspapers in New York, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Detroit, St. Louis, Denver, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, and Chicago.

Norman MacBeth, Expert on Illumination, Is Dead

Pelham, N. Y., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Norman MacBeth, 62, of Pelham, former president of the Society of Illuminating Engineers, died today in a hospital in Plattsburg, N. Y. Mr. MacBeth was a nationally known authority on electric illumination, and an inventor, manufacturer, and former editor of the Lighting Journal.

Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, 76, Novelist's Mother, Dies

Rockville, Md., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, 76, mother of F. Scott Fitzgerald, the novelist, died in a sanitarium here yesterday.

PRIVATE RITES TO BE HELD FOR DR. E. O. JORDAN

Private funeral services will be held here for Dr. Edwin Oakes Jordan, noted bacteriologist, professor emeritus of the University of Chicago, who died on Wednesday at Lewiston, Me., members of the family announced yesterday. Dr. Jordan was 70 years old.

DR. E. O. JORDAN.

Dr. Jordan had been associated with the university since 1892. He was the founder of its department of bacteriology and hygiene. He gained notice because of his interest in public health and particularly his research work in food poisoning.

Dr. Jordan retired three years ago, but continued his research work at the university. For many years he resided in Flossmoor. A year ago he moved to 5801 Dorchester avenue. During the summer he had been at Shelburne, N. H.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Elsie Fay Pratt Jordan; two sons, Henry D. Jordan, professor of history at Clark university, and Dr. Edwin P. Jordan, a member of the Rush medical college faculty, and a daughter, Mrs. Charles L. Dunham.

Arthur Downer, Laundry Executive, Is Dead in East

Winchester, Mass., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Arthur D. Downer, 66, laundry executive, past president of the National Laundry Owners' association and a trustee of the National Laundry school at Joliet, Ill., died at his home here today.

REPUBLIC STEEL WILL BUILD NEW BLAST FURNACE

Cleveland, O., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Contracts have been signed, it was announced today by Arthur G. McKee & Co., engineers and contractors of Cleveland, for the construction of a 1,000 ton blast furnace for the Republic Steel corporation along the west bank of the Cuyahoga river.

The new unit will replace the 600 ton No. 4 furnace of the Corrigan-McKinney company, which was acquired by Republic. Construction costs of the new furnace will approximate $600,000.

The new furnace will increase the iron capacity of the Corrigan-McKinney works to 2,800 tons of pig iron a day. It is said increased demand for steel bars is one reason for the expansion.

UNION PACIFIC GETS FIRST OF BIG NEW ENGINES

Delivery of the first of fifteen locomotives powerful enough to pull 100 loaded freight cars at sixty miles an hour was announced yesterday by the Union Pacific railway. The rest of the engines, the total cost of which is $2,000,000, will be delivered by the American Locomotive company, Schenectady, N. Y., within the next ninety days.

The overall length of the engine is over 110 feet, equal to the height of the average ten story building. Its firebox is as large as the average sized bedroom. The new locomotive is known as the Challenger type. It has two sets of six coupled driving wheels.

TWO BIG OUTBOARD MOTOR PLANTS VOTE ON CONSOLIDATION

Stockholders of the Johnson Motor company of Waukegan and the Outboard Motors corporation of Milwaukee will vote Sept. 28 on a proposal for consolidation of these two leading manufacturers of outboard motors as the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing company.

The plan provides for organization of a new company under the laws of Delaware with a capitalization of 750,000 authorized shares of $5 par common stock, of which 297,150 would be issued. Holders of class A no par preference Outboard stock would receive 1¼ shares of the new common for each share held, and accrued dividends. Holders of class B Outboard stock would receive one share of new stock for each eight shares held. Johnson common stockholders would receive 1¼ new shares for each share owned. As a result of the exchanges, Outboard stockholders would receive 170,000 and Johnson stockholders would receive 127,100 shares.

Directors of the new company would be S. F. Briggs, Ralph Evinrude, T. F. Murphy, J. E. Otis Jr., and J. Stern.

According to a pro forma balance sheet as of June 30, 1936, the new company would have total assets of $3,152,088, including $527,556 cash, $204,280 in United States government bonds, and plants and equipment valued at $1,172,343. An additional $1,408,665 has been set aside in a reserve fund for depreciation, bad debts, etc., it was said.

BIG AMOSKEAG MILLS ARE SOLD FOR 5 MILLIONS

Boston, Mass., Sept. 3.—(AP)—A group of Manchester, N. H., citizens purchased the big mills of the defunct Amoskeag Manufacturing company, one of the largest cotton textile plants in the world, for $5,000,000 today. Manchester bankers, industrialists, and business men, organized as Amoskeag Industries, Inc., for the purpose of selling and leasing the mills for the benefit of Manchester workers, paid $500,000 to Federal Trustee W. Parker Straw, as first payment in the transaction.

The mills, where 15,000 employés worked before the plant closed a year ago, will be sold or leased to persons guaranteeing to operating them, Arthur E. Moreau, president of the new controling corporation, asserted.

Bank of France Reports More Gold Is Sold

A renewed drain on French gold reserves was disclosed yesterday in the Bank of France's weekly statement. The report showed a loss of 163,000,000 francs, approximately $10,733,000, in the week ended Aug. 28, which reduced the gold stocks to 54,511,000,000 francs, $3,539,549,000, the lowest figures in two months.

VINCENT AURIAL.

The publication of central bank's statement yesterday brought no marked reaction in the foreign exchange market. The French franc was steady in terms of American funds, while other foreign currencies advanced. The franc was quoted at 6.58 cents in New York, off 1-16 of a cent from Wednesday's price, while the British pound rose 5-16 of a cent to $5.03 13-16.

Most Gold to U. S.

Most of the gold that has flowed out of France recently has come to this country, while a considerable amount has gone to London. Coincident with the release of the French bank's report yesterday, dispatches from Paris indicated that the government is taking steps to check the outflow of the metal.

Dispatches said that Finance Minister Vincent Auriol has instructed all French banks to turn over to him all data on the operations of French citizens who are sending capital abroad. Auriol's instructions requested a record of all securities sent out of the country. The step indicated that the government will discard the lenient attitude with which it has recently regarded exportations of capital.

Gold Near 5 Year Low.

The French bank's present gold reserve of 54,511,000,000 francs is only slightly greater than the five year low figure reached in June this year, when the reserve fell to 53,952,000,000 francs.

While the bank was losing gold last week its note circulation was expanding, the statement showed. The expansion was the result largely of increased requirements at the month end. Note circulation rose 707,000,000 francs, $46,555,950, to a total of 84,324,000,000, or $5,552,735,000.

The weekly statement of the Bank of England yesterday showed an increase of 654,000 pounds in gold reserve for the week ended Sept. 3. The total reserve is now 246,498,000 pounds. Note circulation increased 2,375,000 pounds.

Gold imports aggregating $8,710,400 were received at New York yesterday.

American Built Airplanes Show Gain Over Last Year

New York, Sept. 3.—(AP)—A 48 per cent increase in the sales of American built airplanes during the first six months of 1936 over the similar period last year was reported today by Leighton W. Rogers, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce. He said 654 commercial airplanes were delivered this year, compared to 442 in the first six months of last year, and that larger sales of two, three, and four place airplanes were responsible.

DIVIDENDS LARGER, INTEREST PAYMENTS LESS THAN YEAR AGO

Payments of dividends and interest to be made during September will total $548,000,000, it was estimated yesterday, compared with $540,000,000 in September, 1935.

Dividends already announced for September aggregate $270,000,000, compared with $199,000,000 a year ago. The total will be increased by dividend declarations which may be voted early in the month and paid by the end of the month.

Interest payments, however, will fall to $278,000,000 from the $328,000,000 paid in September, 1935. The decline is the result of the calling of many bonds and the refunding of others at lower interest rates than formerly obtained.

U. S. WOULD AID IN STABILIZATION, TAYLOR ASSERTS

Wayne Chatfield Taylor, assistant secretary of the treasury, yesterday told members of the Bond Club of Chicago that the United States will "not stand in the way" of any movement to bring about an international currency stabilization. When conditions will permit such a monetary agreement cannot be predicted, he said.

"I do not believe that there is anybody in the world that can answer that question at the present time," he said. "I am sure, however, that the United States will not stand in the way of such a stabilization and will coöperate with any nation or any group of nations in an effort to bring it about."

Taylor spoke at a luncheon meeting of the club at the Palmer house. He was associated for several years with the investment banking house of Field, Gore & Co. His appearance here marks his first public speech since he was appointed to his present post last February.

Taylor's comment on the currency question was his only reference to the government's financial policy. He avoided other controversial questions on government finance.

BUICK EMPLOYS MORE, ALSO PAYS HIGHER WAGES

Flint, Mich., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—In a statistical survey of the company's employment and wage rolls, Harlow H. Curtice, president of the Buick Motor company, today summarized the effect on employment of one of the most successful "model" years in the history of the company.

Covering the twelve month period ended July 31, which coincides with the beginning and end of production of the 1936 Buick models, the survey revealed that pay rolls mounted to $24,153,000, an increase of more than $9,000,000 over the corresponding 1934-'35 period, a gain of 59.8 per cent.

Average employment over the same period was 13,561 men, against 9,329, an increase of 4,232, or 45.3 per cent. With pay rolls increasing 59.8 per cent, as against a gain of 45.3 per cent in employment, each employé averaged 10 per cent more in earnings than in the previous year.

Curtice said the output of Buick 1936 models totaled 173,435, including export and Canadian shipments, compared with 63,985 in the preceding twelve months.

COOK COUNTY'S AUTO SALES RUN ABOVE YEAR AGO

Chevrolet Leads in Incomplete Report.

August retail sales of automobiles in Cook county for August [Aug. 31 not included] totaled 8,512, as compared with 7,210 for the entire month of August in 1935, according to figures released yesterday. In July of this year sales totaled 12,989.

On the basis of incomplete figures Chevrolet sales nosed out Ford by only two cars. Chevrolet's sales were 1,534 cars, while Ford totaled 1,532. In July Ford sold 2,539, compared with Chevrolet's 2,464.

Plymouth and Dodge continued to hold third and fourth places respectively. The former's sales were 1,473, compared with 2,085 in July and 884 in August, 1935. Dodge reported sales of 1,034, against 1,584 in July and 705 in August, 1935. Oldsmobile retained fifth position with sales of 571, compared with 893 in July and 533 in August, 1935.

Buick Takes Sixth Position.

Buick advanced a place in August to sixth position as compared with seventh in July. Buick sales totaled 519 in August, 751 in July and 202 a year ago. Pontiac fell back to seventh position with 493 sales, compared with 850 in July and 454 in August, 1935.

Packard maintained its eighth position with sales of 334 cars compared with 331 in July and 194 in August, 1935. Chrysler moved up from tenth to ninth position as Hudson-Terraplane sank from ninth to tenth.

It was pointed out that the July sales were especially high this year because of the bonus payments to veterans. This partially accounts for the decline of August from July, the usual seasonal recession being another factor.

STEEL COMPANY EXPLAINS LABOR DAY OPERATIONS

New York, Sept. 9.—(AP)—At the offices of the United States Steel corporation it was said today that the mills of the concern would operate Labor day, in accordance with custom of many years standing, and that the fact had no significance in the labor situation.

Philip Murray, director of the drive to unionize steel workers, charged in Washington yesterday that Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, a subsidiary of United States Steel, planned to operate its Pittsburgh district mills Monday "to prevent employés from attending Labor day rallies."

A spokesman for the big steel concern said the nature of the manufacturing process made shutdowns for a single day impracticable, but that most steel workers, on an eight hour shift, would have opportunity some time during the day or evening to attend meetings if they wished to do so.

Packard Puts Out New Car; Price Lower

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—A new Packard six cylinder model, to sell at $795 to $910, was displayed for the first time today before 4,000 members of the company's sales and service force assembled here.

ALVAN MACAULEY.

The men came from all over the United States and Canada, as well as from six other countries, to see this latest Packard entry in the lighter car field. Details of the new car and other Packard models will be made public next Sunday.

It was also announced that the 1937 twelve-cylinder Packard will sell for $400 less than the 1936 model in the same class. Other lines will be slightly reduced for 1937.

The largest drive away of cars ever held will conclude the convention tomorrow, when nearly 3,000 Packards will leave the city to be used as demonstrators throughout the United States.

Drive 3,000 Cars Away.

Meanwhile Alvan Macauley, president of the company, told today of plans for the biggest production in Packard history. Production schedules for the coming year call for an output of 133,000 cars, 50,000 of the new six, 75,000 of the 120 line, and 8,000 for the supersix and twelve cylinder lines.

"The purchasing power of the American people will attain unprecedented proportions in the years that lie immediately ahead," he said. "We probably are coming to the best selling conditions the country ever has enjoyed.

Spend $18,000,000 on Plants.

"In a three year general development and manufacturing expansion we will have spent $18,000,000 by the end of the year. We are going ahead, step by step, to develop a business volume far beyond the $73,000,000 of sales we expect to accomplish this year."

M. M. Gilman, vice president and general manager, said that Packard will produce 9,000 cars this month, which exceeds the production of any other month since the company was organized. During the first eight months of the year, Gilman said, Packard delivered 43,459 cars, a 70 per cent increase over the 25,624 in the first eight months of last year.

PULLMAN SHOWS GAIN IN SLEEPING CAR REVENUES

Reflecting improvement in rail travel this year, the Pullman company, sleeping car affiliate of Pullman, Inc., yesterday reported its net income for July after provision for taxes amounted to $422,330, compared with a loss of $21,602 in July, 1935. In June, 1936, the company had net income of $174,671.

Gross income in July amounted to $5,019,015, compared with $4,209,978 in July, 1935.

For the first seven months of this year net income after taxes was $1,590,376, compared with a loss of $2,263,540 for the corresponding period of 1935. Gross for the first seven months of this year totaled $32,166,687, compared with $27,702,566.

Explaining the improvement the company said: "The heaviest winter tourist movement since the pre-depression era, plus the general revival of travel due to improved business conditions, materially stimulated gross revenues for the first seven months of 1936, producing an increase over the corresponding period of last year of $4,464,120."

Bendix to Invest Million in Los Angeles Factory

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Vincent Bendix today said he would build a million dollar automobile and airplane products company in Los Angeles. "I will have more of an announcement to make the first of the week," he said.

EXPERTS SEE SMALLEST CORN CROP SINCE 1881

All Grains Rise on Buying Wave.

A corn crop of 1,416,000,000 bushels, the smallest since 1881, was indicated by the average of the estimates on this season's yield given out yesterday by five Chicago statisticians. The reports, while denoting there had been some improvement in the situation due to recent rains, showed the crop had been reduced 23,000,000 bushels as compared with the department of agriculture's Aug. 1 returns and compared with a harvest of 2,292,000,000 bushels in 1935.

General buying of futures lifted all grain futures sharply yesterday. Best prices were not maintained, due to profit taking by holders of contracts who bought at lower prices and also to selling against offers. Wheat and rye closed with gains of a cent or more, while corn was ½ to 1½ cents higher and oats gained a major fraction.

Prices Rise Early in Session.

The greater part of the upturn in the grain markets came at the opening, and there was no material pressure at any time. The estimates on corn were in line with trade expectations. With prospects of the smallest yield in 55 years, there was little incentive to take the short side, although reports from the east indicated that Argentine corn offerings were steadily curtailing the demand for domestic grain. Some Argentine corn was recently reported to have been received at Boston from Rotterdam.

Indicated yields of corn, spring wheat, and oats as reported by Chicago statisticians follow [in millions of bushels]:

	Corn.	Spring Wheat.	Oats.
Nat C. Murray	1,479	112	771
R. O. Cromwell	1,432	115	823
B. W. Snow	1,424	97	763
H. C. Donovan	1,360	115	785
J. E. Bennett	1,479	115	.....
Average	1,416	111	786
Govt., Aug.	1,439	114	772
Final, 1935	2,292	159	1,197

The department of agriculture report will be issued on Sept. 10.

Corn Condition Lowest on Record.

Condition of the corn crop on Sept. 1 was estimated by B. W. Snow, statistician with the Bartlett-Frazier company, at 39.7 per cent of normal, the lowest ever reported.

Strength in wheat was partly due to an unexpected upturn in the Liverpool market, which advanced 1½ cents per bushel, and a strong Winnipeg market. Removal of hedges against export sales of a million bushels or more of Manitoba wheat lifted prices as much as 2 cents.

Rumania Embargoes Wheat.

The Rumanian government was reported to have suspended permits for the exportation of wheat, which led to a belief that there would be much less pressure of Danubian and Balkan grain on the world's market in the immediate future. The bulk of the Rumanian wheat was said to have been sold to Greece and Italy.

Closing prices on the September delivery of leading grains, with comparisons, follow:

	Yesterday.	Wednesday.	Week Ago.	Month Ago.
Wheat	$1.10	$1.08⅞	$1.12	$1.13⅜
Corn	1.06⅛	1.04⅞	1.10½	1.06¾
Oats	.40⅝	.39⅞	.42⅞	.42½
Rye	.81½	.80¼	.84⅛	.81⅜

A cargo of 108,000 bushels of Canadian rye arrived at Chicago on Wednesday from Fort William via lake. Rye prices advanced in sympathy with wheat.

CROP IS HALF OF 1935

Only 1,038,000,000 bushels of corn will be harvested as grain this season, according to an estimate by R. O. Cromwell, the Lamson Brothers & Co. statistician. This compared with 2,002,000,000 bushels in 1935 and with 1,147,000,000 bushels in 1934.

During the 1934-'35 crop season the primary markets received 97,000,000 bushels of cash corn, including several million bushels of Argentine grain which arrived at lake ports.

STOCKS DECLINE AS TRADE EVENS UP FOR HOLIDAY

Packard Is Extremely Active Issue.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 3.—The stock market traveled a narrow winding path today as the shadow of the approaching Labor day holiday began to creep over the market, and at the close the main body of shares was irregularly lower. Transactions totaled 1,047,760 shares.

With many denizens of the board rooms packing their bags for an early start to seashore resorts and the mountains, the market reflected an "evening up" process. Professionals were reported to be selling on the bulges and there was scattered pressure on the list from traders who did not wish to retain their position over the week-end. In the opinion of observers, the list gave a good account of itself under the circumstances.

Irregular Throughout Day.

Irregular movements characterized operations throughout the session. A measure of strength was apparent in early dealings, but the better known industrials, the steels and motors, developed hesitancy. A number of miscellaneous shares, however, pushed forward under new demand and with special circumstances attending their cases.

Most of the activity centered in low priced shares. Packard, responding to bullish forecasts by the concern's president, did an unusually large business. Every second symbol on the dragging tape seemed to be "PAK" as 63,300 shares changed hands at fractionally higher prices. Chrysler was heavy and General Motors sagged, but Mack Trucks climbed to a new top price and tacked up a net gain of more than a point.

Platinum Advance Is Factor.

Rising prices for platinum in London aided the cause of International Nickel, which puts out about half of the world's supply of the precious metal. This stock rose to a new peak on an advance of 1¼.

Another stock that attracted the attention of traders was Purity Bakeries, which gained a fraction. Its volume was exceeded only by that of Packard and Nickel.

Steel shares lacked luster and moved in a narrow range. Bethlehem dropped back a fraction, while big steel finished unchanged. Other members of the group were mixed, though Jones & Laughlin preferred spurted into new territory on an advance exceeding 2 points. Most of the rails sagged fractions. Equipments were mixed.

Northern Pacific Equipment Notes Authorized by I.C.C.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—The interstate commerce commission today authorized the Northern Pacific railroad to issue $3,000,000 of serial equipment trust certificates, paying 2¼ per cent interest, to be sold at not less than 101.259 and accrued interest, in connection with the procurement of equipment. The First National bank, of New York, will be trustee.

Municipal Bond Price Index Rises to New Peak

New York, Sept. 3.—(AP)—An advance in municipal bond prices has carried the Bond Buyer's index to a new peak, with the average yield on bonds of twenty large cities at 2.91 per cent on Sept. 1, compared with 2.95 per cent on Aug. 1.

COTTON MARKETS DECLINE ON RAINS AND HEDGING

Reports of beneficial rains in the dry district of Texas and moderate hedging pressure from the south were largely responsible for declines of 3 to 16 points in leading American cotton markets yesterday. [A point is equal to 1-100 cent a pound or 5 cents a bale.]

Spot cotton closed 10 to 15 points lower, with New Orleans, Galveston, and Houston at 11.90 cents and New York at 11.95 cents a pound. Prices follow:

LARD UP 10 TO 15 CENTS ON BUYING, SHORT COVERING

Commission house buying and short covering based on strength in hogs and grain advanced lard futures 10 to 15 cents yesterday. The upturn was checked by hedging pressure and profit taking by operators who bought at lower prices.

Clear bellies [salt pork] closed unchanged to 10 cents lower. Deliveries of lard on September contracts aggregated 550,000 pounds. Cash lard closed at $11.70; loose, $11.30; leaf, $11.50, and clear bellies at $13.12½ per 100 pounds. Prices per 100 pounds follow:

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Bleachable oil was firm today on renewed covering and commission house buying promoted by the strength of lard, rumors of higher tallow and crude oil, and the steadiness of hogs and grains. Final prices were a little off from the best but still 12 to 14 points net higher. Sales, 98 contracts. PROFIT TAKING DEVELOPS WITH UPTURN IN BUTTER Profit taking developed on an early upturn in butter futures yesterday, with the November delivery closing ⅛ cent higher at 34 cents per pound. October eggs finished unchanged at 25⅝ cents per dozen, while January potatoes advanced 3 cents and closed at $2.33 per 100 pounds.

Early buying of butter was stimulated by light receipts here and at New York. The American association report showed production for the week ended Aug. 29 was 13 per cent less than during the corresponding period in 1935. Sales of butter futures aggregated 81 cars; eggs, 128 cars, and potatoes, 2 cars. Prices follow:

GOLD IMPORTS, U. S. SPENDING LIFT BANK FUNDS

Excess Reserves Rise to Nearly Two Billions.

Importation of gold worth 22 million dollars and heavy disbursements by the federal treasury served again to swell bank reserves last week, according to the weekly statement of the federal reserve system released last night.

Reserves of member banks on deposit with the twelve central banks of the system rose 109 million dollars and "excess" reserves were up 70 millions. Total surplus reserves are now 1 billion 960 millions, approximately a billion dollars below the record peak reached earlier this year prior to the raising of reserve requirements of member banks.

Gold Stocks Continue to Rise.

Imports in the week ended Wednesday lifted the total monetary gold stocks to 10 billion 717 million dollars, which is approximately 1 billion 500 millions more gold than the country had a year ago.

A 71 million dollar drop in treasury cash and deposits with federal reserve banks, and an increase of 41 millions in money in circulation also were reported. The treasury withdrawals resulted in their dissemination in channels of trade and commerce, through which they found their way into banks, and, in turn, were deposited to reserve accounts.

Loans to Brokers Expand.

The statements of the New York member banks showed an expansion for the week of 13 millions in brokers' loans, which now total 984 millions. Commercial loans of New York banks on Wednesday were 6 millions above the previous week.

Chicago banks reported no change in commercial loans. Total bank credit in Chicago contracted 31 millions, most of which was accounted for by a reduction in government bond holdings.

WORLD SUPPLY OF U. S. COTTON LEAST SINCE 1929

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—The smallest prospective world supply of American cotton since 1929 and consequent sharp improvement in the price of cotton in the United States was reported today by the bureau of agricultural economics of the department of agriculture.

Latest crop reports and trade estimates of world carry-over as of Aug. 1 indicate a total world supply of about 19,600,000 bales of American cotton, slightly smaller than last year's.

The average price at 10 spot cotton markets in the United States in 1931-'32 was 5.89 cents a pound, the department said. Thereafter, the price advanced to an average of 12.36 cents in 1934-'35 and this year a seasonal high average of 13.08 cents was reached in the week ended July 18. Since mid-July cotton prices have tended lower.

CLEARINGS 37.1% ABOVE HOLIDAY WEEK YEAR AGO

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Bank clearings in twenty-two leading cities in the week ended yesterday showed a gain of 37.1 per cent over the corresponding week of 1935, and clearings in New York City recorded the first gain over last year's figures in eight weeks, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. The big gain, while showing improvement in general business, is tempered by the fact that the corresponding 1935 week contained the Labor day holiday.

Clearings at New York City were $3,871,534,000. Chicago clearings were $288,600,000, an increase of 22.1 per cent over a year ago.

Aggregate clearings for the twenty-two cities were $5,842,270,000, against $4,261,026,000 for the 1935 week. In the preceding week clearings showed a decline of 0.6 per cent from the 1935 week.

Sue to Halt Stock Delivery in Utilities Power Deal

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Stockholders who asked the federal district court today to restrain the Utilities Power and Light corporation from disposing of securities in an English company were informed by attorneys that $25,000,000 had already been received from the sale. The money, the petitioners were told, is on deposit in a bank at Montreal.

FLOYD B. ODLUM.

Judge Luther B. Way authorized the petitioners, four citizens of St. Louis, to file an amended bill asking the case be returned to Judge Robert N. Pollard of Richmond, for whom Judge Way is acting while the Richmond jurist is on vacation. The amended bill asks an injunction to prevent delivery of the stock.

Walter A. Webb and his wife, Josephine J. Webb, and Jean L. Rilliet and his wife, Mary E. Rilliet, the petitioners, alleged that the sale was for less than the market price, that the $1,000,000 commission fee asked by Floyd B. Odlum was excessive, and that stockholders had not authorized the sale.

The defendants were the American company, which is incorporated in Virginia, but maintains headquarters in Chicago; the Utilities Power and Light, Ltd., of Canada, and ten acting directors of the American corporation.

The petitioners asserted that the American company controled the Canadian, which in turn controled the Greater London and Counties Trust, Ltd., whose securities were at stake.

Judge Way made it clear that his permission for petitioners to file an amended bill did not prejudice the question of jurisdiction, raised by the defendants.

EXPERTS REPORT SMALLEST CORN CROP SINCE 1881

All Grains Rise on a Buying Wave.

Since purchases of Argentine grain started this season it is estimated by some eastern authorities that 40,000,000 bushels have been taken for shipment to the United States.

Reports from the Shanghai, China, office of the foreign agricultural service of the department of agriculture indicate that the Manchurian government has taken definite action to limit importation of foreign flour except from Japan, but definite information regarding the measure and its effect on imports of flour from Shanghai has not been received.

The three western Canadian provinces are estimated to have a spring wheat crop of 218,000,000 bushels, or 12,000,000 bushels in excess of their figures a month ago and comparing with 272,000,000 bushels harvested in 1935. The current crop is the smallest since 1919.

Complaints of lack of moisture are being received from a large area in western Canada. Additional moisture is reported to be needed to facilitate fall plowing, provide soil moisture for next year's crop and relieve the water shortage on many farms.

"Since private crop reports were compiled, returns to me indicate continued improvement in some sections of the corn belt," said E. H. Miller, crop expert with Shields & Co. "A farmer in central Illinois reported that he expects to secure about two-thirds of a normal corn crop, whereas several weeks ago he did not anticipate that much."

Municipal Airport Trafic Shows Increase in August

Trafic at the municipal airport showed an increase during August, Oscar Hewitt, commissioner of public works, reported yesterday. Arrivals carrying 11,818 passengers, compared of passenger planes totaled 1,605, with 1,494 planes and 10,523 passengers in August, 1935. Departures totaled 1,614 planes with 12,026 passengers, against 1,510 planes and 10,781 passengers a year ago.

Lockheed Profit Lower, but Unfilled Orders Rise

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Net profit of Lockheed Aircraft corporation in the six months ended June 30 totaled $40,212, a decline of $112,722 in the same period of 1935, Robert E. Goss, president, announced today. The $40,212 profit was equal to approximately 8 cents a share on the capital stock. Lockheed reported unfilled orders of $1,250,000, against a backlog of $525,000 a year ago.

PRICE OF SOY BEANS BREAKS TWENTY CENTS TO $1.28 PER BUSHEL

No. 3 yellow soy beans sold yesterday at $1.28 to $1.29 a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade, a decline of 20 cents from the previous sale. In about two months the market had advanced 50 cents a bushel to a level that lifted No. 2 yellow to $1.51.

According to views expressed on the grain exchange, yesterday's decline was due largely to natural readjustment from an old to a new crop basis. According to M. L. Vehon, one of the largest handlers of soy beans, crushers have covered all of their requirements until the new crop is available, and the new crop beans are being offered more freely.

With good weather, he expects new beans will start to move to market late this month or early in October. The decline in the price of feeds, he says, has resulted in slowing up the sale of soy bean meal.

STOCK EXCHANGE TIGHTENS RULES ON ACCOUNTING

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Control of the accounting policies of listed companies was tightened by the stock exchange today in a series of revisions of the agreements to be signed by corporations seeking listing.

In a new section corporations agree not to use or permit subsidiaries to use capital surplus to relieve income or earned surplus accounts of charges that should be made against them, without notifying the exchange and obtaining approval of stockholders.

Applicants also must agree to disclose the effect of any substantial change in accounting methods, or in policies on depreciation and depletion, or valuation of inventories or other assets, in the next succeeding interim and annual report to stockholders.

The old agreement not to purchase deferred stock at a price higher than it could be obtained in the open market, unless the exchange gives prior approval, has been broadened to cover all securities.

BIG COMPANY SELLS HOMES TO STAF AT COST

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—A $2,000,000 program for the construction of 350 homes to be sold at cost to employés of the International Business Machines corporation's Endicott, N. Y., plant, has been started by the company, Thomas J. Watson, president, announced today.

The homes will be built ten at a time and construction of the first group is under way. Construction will be under supervision of the Federal Housing administration. Six of the houses have been sold, Watson said, and 134 requests for purchases have been received to date. The development will occupy eighty-four acres.

COOK PAINT'S COMMON STOCK OFFERED TODAY

Detroit Seeks 20 Million Dollar Loan.

A banking syndicate today will offer 50,000 shares of common stock of the Cook Paint and Varnish company at $14 a share. Of the 50,000 shares, 30,000 shares are to be purchased by the underwriters from the company while 20,000 shares are to be purchased by the underwriters from Charles R. Cook, president of the company.

The Cook Paint and Varnish company intends to apply the net proceeds received by it from the sale of 30,000 shares of stock to the underwriters, estimated at $324,815, to the reduction of its indebtedness to banks. This indebtedness aggregated $550,000 as of Aug. 1, 1936. The net amount which Cook will receive is $236,600.

Detroit Seeks Loan.

The city of Detroit has issued a call for bids on $19,952,000 of general bonds to be sold on Sept. 14. The offering will consist of $15,782,000 non-callable refunding bonds, series F, maturing 1937-'62; $819,000 non-callable refunding water bonds, series D, maturing 1937-'62, and $3,351,000 non-callable refunding street railway bonds, series C, maturing 1938-'47. Separate bids for the various issues, or a single bid for the entire issue may be submitted. Interest rates are not to exceed 4 per cent on the series F bonds, 3 per cent on the series D and 3¾ per cent on the series C.

Detroit also announced that it has called for tenders of its general callable refunding bonds in the amount of $400,000, subject to acceptance of the basis of the highest net yield to the city.

Utility Files Two Issues.

The Gulf States Utilities company, Beaumont, Tex., filed a registration statement with the securities and exchange commission for issuance of $21,300,000 of new securities consisting of $17,300,000 of first mortgage and refunding 4 per cent bonds, due in 1966, and $4,000,000 of ten year 4½ per cent debentures, due Oct. 1, 1946. Proceeds will be used to retire outstanding obligations.

The city council of Cincinnati has authorized the refunding of $4,595,000 Cincinnati Southern railway 3½ per cent bonds due in 1956 and callable Nov. 1, 1936, and the issuance of $1,285,000 25 and 30 year bonds. Both groups will be offered on Sept. 29.

ASK ROOSEVELT TO EXPLAIN HIS FARM POLICY

H. B. Grommon, president of the National Grain Dealers' association, yesterday addressed a telegram to President Roosevelt in Des Moines, Ia., where he is conferring with governors of the drouth states, asking that the farm policy of the administration be clarified.

"We are interested to know how you reconcile your adopted theory on scarcity in agriculture with the present drouth," Grommon said. "Of course, you realize that the farmers, country elevators, country bankers, rural communities, and all other enterprises suffer from deflation in agriculture. The American public should not be required to pay a premium for the theory of planned scarcity."

The grain dealers' association has long been critical of the administration's farm policies. Grommon has frequently criticized the philosophy of scarcity as detrimental to the farmers.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was unchanged today at 3.75c per lb for spots with no sales reported. Sugars in nearby positions were available at this level, with indications slightly less would have been accepted. Refiners showed no particular interest, although it was believed they would pay 3.65 for suitable positions.

Further evening up in the September position imparted a generally steady tone to the futures market on the old crop positions, but new crop deliveries inclined to lag owing to scattered hedge selling. Price movements were narrow. Thirty-seven additional notices were issued, but these were promptly stopped. On increased covering and trade buying of September that position sold up 4 points, while November advanced 3 points. Final prices were 2 points higher on old and unchanged to 1 net lower on new crops. Sales, 3,500 tons.

Raw sugar prices in cents per pound:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.
September	2.75	2.77	2.74	2.77	2.73
November	2.71	2.73	2.71	2.73	2.71

March	2.47	2.47	2.47	2.47	2.48

Refined was unchanged at 4.65c to 4.75c for fine granulated, with business reported, mostly withdrawals against old contracts.

REPORT DAVIS STORE SALE TO GOLDBLATT NEAR

Deal with Marshall Field Makes Progress.

Negotiations by Goldblatt Brothers, Inc., for the purchase of the Davis store, big State street retail house, from Marshall Field & Co. are nearly completed, it was reliably reported yesterday. Unless a last minute hitch develops it is expected formal announcement of the deal will be made in the near future.

If the deal goes through it will mark the entrance of the Goldblatt firm into the loop district. The negotiations have been under way for several months. Two bids for the property by Goldblatt are understood to have been rejected by Field's as too low.

Resume Negotiations After Hitch.

A month ago the deal was believed to be definitly off after the rejection of a Goldblatt offer. Negotiations were resumed, however, and last night it was reported a final agreement on terms was imminent.

Neither James O. McKinsey, president of Marshall Field & Co., nor Maurice Goldblatt, president of the Goldblatt concern, would make any statement on the prospects of an early settlement. Officials of both companies, however, said terms were being discussed.

The Davis property was acquired by Marshall Field in 1923 from Rothschild & Co. The purchase price was approximately $9,000,000. Extensive improvement has been made in the store since its acquisition by Field's.

Goldblatt Company Expands.

The Goldblatt company has expanded rapidly in recent years. It now operates 11 department stores, eight of which are located in Chicago, and others in Hammond and Gary, Ind., and Joliet, Ill.

The company is only a little more than 20 years old. It had its origin in a small store at Chicago and Ashland avenues started by Morris and Nathan Goldblatt in 1914. Its most rapid expansion has taken place since 1927, when the firm began to acquire new stores. In 1935 the company had net sales of more than $35,000,000.

BENSON & RIXON PAY $598,500 FOR STATE ST. SITE

Benson & Rixon, men's clothing concern, paid $598,500 cash on Wednesday for the southwest corner of State and Quincy streets, or at the rate of $14,250 per front foot on State street, and $145.50 per square foot. The price was disclosed yesterday when the deed was filed for record by J. E. Ehrenhalt & Co. who represented the buyer. V. J. Coakley was broker for the Levy Mayer estate, the seller.

Title was conveyed by the Mayer trustees to the B. & R. Investment company, a Delaware corporation, owned by Benson & Rixon, of which George R. Benson is president.

A $450,000 ten year mortgage was negotiated by the new owners with the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company at 4 per cent on the corner purchased. A six story, completely air conditioned building will be erected and occupied by the clothing firm.

RAILROADS SPEND 50 MILLIONS FOR AIR CONDITIONING

The American railroad industry has spent more than 50 million dollars in air conditioning passenger cars during the last four years, L. W. Wallace, director of the equipment research department of the Association of American Railroads, said yesterday in addressing a transportation meeting at the Trafic Club of Chicago at the Palmer house.

His audience included a group of foreign railroad officials headed by Viscount Falmouth of England. The group has been making a survey of equipment and facilities of Chicago railroads. The foreign railroad men are delegates to the third world power conference to be held at Washington, D. C., next week.

Wallace said that 7,000 railroad cars, including 4,000 Pullman cars, are equipped with air conditioning apparatus. There are 27,000 railroad owned and 6,000 Pullman cars in the country, he said.

Rules County Cannot Sue Bond Firm in Own Court

Circuit Court Judge Ralph J. Dady, sitting in Waukegan, ruled yesterday that Lake county has no right to sue H. C. Speer & Sons in Lake county for $305,000, representing principal and interest, in connection with a bond issue of $1,250,000 handled by the Speer company. Speer & Sons turned over a third of the issue to Robert P. Minton & Co., which firm went out of business, listing as one of its principal debts the amount due Lake county. Lake county sought to collect the amount defaulted by the Minton company from the Speer firm. The latter firm paid Lake county for the bonds it sold. Judge Dady held the suit should be filed in Cook county.

Chicago Company Is Low Bidder on Postoffice

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—(AP)—The C. A. Moses Construction company, Chicago, submitted a low bid of $54,540 to the treasury today for construction of a postoffice at Mount Morris, Ill.

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—In spite of the treasury's announcement that $400,000,000 new cash would be raised on Sept. 15, whereas the majority of bond men had expected merely a refunding operation, the market for government bonds continued its slow and steady rise today. Several issues again bettered their old highs.

The treasury's plans to seek the extra funds, following the huge offerings last December, March and June in preparation for the veterans' bonus payment, surprised many dealers who had taken the revised federal budget estimates preceding the financing announcement as further indication of a sharp cut in government borrowing.

Conversion Operation Expected.

Conversion of a forthcoming maturity of $514,000,000 in 1½ per cent notes, as announced by the treasury, had been expected generally, although there was some talk of repayment in cash.

Some dealers pointed out the treasury apparently was taking advantage of favorable market conditions to keep ample reserves on hand. As a result of the latest spurt in the market, they noted, yields on bonds maturing in ten years or so had fallen to around 2.30 per cent, a record low.

When Secretary Morgenthau made his announcement shortly after the market opened trading all but stopped in the government section for a short time. After the news had been digested, however, buying appeared, and fourteen out of twenty-two active issues reached new highs for the year with gains of 1-32 to 7-32 of a point. Sales totaled $1,870,000, against $880,000 Wednesday.

Corporation Bonds Irregular.

Corporate bonds were mixed. Allis-Chalmers 4s dropped 6½ points when the company announced $5,000,000 of the issue had been called for redemption at 103 on Oct. 5. The bonds are convertible into common stock.

Other issues on the offside included American Telephone 5s, Baltimore and Ohio 4½s, Chesapeake Corporation 5s, and Utilities Power and Light 5½s. Gainers included Southern Railway 4s, New York Central 6s, Illinois Central 4¾s, American and Foreign Power 5s, and St. Paul 5s.

Foreign dollar bonds were featured by a rise of 1½ points in Cuban 5½s and a ¾ point rise in Poland 6s. Italian 7s were lower.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Illinois Power and Light.

Investors' Guide: Will you kindly give me a report on the condition of Illinois Power and Light corporation?—F. S. Z.

Answer: Illinois Power and Light corporation is controled by Illinois Traction company, a subsidiary of North American Light and Power company. It furnishes electric light and power, gas, heat, or city railway service in approximately 500 communities in central and southern Illinois and adjoining territory. Electricity sales provide more than half of gross revenues.

From its formation in 1923 through 1931 the company showed consistently satisfactory earnings. Then followed a sharp falling off in both revenue and net income. The company failed to earn enough to cover preferred dividends of $6 a share, and no payments have been made since the spring of 1933. The record of the last five years:

	Gross revenues.	Net inc.	Inc. per pfd. shr.
1935......	$28,033,000	$1,811,000	$3.75
1934......	27,052,000	1,995,000	4.13
1933......	26,233,000	1,907,000	3.94
1932......	27,111,000	3,495,000	7.23
1931......	34,475,000	5,651,000	11.69

In recent months substantial improvement has been shown. Operating revenues were $29,339,000 and net income was $2,229,000, or $4.61 per preferred share in the 12 months ended June 30, 1936, compared with $27,095,000, and $1,585,000, or $3.28 in the preceding 12 months.

Despite the recent improvement the 483,500 preferred shares must be considered a speculation. Dividend arrears amounted to $19.50 a share on Aug. 1.

Consolidated Oil.

Investors' Guide: I notice Consolidated Oil is shown as paying an ex-dividend and that the total for this year is 60 cents. They paid 25 cents a share last spring. Does that mean that they will pay 35 cents next time, and when is the date of payment? Thank you.—Mrs. O. D. K.

Answer: Consolidated Oil corporation has paid 40 cents a share in dividends on its common stock so far this year. The 60 cent figure you refer to is the annual rate, which was established with payment of 15 cents on Aug. 15 to stockholders of record July 15. Previously the stock had been on no regular dividend basis. It paid 25 cents last year, and a payment of 25 cents a share was made on April 7, 1936. The term "ex-dividend" means without dividend, and was used after July 15 to show that the stock was selling without the dividend, which was payable to stockholders of record on the company books at that date.

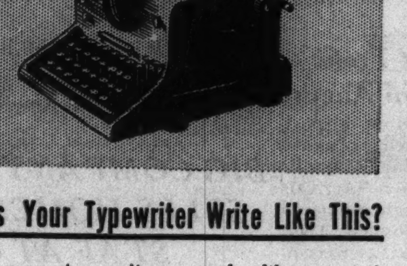
● Some cars on the roads today are no less dated than the old "one-hoss" shay. The reason may be that their owners have not yet learned that smart-looking late model used cars are offered at prices within their reach, and on generous terms. Owners of such cars ought to check the offers in the Tribune want ad section. The large selection of cars offered at attractive prices can help everyone modernize his transportation.

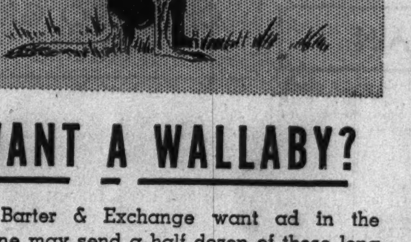


Does Your Typewriter Write Like This?

If your typewriter sounds like a rock crusher, and type lines waver, it may cost more to repair it than you would pay for one of the used typewriters which advertisers offer in the Typewriters & Supplies, and the Office Furniture & Devices columns in the Tribune want ad section. Check the offers in these columns today.

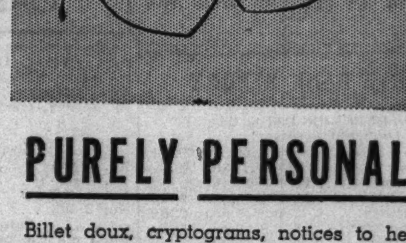
AT A FRACTION OF THE ORIGINAL COST

If you have always wanted to own a piano, why deny yourself longer? Pianos, both uprights and grands, which have had excellent care in private homes, are for sale in the Musical Instruments column of the Tribune want ad section. Prices and terms are within reach of almost every family. Check the offerings in today's Tribune for the piano you want.



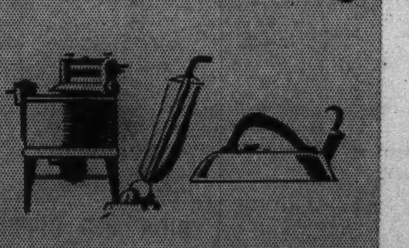
WANT A WALLABY?

A Barter & Exchange want ad in the Tribune may send a half dozen of these long eared marsupials leaping up your doorsteps. People who seek unusual things, as well as those who want jig saws, automobiles, resort lots, dentistry, fur coats, and other useful articles, get them at low cost through want ads in the Tribune. All that you do is offer things you no longer want for the article or service you need. Call Superior 0100, and ask for Miss Miller, Tribune Want Ad-viser.



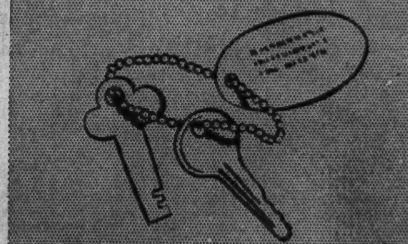
PURELY PERSONAL

Billet doux, cryptograms, notices to heirs, and legal announcements combine to make the Personal column one of the most interesting and useful classifications in the Tribune want ad section. You will enjoy reading it. The ads also may suggest the way to solve some personal problem of your own. Read the Personals in today's Tribune.



SERVANTS WHO DRAW NO PAY!

Every housewife ought to have these three servants in her home—a washing machine, an ironer, and a vacuum cleaner. They draw no pay, are on duty when you need them, and save many hours of hard work. Almost all families can enjoy the services of these three servants. Used ones, good for years of service, are offered by advertisers in the Household Appliances column in the Tribune want ad section. Prices are low and terms are generous. Check these offers in the Tribune today.



KEY TAG---FREE

Protect your home and property. Get one of the registered key tags which the Tribune want ad department is giving away. Each key tag bears a serial number which is registered in the key owner's name. It carries also a request of the finder of the lost keys to notify the Tribune. When the Tribune is notified that the keys have been found, the loser is informed at once. Call for your registered key tag today at the Tribune want ad store in Tribune Tower, 435 N. Michigan avenue.

CATTLE MEN GET LARGEST SHARE OF MEAT DOLLAR

High Price of Pork Turns Consumers to Beef.

Valuation figures of live stock for August disclosed yesterday that cattle men last month obtained a much larger share of the consumers' meat dollar than in any month in recent years. This was attributed to increased supplies and the fact that beef has been within reach of the ordinary wage earner, whereas pork has been selling far above what the average consumer can afford, due to the abnormally small supplies of hogs as the result of the 1934 drouth and AAA program.

Receipts of commercial cattle at Chicago last month were largest since October, 1934, and largest for August in nine years. Hog receipts were lowest on record for the month, barring a year ago when consumers also were feeling the full effects of federal control of production.

Cattle Men Get Largest Share.

Slightly over 66 per cent of the live stock money paid by Chicago buyers last month went for cattle, while only 28 per cent went for hogs, whereas a year ago packers paid cattle men almost 63 per cent and hog men slightly over 30 per cent of the total money spent here. Two years ago almost 59 per cent was paid for cattle and a little under 34 per cent for hogs.

All species of live stock brought more money than in any August in several years, however. Buyers paid $16,316,000 for cattle and calves, compared with $12,442,000 a year ago and $8,706,000 in August, 1934. Hogs brought $6,918,000, compared with $6,008,000 a year ago and $5,000,000 two years ago, while the sheep money at $1,441,000 compared with $1,414,000 and $1,069,000 in August, 1935 and 1934, respectively.

Total Money Paid Rises.

Total money showed an increase of almost $5,000,000 compared with 1935 and a gain of almost $10,000,000 over the same month two years ago.

HOGS ADVANCE; AVERAGE PRICES BEST IN 11 DAYS

Further advances in the hog market yesterday brought the average price to $10.30, the highest level in eleven days. The average showed a gain of 20 cents over the low day of the week and an advance of 15 cents over last week's close.

Advances of 10 to 15 cents were general, with spots in butchers late in the session not much better than steady, while sales in the lighter weights and light butchers early in the session were up as much as 20 cents. Selected 220 pound stock established the top at $11.60, highest since Tuesday of last week and only 45 cents under the 1936 peak established two weeks ago.

Cattle Prices Are Firmer.

Demand in the cattle alleys yesterday converged in the lighter weight steers and hefers and these ruled strong to slightly higher. Others were slower to move at about steady rates, the bulk of the steer crop consisting of the classes selling steady. Some long fed stock with a lot of weight met narrow outlet at weak to a little lower prices.

The extreme top for steers was $10, the bulk of the supply bringing $7.75 to $9.50. Commoner classes ranged down to $6 and some odd lots of "drouth stock" sold as low as $4.25. Beef cows brought strong prices.

Canners and Cutters Higher.

Canners and cutters, the classes of cattle in which the government has done most of its buying, ruled strong to 10 cents higher. Best calves were strong to higher, with others steady. Bulls sold steady.

Native lambs sold at stronger prices yesterday and the supply of range stock advanced 15 to 25 cents. Selected ewe and wether natives topped at $10.15.

How You Can BORROW at HOUSEHOLD

No Endorsers. No Salary Assignments.

REDUCED RATES

ON ALL LOANS ABOVE $100.

1. Whether or not you have furniture or a car, you can borrow here if you can make regular monthly payments.
2. Payments on all loans are small. For example, payments on a $200 loan are $10 per month plus interest charges on a 20 month schedule.
3. You do not need co-makers or endorsers.
4. You can secure the money quickly—the same day if you apply before 9 o'clock.
5. Household's rate of 3% on the first $100 and 2% on that part of the balance over $100 is substantially lower than the lawful maximum on all loans above $100.
6. Repay at any time and reduce the cost.
7. Private offices. Your problem will have our sympathetic attention.
